NINETY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

Grateful for increasing opportunities of service, the continued confidence of the Church, and the manifest blessing of God upon its labors, the Board of Education herewith respectfully tenders to the General Assembly its Ninety-third Annual Report.

The year now closed has, with one exception, been a record year in our history. The missionary operations of the Board have been strengthened, a closer touch upon the field of Christian Education secured, several new agencies put into successful operation, and a steady and constant increase in contributions realized, all of which furnishes occasion for deep gratitude and great encouragement.

Increased efficiency of office administration has claimed the earnest attention of the executive force, and it is with pleasure that we announce the systematizing of the records and accounts in line with modern business methods. The office system is now so organized that fresh reports of the progress of the work are obtainable at any time by Synods, Presbyteries and churches, and the various mailing lists, including a card catalogue of nearly three thousand prospective candidates, keep churches, societies and individuals duly informed of the conduct and progress of the work. Administrative economy has also been effected, resulting in a substantial saving of expense in certain departments.

Frequent conferences with the Executive Commission of the General Assembly and with the representatives of other Boards have been held, and harmonious relations sustained with all the benevolent agencies of the Church. The Board has endeavored to conduct its work in such a manner as to promote the cause of the "Every-Member-Pledge System", and has loyally supported the effort to secure the general adoption of the Budget Plan of Church offerings.

On the other hand, the Board, conscious of its mission as an educational and missionary agency rather than as primarily a collector and distributor of funds, has gone before the Church with a distinctly spiritual message, appealing first of all for the consecration of youthful activities to the ministry and the missionary life. No financial agents are employed. We are compelled to count largely on the spontaneous regard and affection of the Church for the historic "right arm of the Church," created for the purpose of raising up and equipping an efficient body of ordained leadership for the winning of the world to Christ.

SUPPLY OF MINISTERIAL CANDIDATES.

Aid

Rendered

Eight hundred and fourteen applications were received during the closing year from the Presbyteries, seven hundred and eighty-seven of which met the rules of the Assembly and the Board, the remainder, twenty-seven, being regretfully declined. One of our men died during the year, one was dropped, and the payments of ten were withheld pending more satisfactory reports from their professors. Of the recommendations honored one hundred and ninety-eight were "New Men", a decrease of forty-one over last year; and five hundred and eighty-nine were "Renewals", a decrease of twenty-seven over the year preceding.

This decrease should not, however, occasion grave concern as it does not represent an actual decrease in the total number of candidates. The ratio of eight ministerial candidates aided out of eleven remains practically the same from year to year. Since 1895 there has been an increase in the total number of candidates in the Church from eight hundred and ninety-six to twelve hundred and five.

Awakened

Interest

Reports from many colleges reached by the Board's representatives during the year indicate a genuine awakening of interest in the call to the ministry. According to the latest returns there are at present in the academic and collegiate departments of Presbyterian Colleges six hundred and thirty-five men looking forward to the life of a minister or a missionary. Many of these men have not as yet come under the care of Presbyteries, and it will be several years before the rising tide is felt in the seminaries. We feel confident that the active operations of the Board and the Evangelistic Committee in the comprehensive plan of College Visitation are beginning to bear fruit, as the following table, prepared in April, 1912, will indicate:—

Failure of City Presby- teries

Certain features of the situation, however, do not give so hopeful an outlook, and call for deep concern, earnest prayer and a redoubling of effort looking toward the securing of a more vital interest in Christian service on the part of able and cultured youth. The situation in our city and suburban churches is not at all satisfactory. The Rev. Dr. Cleland McAfee says, "City homes furnish fewer boys for the ministry than village homes. It is the material pressure that prevents. City boys' ambitions are dwarfed by what they see and hear. They cannot be rich in the ministry. The city minister has no chance to know the boys of his church." This is why our city Presbyteries are not taking under their care their native sons in any due proportion to the membership of their churches. Take the following Presbyteries as examples:—

Declension in Certain Colleges

It is noteworthy also that a number of colleges from which we drew many ministers in other days can no longer be counted on for this service. The following table shows the number of candidates at one time under the care of the Board at the colleges named as against those now receiving aid:—

INSTITUTION	MAXIMUM NUMBER IN ONE YEAR	NUMBER IN 1912

It is becoming clear that if the arguments in favor of the Church college be largely based on its producing very large percentage of ordained leadership, we must differentiate between efficient and non-efficient Church colleges in this particular. The Church must either support these colleges which turn out the largest percentage of ministers, or else abandon the argument altogether. It is time to consider the actual effect of the present swing away from denominational affiliations, and to determine how far the Church is under the necessity of revising its basis of appeal for the gifts of its members.

It is not the province of this Board to enter into an argument for the existence and maintenance of Church colleges. The point we desire to raise is whether it is not the duty of the Church to know exactly how far certain colleges are actually measuring up to the claims made for them in the matter of output for the ministry and the missionary life.

It is the part of wisdom for us to pause and reflect over the fact that, notwithstanding our $19,472,806 in college and seminary properties, our $20,918,224 in endowments, and our output of $2,500,000 yearly for their maintenance, the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. stands ninth among the denominations in the proportionate growth of ministry to population, according to the latest government statistics.

In 1830 our Church had one candidate to every 24,000 of the population; in 1894 one to 69,000, and in 1912 one to 78,000.

Scholarship Efficiency

The Board of Education has never discriminated in the matter of aid given to candidates between those attending colleges of superior academic standing and those attending institutions possessing but meagre equipment. Under pressure of necessity many candidates attend institutions which cannot furnish them the best possible education. The Board's special help is intended to correct, to some extent, this condition. We are compelled to take into consideration the question of loyalty to the struggling denominational school as it seeks to secure a foothold. Denominational colleges have unquestionably justified their existence, for it is undeniably true that the ministry contains a larger percentage of college-bred men than that of any other calling. It is nevertheless to be noted in all frankness that, with the marked advance in recent years in the standardizing of higher education looking toward increased scholarship efficiency, some of our colleges are not raising their standards even where financial considerations are not involved. It seems to this Board that the time has come for a more scientific study of the college field, with this end in view, viz., the encouraging of our ministerial candidates to pursue their studies at those colleges where increased efficiency is the rule, and where a consistent advance is sought in the strengthening of the liberal arts courses.

The United States Government, through its Educational Bureau, has lately been conducting a survey of the colleges and universities of our land, and has issued a tentative report which divides them into four classes based upon their ability to lead up to the M. A. degree. The report is glaringly inaccurate in some respects, and needs careful revision, but it is startling to find that among Presbyterian Colleges thirty-one are omitted from any classification. In these thirty-one colleges our Board is aiding one hundred and fourteen men. Are we to conclude from this fact that we may be failing to some extent to secure for our students the best possible academic equipment? The question is worthy of consideration.

The query is raised from time to time as to whether the Church is securing men for the ministry as able as heretofore. It is almost impossible to answer such a question with assurance owing to lack of data. But from our own scholarship reports we find that twenty-five years ago the number of men marked "High" was $4\frac{1}{2}\%$ higher than it is to-day; that the number of men marked "Medium plus" was 2% higher, that the "Medium class" was 2% lower, and that the "Medium minus" class was 1% lower. This seems to be a partial answer to the question as to the increase or decrease of quality of output.

The question of ministerial supply must be studied with large reference to the factor of efficiency—the efficiency of the institution and the efficiency of the men being trained. The Board is not desirous of entering into any general discussion of this matter except to point out several further facts which may be of value in an independent study of the situation.

1. The source of ministerial supply must be taken into account. The home environment from which our students come is worthy of consideration. Out of one hundred and ninety-eight returns as to parental occupation we find that 20% of our students are sons of farmers, 10% of ministers, 6.5% of laborers, 4.5% of mechanics, 4% of travelling salesmen, 3% of merchants, 2% of carpenters, 1% of physicians, the remainder scattering.

2. The ability of our theological seminaries to graduate their students into the ministry is a factor. The following table will indicate the variation between seminaries, among men aided by the Board, who have entered the ordained ministry:—

SEMINARY	MEN AIDED 1905-1909	PER CENT. ORDAINED

Candidates

Close touch has been had with the seminaries directly responsible for the training of candidates of foreign speech. A special committee of the Board visited the Theological Seminary of Newark (Bloomfield), attended its classes, visited the rooms of the students, and returned with a very encouraging report of the work being prosecuted. An investigation of the actual results achieved by the two Seminaries for foreign-speaking students in graduating men into the Presbyterian ministry yields the following: Bloomfield has graduated into the ordained ministry nineteen men since 1905, while Dubuque has graduated the same number. There are at present two hundred and four foreign-speaking candidates at these Seminaries, one hundred and four of which have been aided by the Board as follows:—forty-two Germans, seventeen Bohemians, eleven Hungarians, three Ruthenians, one Slovak, two Russians, fourteen Italians, five Spanish, five Hebrews, one Syrian and one Servian. In addition to these we have six Cubans, fifteen Porto Ricans and five Bohemians at other seminaries.

Colored Candidates

Our two collegiate and theological schools for colored students, Lincoln University, Chester County, Penna., and Biddle University, Charlotte, N. C., are doing excellent work. Lincoln has one hundred and thirty-four men in the collegiate department and forty-four in the theological department, thirty-seven of which are, however, studying for the ministry of communions other than the Presbyterian. Biddle has sixty-three men in her collegiate department and twenty-three in the theological department.

Prize Scholarships

The Mutchmore Scholarship which was offered last year to the members of the Middle Class of the Seminary of Kentucky (Louisville) was won recently by Mr. H. H. Thompson. This Scholarship, yielding $525., permits the successful candidate to pursue a year of graduate study abroad.

Competitive examinations for the Newberry Scholarship were conducted at Lane Seminary, but without satisfactory results. The Board has decided to modify the rules governing the Newberry Scholarship as follows:—

"In the future the Newberry Scholarship shall be offered for competition to members of the Middle Class in the Seminary to which the offer of the Scholarship is made.

"The successful candidate will receive one year's interest from the fund in his Senior year, and two years' interest during his graduate year, it being understood that no offer of the scholarship shall be made to a Seminary until the fund has accumulated a year's interest after the last preceding Fellow has finished his course as a beneficiary of this fund."

The Newberry Scholarship has been offered to San Francisco and Omaha Seminaries with view to competitive examinations among the students of their middle classes. The examination is to be held during the coming Fall, when the candidates will have become Seniors. The Newberry Fellow will receive $400 during his Senior year, and $800 during his year of graduate study.

Refunding Account

The system adopted whereby candidates who received aid and abandoned their intention to enter the ministry, has been in active operation during the past year, the amount received from such during the year being $1,810.71. For the sake of larger efficiency it is essential that Presbyteries should keep the Board well advised of any change of intention on the part of their candidates. Presbyterial Committees should be urged by the Assembly to keep in closer touch with men under their care. It is recommended that the Assembly earnestly admonish the Presbyteries to exercise the utmost care in learning the whereabouts of candidates who have abandoned their preparation for the ministry, and that they shall, in view of their recommendation of such candidates, use every means within their power to assist the Board in the collection of refunds of aid.

Recommendation as to Refunding

In view of the fact that a graduate of the Class of 1912 in McCormick Seminary is intending to enter the ministry of the Reformed Church in America and has requested the Board to cancel his obligations to it for aid, and in view of the desirability of encouraging closer relations between all branches of the Reformed Church, the Board recommends as follows:—

That the Assembly authorize the Board to remit obligations of men aided who enter the ministry of any branch of the Reformed Church holding the Presbyterian system, provided that Church will extend the same courtesy to this Board in similar instances.

Catalogue of Possible Candidates

Our card catalogue of possible candidates has already yielded rich results and bids fair to become a great factor in solving the problem of ministerial supply. Over three thousand letters with booklets have been sent out to as many young men whose names have been secured in various ways, to which we have received replies from one hundred and forty-eight during the year. Of these, fifty-eight have been led to decide for the ministry, thirty-seven are as yet undecided, while twenty-four are contemplating other pursuits. Four on the list are intending to become ministers.

The Board is in constant communication with young men desiring to receive information, encouragement and advice. A few quotations from recent letters follow:—

“Am thinking the matter over. Please send me information about college courses required.”

“I am especially thankful for the four little books, three of which I have read.”

“My whole life is wrapped up in the thought of entering the ministry. What course would you pursue in college?”

"You addressed some literature regarding the ministry to my brother who, not being interested, handed same to me. I regret very much that I did not receive this literature before. It would have been of great assistance to me in making my decision. It is exactly what I have been looking for and had I received it four years ago I believe I would be preaching the gospel by this time."

"Your literature reveals to me just what the ministry is. Your sending it has helped me to settle the matter once for all. Please advise me as to whether I should go to college next Fall."

"I find that such information as you give me helps to make the way easy. Two very close friends of mine might turn to the ministry if you would send them such a letter and the essays. I believe that with the religious training they have received they would not reject the call."

"Your interest in my future is alone an inspiration, while the books, which I prize, clear up certain points concerning which I have been uncertain."

"I am even now waiting for Him to say the word. Perhaps your letter is the threshold through which I shall enter."

Medical Missions Students

The plan put into operation a year ago, under authority of the General Assembly, by which certain medical students pursuing a course of preparation in medical schools, who shall seek service under the Board of Foreign Missions, are to receive aid, through loan or grant, from the Board of Education, has met with encouragement. Eleven students have received aid to the maximum amount of $150 from the regular funds of the Board, supplemented in some instances by special gifts from individuals. Only students in institutions in "Class A" of the American Medical Association have been aided. The students are in the following colleges:—Medical College of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.; Rush Medical College, Chicago, Ill.; Medical College of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O.; Medical College of the University of Texas, Galveston, Tex.; Medical College of Leland Stanford, Jr. University, San Francisco, Calif.

Additional rules are found necessary. The Board therefore asks the General Assembly to authorize the following:—

1. Medical students accepted by the Board for aid shall be eligible out of the regular funds of the Board, to a maximum amount of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

2. Women students meeting the Board's rules will be considered as eligible as men for aid.

3. No student who has not completed at least two full years of a regular college course at an accredited institution shall be eligible for aid.

4. A student who has matriculated, or who is qualified to matriculate in a duly accredited medical college, shall be eligible for aid.

5. No assistance can be rendered to students in undergraduate courses, but students in universities and colleges attending pre-medical courses of recognized standing, are eligible for aid provided their intention is to take a full medical course and to graduate at a medical college of the first grade.

6. No more than four years of aid will be granted to any one student.

It is understood that this work is in an experimental stage as yet, and readjustments may be necessary, from time to time, as the experience of the two Boards may warrant. It is hoped that the plan may be perfected to the satisfaction of all parties, and result in the strengthening of this great field of missionary operation.

The Supply in General

Turning from our particular field to the general situation, we find from the United States Government statistics that the ministerial supply as regards quantity is not suffering by comparison with the other professions.

A study of the chart on the following page will reveal a marked increase in enrollment in theological seminaries throughout the land as against startling declensions in other graduate schools.

The broad conclusion from the foregoing statement of facts is that our own Church, while not suffering a decline in candidates, as was manifest several years ago, is nevertheless not holding her own with the other great denominations, and is certainly not meeting the needs of our day in the great opening fields of the west, southwest and northwest, and in the lands beyond the sea. It brings us also face to face with the necessity of thorough-going efforts to secure a higher standard of effec-

GROWTH OF PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS SINCE 1870.

The figures on which the above chart is based, from the report of the Commissioner of Education, require some revision. The Commissioner accepts as a Theological School anything that reports itself as such. Some college courses reporting Departments of the English Bible are classed as Theological Schools. Several Bible training schools are also similarly reported. Making due allowance for necessary corrections, the ratio of increase of Theological students is half again the ratio of the increase in population.

iciency in those courses intended to train men for the most exalted and exacting calling in the world.

CONFERENCE OF CHURCH BOARDS OF EDUCATION.

During the past year the Secretaries of a number of Church Boards of Education have organized themselves into a "Council of Church Boards of Education", the object being to secure united action in the interests of Christian Education. The scope of the work of the Council can be judged by reference to the names of the Committees, which are as follows:—Comity and Co-operation, Academic Efficiency, Interdenominational Campaigns, State Institutions, Secondary Schools. A number of meetings have been held, and important papers read. The report of the year's work has been published, and can be secured from the rooms of the Boards co-operating—Methodist (North and South), Presbyterian (North and South), United Presbyterian, Lutheran, Reformed, Congregational, Orthodox Friends and Disciples of Christ.

EVANGELISTIC AND VOCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

The need of reaching and influencing the sources of supply for Christian Leadership, has been realized more keenly by the Church during the past few years, and a more earnest effort has been made by recruiting agencies to conduct personal work, looking toward the development of our youth in direct service for Christ.

The second year of the Plan of College Visitation, as developed jointly by the Board and the Assembly's Evangelistic Committee, has amply proved the wisdom of such method. In our previous report, we stated that plans were being made to make the campaign of 1911-'12 more effective by more thorough-going preparation and closer co-operation with the Christian Associations.

To this end, a number of conferences were held with the Interdenominational Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association and the National Board of Young Women's Christian Associations between June and December, 1911. A policy was adopted by the four agencies co-operating in the conduct of Evangelistic and Educational meetings in the Presbyterian Colleges, which briefly is as follows:—

The object is to bring every student to a decision for Jesus Christ, or to the experience of a deeper Christian life, also the leading of students to the right choice of a life calling. The Church Agencies are the initiating agencies in the campaign, while the Christian Associations are co-operating agents. The period of preparation and the period of following up results, are in the hands of the Christian Associations, while the actual arranging and conduct of the meetings is in charge of the Church agencies. Forty-three colleges entered into the plan, the result being given in the following table:—

The following quotations from letters of representatives are of interest:—

“On the night of the last service 90% of the student body arose and pledged themselves to a better life. Personally I have had a great blessing.”

“It was a very great and delightful experience. There appeared to be a growing sense of liberty and freedom between the students and myself.”

“I enjoyed the talks I held in private with the students as much as anything.”

“We were in all the Fraternity houses and boarding clubs, and virtually lived among the students the entire week. All the Faculty attended the meetings. The work was laborious but most enjoyable.”

“I never enjoyed an experience so much in all my life. I devoted my time almost exclusively to personal consultation. Several young men came with confessions of private sin, and begged me to help them. One young fellow broke down and cried; asking ‘Why cannot I find my Saviour?’ I had prayer with him and secured his promise to pray for himself.”

“The suggestions of the Board are especially fine and should be put in pamphlet form.”

“Every minute in which I was not speaking, I was in personal conference with individuals, being entertained at every meal by some Fraternity or Sorority house.”

“One student will certainly study for the ministry; another will give himself to the country problems; another one will go into evangelistic music. Others were prompted strongly to become foreign missionary volunteers.”

“I am very grateful that you sent me, although it is the same old story of lack of preparation for the meetings and inefficient leadership by the Associations. When I arrived upon the scene, I called together the Association cabinets; they all frankly said there had been no preparation by way of prayer lists, prayer bands, or personal workers groups. I found them averse to the idea of personal work.”

“Every student in the college, with one exception, pledged herself to a better life under the guidance of the Lord Jesus.”

From the Presidents of the Colleges come such cheering expressions as these:—

“The boys said it was the best they had ever experienced.”

“The whole week was very profitable.”

"The Doctor's visit was a great success. He made the most profound impression upon the students of the college of any man since I came here. Religion has been elevated in the experience of a great lot of men who need just such a vitalizing element."

"The messages were strong, helpful and inspiring. Many were led to take a better view of life and service."

"I have never known any minister to impress the student body more profoundly."

"Thursday morning all the classes held class prayer meetings. The Faculty also held a similar service followed by the general meeting."

"The personal workers propose to follow up the work of these past days."

"The features of the meetings: Great awakening of conscience, magnificent personal work. All in college department and all but fifteen of the academy converted. Wonderful!"

"The community was captivated by your representative. He lived with the boys and we have never had any one who had more influence for good."

"We are so well pleased with the results that we are anxious to continue the plan."

"Vocational blanks were signed and returned by seventy-three students. Continue the man and the plan."

The Board is convinced that this hand-to-hand, heart-to-heart work of two score of the choicest personalities in the ministry of our Church with our thousands of Presbyterian youth is certain to produce splendid results.

The travelling expenses of speakers are defrayed jointly by the Board and the Committee, no compensation whatever being given for the work accomplished. It was a free will offering of service, and the Board takes this method of expressing its grateful appreciation to its representatives in this work.

SECRETARIAL FIELD WORK.

Notwithstanding the need of constant supervision of the office owing to various administrative changes, the Secretaries have been able to arrange for numerous visits to various sections of the field. Dr. Cochran spent nearly seven weeks visiting the colleges, universities and churches of the south and southwest, making fifty-two addresses in forty-five days, and visiting twenty-five institutions where about six thousand students were addressed and over one hundred personally interviewed. Dr. Hughes has been constantly on the field, not only in the East but in the middle west, visiting those Synods where special agreements are in force, relative to the support of university pastors by the Board.

The Secretaries have visited the following Synods during the year:—Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin.

The Rev. Dr. W. J. Darby represented the Board at the following Synods:—Arkansas, East Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee.

Several members of the Board addressed Synods in its behalf. Dr. Wadsworth spoke at the Synod of Baltimore, Dr. Finney at the Synod of New Jersey, Dr. Swearingen at the Synod of Minnesota.

The following Presbyteries have been addressed by the Secretaries:—Cedar Rapids, Cleveland, Crawfordsville, Fort Wayne, Huntingdon, Indianapolis, Logansport, Madison, Muncie, Omaha, Philadelphia, Philadelphia North, Pittsburgh, Redstone.

The following Christian institutions have been visited by the Secretaries during the year:—Arkansas Cumberland, Asheville Farm School, Asheville Normal, Cumberland, Highland, Kendall, Maryville, Missouri Valley, New Windsor, Omaha, Park, Parsons, Princeton, Trinity, Westminster (Fulton, Mo.), Wooster.

Theological Seminaries have been visited as follows:—Auburn, Austin, Biddle, Lane, Louisville, Princeton.

The following Universities have been visited:—Arkansas, Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Iowa State College, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State College, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia.

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR LAY WORKERS.

The special report of the Board to the Assembly for 1911 concerning training schools for lay workers has been published separately and has been used by the training schools in the promotion of their work. The General Assembly authorized the Board to assist the training schools in any way that might seem mutually desirable, and commended the Board to contributors as a proper body to receive and disburse funds designated for these schools.

No such funds have passed through its treasury this year, there being apparently no desire on the part of donors to record their gifts among the receipts of a Permanent Agency. The Board, however, stands ready to receive such offerings whenever they may be sent. After conferences with the representatives of these training schools it has been agreed that no special efforts need be put forth by this Board in the matter of securing offerings for these schools, Assembly recognition through a Board agency being sufficient at least for the present.

The following reports of training schools have been submitted for insertion in the Annual Report:—

Philadelphia School for Christian Workers, Deaconess Department.
—The Presbyterian Deaconess House and Training School of Philadelphia has been greatly blessed during the year. In May, 1912, seven students will be graduated. Of these, one will remain as assistant in the conduct of the Home; one is already assigned to a Church; a third has applied to the Board of Foreign Missions, to be sent to Korea; one will remain for post-graduate training, and the others will unquestionably be settled in good fields of work. Seven permanent students entered the School during the year, so that fourteen have been constantly in training. There are seven new students already on the register for Sept., 1912, so that an attendance of fourteen is assured for the next school year.

The increase of the student body has made both the building and the equipment inadequate. A second class room is absolutely necessary. The sleeping accommodations have been taxed to the utmost and the need of a new edifice is imperative. An adequate reference library is also greatly needed. We owe to the kindness of the Board of Publication copies of the Church Constitution and also twenty Church Hymnals, and a generous friend has provided a number of text books. The School is under obligations to the generous men and women of the two Boards of control, namely: The Board of Trustees, and the Woman's Board of Managers. Rev. Dr. J. Beveridge Lee has been, during the year, the Dean of the Deaconess House, greatly to its benefit. A decided advantage is found in the combination of class-room work with practical experience, and the result is the turning out of efficient and capable, as well as earnest Christian workers. Miss Edith Earle Stone, the Deaconess in Charge, is deserving of very high commendation. During the year the receipts of the Woman's Board have been about $2,500 and the receipts of the Board of Trustees $5,677.35. This latter amount includes a considerable sum, given as scholarship funds.

For the Trustees,

WILLIAM H. ROBERTS.

For the Woman's Board of Managers,

MRS. WM. L. McLEAN.

The Presbyterian Training School, Baltimore, Md.—The Presbyterian Training School is now entering upon its tenth year. It was commenced as a school for the training of deaconesses; but the increasing demand for other lay workers has led to an extension of its scope of work. It is now organized to prepare both men and women for service in the congregations, institutions, and Mission fields of the Church.

As a Training School, it not only provides a carefully planned course of instruction, but makes provisions for practical training so as to enable students to acquire skill in various departments of Christian service in preparation for the work of foreign, home and city missionaries, deaconesses, evangelists, pastor's assistants, social workers, directors of religious education and church secretaries.

The School is administered by a Board of twelve directors who are ministers and members of the Presbyterian Church. The corporate title of the institution is, "The Presbyterian Training School in the City of Baltimore".

The School possesses a commodious building centrally located, and maintains a well-equipped Guild House in which many forms of Christian service adapted to a needy community are conducted.

The Institution also maintains the Presbyterian Deaconess Home for the benefit of those who have completed their course of training for deaconess work, and who desire to exercise their calling under its direction. It also co-operates with the various Presbyterian and other benevolent institutions of the City.

There are twenty-seven deaconess graduates, three of whom are serving on the foreign field, and twenty-four at home. Three of these are at the head of deaconess institutions in Baltimore and other cities, one is the director of the Austrian Immigrant Home, one is at the head of an important social center, and the others are engaged in important Church Mission work in New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and Detroit.

There were nineteen students in the institution last winter, fourteen young women and five young men. There is urgent need of a new building in order to meet the development of the work. It is hoped that this may be secured for the next School year.

The staff consists of twenty ministers and lay workers who are engaged in the actual work of the Church and auxiliary institutions. This close personal contact with real problems is of very great value to the students.

The course of instruction extends over two years, and a third year is being planned for those who desire to prosecute their studies farther.

The Institution has a Correspondence Department with an increasing number of students. Extension lectures are given in a number of the city Churches with about one hundred and fifty students.

REV. J. S. CONNING, Superintendent.

Presbyterian Missionary Training School, Coraopolis, Penna.—The School was in successful operation during this past year. Thirteen students were enrolled, eight of whom will graduate in June. The prospects for the future are good.

The amount expended for this School year was $2,800.00. Four nationalities were represented among the students; Bohemian, Slovak, Ruthenian and Italian. Some of the girls speak in addition to their own language either Croatian or Magyar or German, so that there are more than a half dozen languages represented.

A special course in reading Polish and Ruthenian was given to all the girls. All the graduates of next June have already been engaged for missionary work in this and neighboring Presbyteries, and the demand continues.

REV. V. LOSA, Superintendent.

Florence H. Severance Bible and Missionary Training School, University of Wooster.—The Florence H. Severance Bible and Missionary Training School, a department of the University of Wooster, has had during the current year eleven men engaged in giving instruction to its students. Three of these men, Professors Martin, Vance, and Wisner give the major portion of their time to the work of the School and to the required courses in Bible included in the college curriculum. The remaining eight render service to the Bible School incidentally to their work as members of the general faculty of the University.

The School has enrolled during the year nine regular students, giving their whole time, or the principal proportion of it, to its course of study. Of these, three are men and six are women. They come from seven states reaching from New York to Idaho. Several of them have foreign missionary service in view. One will complete the three years' course in June, three are in the second year, and five in the first year.

The influence of the School, however, is not to be measured merely by the number of its regular students. Four of its courses, those in the Life of Christ, Exegesis of the Pauline Epistles, Exegesis of the Prophets, and Apologetics, are required of all candidates for a degree in the University. All the other Bible School courses in Bible, the History of Religion, and Methods of Religious Work, are open as electives to the general body of undergraduates and are largely chosen by them. At present, for example, twenty-one are taking the course in New Testament Doctrines, fourteen that in New Testament Times, seven an advanced course in New Testament Exegesis, twenty-two are pursuing Old Testament History, fourteen Hebrew Poetry, four Comparative Religion, and three the History of Missions.

With regard to its financial status it may, perhaps, be sufficient to say that the School has a special endowment of $100,000, in addition to sharing in the general endowment of the University and the use of all its splendid facilities.

CHALMERS MARTIN.

The Presbyterian Training School of Chicago.—The Presbyterian Training School of Chicago completes its fourth year this spring. It was organized by the Church Extension Board of the Presbytery of Chicago to supply the needs of the central west for lay workers under the directions of the General Assembly for the establishment of such schools. Its Board of Managers is appointed by the Church Extension Board of the Presbytery and it is therefore under the control of Presbytery.

It has enrolled about eighty students since its organization, the last year receiving double of any other, thirty-two being enrolled. It will graduate a class of twelve this year. Its workers have been sent not only to our home churches but to foreign lands and Home Missionary fields under our Boards. We have two in Persia, one in India and have one in Alaska and sent one to Utah. Others are preparing for similar fields. Besides these we have supplied superintendents for two of our principal social settlements, one to a Collegiate Institute as teacher of the Bible, and several as deaconesses to our churches and missions. In all, about forty churches and missions have had the services of our students.

The demand for such a school is seen in the hundreds of letters of inquiry from prospective students. The call for workers is as great, so that the school presents a wonderful opportunity for the promotion of the Lord's command, and prayer that laborers may be sent into the vineyard.

The curriculum covers a complete and comprehensive and continuous course in the English Bible, a course in Christian Doctrine and Experience, Sunday School Pedagogics, Church History, Voice Culture and Scripture Reading, Homiletics, Foreign and Home Missions, Sacred Music, Methods of Church Work, Elementary Medicine, Nursing and kindred subjects, the presentation and inspection of the many forms of Christian and philanthropic activity. The practical work is varied and effective. Our students are given the fullest opportunity to cultivate actual activity which cannot be learned in class work. Written examinations are held and gradings given. We allow for work done in other institutions of a character equal to that done with us.

The school occupies rented quarters but is preparing to secure a permanent building.

The funds raised last year amounted to $7,700. of which $3,000. is in the building fund and $4,700. for current expenses.

We expect a large increase in the number of students next year and the securing of the desired building. For all this we give praise to the Father of Light from whom cometh down every good and perfect gift.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEXANDER PATTERSON, Director.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS IN STATE UNIVERSITIES.

Personal evangelism is the heart of all our work for these students. The Universities differ in their spirit, in their attitude toward religion and in the opportunities given for Biblical and other religious instruction. The ability of the local Churches to provide for students varies greatly. But whatever these differences, personal counsel in religion is the need of every student. However the work of the Church at the State Universities develops, the work of the counsellor in personal religion should always have the first place.

This work is comparatively new. The Churches have always accepted the responsibility for the religious life of their young people, and have made generous provision for Christian education in Academies and Colleges. For the year 1910, of the 602 Colleges and Universities, 374 are reported as Denominational, 138 as Independent, 90 as State, City or National. Of the 138 Independent Colleges, at least 56 are recognized as affiliated in origin and history, each with some Denomination, making a total of 430 of the 602 that may be classed as properly Church Colleges. These 430 Colleges reported in 1910, property to the amount of $146,645,749 and endowments to the amount of $111,841,511, a total Church investment for Christian Education, of $258,487,260.

Of the 301,818 students, 168,062 were enrolled in the 430 Church Colleges, and it is worth noting that only 7 Colleges out of the entire number have changed their legal status and gone out from Church control in order to comply with the terms of the Carnegie Foundation for the advancement of teaching.

During the last forty years the Universities, supported and controlled by the several States, have made rapid growth. The chart on page 34 indicates how rapid this growth has been. Much of the work of these Universities, in the expensive technical, graduate and professional departments, does not compete with that of the independent Colleges, but it is not surprising that it has required time for the Churches to adjust themselves to the new conditions, and to recognize that the same loyalty to Christ and the Church, prompting the founding of the Christian College, requires them to properly provide for the religious life of their own students in these secular Universities.

As early as 1880 when there were only 10,100 students in all the State Universities, the Assembly met at Madison, Wisconsin. During a discussion, sentiments were expressed hostile to State Universities, to which Professor Philip Schaff replied:

“The Assembly is taking an unwise position. Hostility is useless. The State Universities are growing and will continue to grow. The States very properly take pride in them and will see to it that they have all adequate equipment. A small tax laid upon the property of a state will not be felt to be a burden and will ensure a perennial revenue. Instead of opposing and finding fault with such universities the church should sympathize with them, and make it its business to permeate the institutions with the power of Christianity.”

Thirty-one years after this statement was made, there are eighty-four such institutions with a total of 108,869 students.

The chart on page 34 indicates the growth of the work prosecuted by the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

The following facts have been disclosed, clearly emphasizing the responsibility of the Churches: (1) The proportion of the students in the State Universities who come from Christian homes, is on the average as large as that in the Christian Colleges. (2) In the large State Universities, where the student enrollment is 2000 or more, the several denominations usually have more students than in their own Colleges within the State. This is not to the discredit of the Colleges, for in most instances the Colleges are growing, but is due to the further fact, (3) that the technical, graduate and professional departments are so costly to equip and maintain, that the Colleges cannot at present provide them, while the States find ample reason for the great outlay of money in the work these Universities do in conserving and developing the natural resources of the State through the departments of scientific agriculture, engineering, and the like. (4) The emphasis now placed upon specialists in subjects, rather than upon expert teachers of youth, is developing a class of instructors with neither time, inclination nor ability to deal with the life problems of students. The trend is toward an impersonal attitude that neglects the vital personal interests of the individual student, a neglect that strikes at the very heart of all worthy education. (5) In too many class rooms there is an unnecessary antagonism or an equally dangerous apathy toward religion growing out of the limitations of the scientist who places too large a value upon his own subject. The old antagonism between science and religion still maintains in some class rooms as in some Churches. If the student is to harmonize his science and religion he needs the wise and experienced guidance of one who knows both science and religion. Many University teachers are fully competent to give this guidance, but lack the time and opportunity. Many others are incompetent. (6) In many cases the home and the Church have failed to prepare the student for the cold plunge into University life. Some withstand the shock and are benefitted, but for many the critical atmosphere begets scepticism and cynicism with all the intellectual and moral evils that are sure to follow.

The local Church has a large share in the work. It should welcome each student and not send him to a block of pews set apart for students as a class. The segregation of students in their religious life is an unnatural situation. They need the divine worship and the human fellowship of the ordinary Church.

As the work of our University pastors develops, these local churches find their ordinary resources overtaxed. While the students are a great help, they are transients.

The time has come when several of the University centers ought to provide for more systematic instruction in the Bible, in religious education, in vocation direction and in training for various forms of Christian service. When this is done it should be for the religious values and not for University credits.

The co-operation of several denominations in any University increases the efficiency of each. It makes it possible for each one to reach a larger number of students, removing the suspicion of sectarian rivalry, and emphasizing the fact that this is an unselfish service of the Church for the students and through them, as trained leaders, for the community at large.

The largest result of the work is seen in the lives of the many students whose Christian experience has grown rather than diminished, during their university course. These are the trained leaders for the future. The number who decide to become ordained ministers or missionaries is small compared with the large number of laymen prepared for efficient leadership.

The following statements from different Universities indicate something of what is being done. Similar reports are made from all.

"Six hundred and fifty Presbyterian students. Three hundred personal interviews, two hundred and fifty in Bible Classes, ten conversions, eight volunteers for foreign work, one goes to India in June."

"One hundred and thirty-two students in Bible and Mission Study Classes, forty united with the Church, twelve prepare for Christian work."

"Two hundred and sixty in Bible and Mission Study Classes. Five of the sixteen Phi Beta Kappa students are members of these classes. Twenty-one decided for Christian Ministry and Foreign Mission work in three denominations."

The number of candidates reported on page 7 indicates only those belonging to the Presbyterian Church. Even where there is but one University Pastor, as in Iowa, the work must be inter-denominational. Our pastors deal with many who enter the service of other Churches.

The fifth Annual Conference of Church Workers in State Universities held at Iowa University in February, 1912, showed progress in the interest of the several Churches represented. The Presbyterian Church has the largest number of University Pastors and is looked upon as a leader in this type of work.

What can be accomplished by co-operation of the Churches is illustrated in the interesting development at the University of Wisconsin, Rev. Matthew G. Allison, Pastor. There are five other University pastors representing the Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran and Roman Catholic Churches. These Pastors together with the Association Secretaries acting as a Pastors' Association adopted the personal counsellor plan for reaching the students. After compiling all available information it was found there were 1,700 students whose church preference was unknown. The names of these were written on cards and divided equally among the Pastors, who are making a systematic effort to reach each one with a personal visit. The results of this thorough co-operative canvas are shown in the increased interest of the local churches, in the large numbers of accessions to Church membership by confession of faith and by letter, and in the improved moral and spiritual tone of the University.

New work was begun this year in the Universities of California, and Indiana, in the State Colleges of Iowa and Pennsylvania, and was revived in the University of Washington after it had been dropped for a time.

California, Berkeley.—Rev. Arthur Hicks, Superintendent of Sunday School work for the Synod of California resigned to accept the University Pastorate December 1st, 1911.

Indiana, Bloomington.—Thomas R. White, D. D., for some time pastor of the Bloomington Church was elected in the Fall but could not begin his work in the University until his successor was secured. This occurred in March and he is now at work.

Iowa State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts.—There is no Church near the campus and no Presbyterian Church within ten miles. The Iowa Board of Home Missions has organized a Church in the new community that is growing about the College, purchased a manse and is now engaged in securing a fund for the erection of the Church building. John W. Innes, D. D., began as University pastor in September, 1911.

State College, Pennsylvania.—Rev. Samuel Martin, pastor. There are four hundred and seventy-five Presbyterian students and the local Church building will seat less than two hundred people. The Secretaries have spent some time this year in securing a fund for the erection of a building large enough to accommodate the students together with the members of the local church. This building will be ready for use during the next College year, as the total amount of pledges and cash on hand makes it possible to begin work.

Washington, Seattle.—Rev. Norman B. Harrison accepted the pastorate of the University Church during this year. This Church is now erecting a new building large enough to accommodate the students. The Board makes a grant to enable the pastor to employ an assistant for work among the students, and when the building is completed there will be opportunity for enlarging this work.

Nebraska, Lincoln.—Rev. Dean R. Leland, Ph. D. For two years the expense was met jointly by the Board and the Brotherhood of the First Church of Lincoln. As the work has grown, the Synod this year agreed to assist and the Second and Westminster Churches located near the School of Agriculture have taken a share in the work. October 1st, 1911, Dr. Leland was installed in a public recognition service in which the Synod, the three local Churches and the University Chancellor united. Hon. Wm. J. Bryan made the address.

Kansas, Lawrence.—Rev. Stanton Olinger. Mr. Olinger began work in September, 1911, succeeding Dr. Wilbur, resigned. He holds the dual position of University pastor and principal of Westminster Hall. In the interest of greater efficiency as pastor, he has reduced the amount of class room instruction, with the result that a larger number of students has been reached with a corresponding increase in the number attending the Church and Sunday School.

Michigan, Ann Arbor.—Rev. J. Leslie French, Ph. D. The Synod owns McMillan and Sackett Halls, buildings adapted for use as Guild Hall and Dormitory. For several years the Church has been unable to use these from lack of funds. During the present year these buildings have been refurnished and put to good use.

Illinois, Champaign.—Rev. Martin E. Anderson. The Synod now owns a Men's Guild Hall, a Dormitory accommodating twenty-four girls, and a conveniently located building lot. During this year, Mr. William B. McKinley has given $30,000 for the erection of a Church building in memory of his father.

Ohio, Columbus.—Rev. Wm. Houston. The work centers in the two Churches near the University. During the year the Students' Social Union Building was erected on the campus and Mr. Houston was given an office in it.

Iowa, Iowa City.—Frank M. Fox, D. D. The number of students attending the local Church and Sunday School has increased to such an extent that it will be necessary to enlarge the building to accommodate them.

In the Universities of Arkansas, Colorado and Oklahoma, the Board co-operates with the Synod and with the local Church in the employment of an assistant to the pastor, who gives part time to the work.

Colorado, Boulder.—Rev. J. W. Currens.

Arkansas, Fayetteville.—Rev. H. B. Van Vaulkenburgh.

Oklahoma, Norman.—Mr. Clarence Cowden.

Within a short time it will be necessary to employ men giving full time to the work in these Universities.

In addition to the above fifteen there are now sixteen other Universities large enough to call for the employment of pastors giving their entire time to the pastoral care of Presbyterian students.

LITERATURE AND LEAFLETS.

The Board is prepared to meet the demand for various kinds of printed matter dealing with the different features of its work. Careful attention has been paid to the character of the printed matter sent out to churches, institutions and individuals. In addition to the list of booklets and leaflets found in the report of 1911, the following have been published during the year now closed:—

“The Recruiting Office.”

“Loan or Grant, Which?”

“Grants for Medical Students—New Policy.”

“What and Why of University Work.”

“The College Boy’s Question—What am I going to Be?”—Breed.

“The Church and Trained Lay Workers”—Minton.

“An Elder’s Estimate—The Meaning of University Work.”

Three hundred and fifteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-three pieces of printed matter have been issued during the year, and eighteen thousand two hundred multigraphed letters sent to possible candidates, pastors of churches, and others.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY AND RESEARCH.

The Board has created a new Department which it believes will develop into a most useful agency for the dissemination of information relating to all phases of Christian education. This Department is intended to become a clearing house on all subjects pertaining to the moral and Christian training of the youth of the land.

This plan involves the careful overhauling of the present library of the Board, and the addition thereto of new books dealing with every form of religious education as it affects the home, the Church, the School, and the life of the youth in general. A department on the training and work of the gospel ministry, will necessarily be a prominent feature.

A comprehensive Bibliography is to be prepared, and a complete reference index to current literature installed, in order that the Board may become the efficient servant of the Church, as a Bureau of religious education. It will aim to be an authority on all subjects cognate to its work, and to make such information available to the officers and members of the Church at large. Special sermons, addresses, articles and the like, can be easily prepared from the material furnished.

It is hoped to make this department an efficient one in research, by which scientific inquiries shall be made into the laws affecting the supply and demand of Christian leadership. This inquiry is to embrace:

1. The need for ministers and missionaries, present and prospective.
2. The primary and secondary sources of supply, quality and quantity of candidates.
3. Hindrances in the way of securing the ablest type.
4. Proper means to be employed in recruiting Christian Leadership.
5. The experience of other Christian bodies in this and other lands.

This department, it is expected, will be of service in leading up to the Centennial Anniversary of this Board, which will occur within seven years. A large amount of historical material will be gathered, and put in proper form for use at that time.

CHANGE OF PERSONNEL.

On February 1st, our faithful and efficient Treasurer and Recording Secretary, Mr. Jacob Wilson, resigned the Treasurership, retaining his position as Recording Secretary. The minute passed in connection with the acceptance of Mr. Wilson's resignation, is in part as follows:

"The Board desires to make record of its grateful appreciation of his long and faithful service beginning January 2nd, 1873 under the presidency of Dr. Herrick Johnson. For a period of forty years save one, Mr. Wilson has given his strength to the service of the Board, extending over a period covered by the services of four secretaries. During his incumbency, the receipts of the Board aggregated about three million dollars, requiring painstaking care and precision, and all handled with scrupulous fidelity."

Mr. Edward R. Sterrett, office assistant to both the Secretary and Treasurer for several years, has been elected to the treasurership. Mr. Sterrett's large experience in fiduciary affairs, as well as his services to the Presbyterian Church in the eldership, make him admirably qualified for this important position.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Wm. Sterrett, was the honored Pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian (formerly the Second Reformed) Church of Philadelphia for fifty-five years.

Membership In compliance with the instructions of the Assembly relative to the increase of lay membership, the Board has, during the year, elected Mr. James L. Wilson, and Mr. Thomas L. Latta to the class of 1909-12. Mr. Wilson takes the place left vacant by the resignation of Samuel D. Oliphant, Esq. The membership in the above class expires with this Assembly, and the gentlemen constituting it are recommended for re-election. They are as follows:

Mr. John Y. Boyd has been elected to take the place of Mr. A. A. Shumway, resigned, Walter E. Rex, Esq., to take the place of Mr. George H. Stuart, Jr., resigned and Mr. Gustavus W.

Knowles, to take the place of the Honorable William P. Potter, resigned, all in the class of 1910-13. To fill out the quota of this class, Mr. Evan G. Chandlee was elected.

In the class of 1911-14, Mr. Craig N. Ligget was elected to take the place of Mr. Ralph W. Harbison, resigned, and Mr. James A. Hayes to take the place of Mr. James S. Huston, resigned. Mr. Alba B. Johnson was elected to this class to fill out the quota authorized by the Assembly. The approval of the election of the above named gentlemen is respectfully requested. The Board now has its full complement of 27 members.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST.

The Board at its Annual Meeting in June, carefully considered the recommendation of the Assembly, that such work as may be done by this Board for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church (Colored) be transferred to the Board of Missions for Freedmen. The following resolution was adopted.

Whereas, The General Assembly of 1911 has ordered the assignment to the Board of Freedmen of the work in the interest of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church (Colored) which has been carried on for the past few years by this Board; and

Whereas, The special work of this Board which has been prosecuted since the reunion of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, with our own, under the name of "The Department of the South and Southwest" was at the time of its organization, understood by all parties concerned, to have been inaugurated in order to effect the complete and harmonious adjustment of the educational agencies of the two pre-existing bodies, and

Whereas, The period of five years which has now elapsed has been long enough to give time to complete the preparation of nearly, if not quite all of the candidates for the ministry who were, at the time of the reunion, under the care of either Board, and also, it is believed, to have established happily on a permanent and satisfactory basis the educational work of the re-united Church; and

Whereas, It is the judgment of this Board that, in view of the relinquishment of work ordered by the Assembly, there is not enough remaining work that is distinctly connected with "the Department of the South and Southwest" to warrant the continuance of the Department, seeing that the function assigned by the General Assembly to this Board in the matter of Lane-Lebanon Alliance can be otherwise easily discharged without any extra force or expense to this Board, Therefore, Be it resolved, that the Department of the South and Southwest should be, and is hereby, discontinued.

That a Committee be appointed to confer with the Board of Freedmen concerning the work which the Assembly has assigned to that Board."

The approval of the Assembly is requested in reference to the above action.

The Rev. Wm. J. Darby, D. D., former secretary of the Cumberland Education Society, has for four years rendered faithful service as assistant secretary, in bringing the Board into closer relations with the former Cumberland churches. In connection with his retirement from active connection with the work, the Board recognizes his efficient help in the prosecution of a delicate and necessary task.

At the special request of Dr. Darby and the Lane-Lebanon Executive Committee, the Board favorably considered the desirability of contributing to the support of the Lane-Lebanon Alliance, granting extra help to the amount of Fifty Dollars each to ten candidates coming from former Cumberland Churches, and studying at Lane Seminary.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

From the viewpoint of receipts from Churches, Sabbath schools and societies, this year has been the best in the Board's history, the amount received being $71,489.63 as against $65,164.60 received last year, showing an increase of about nine per cent. In addition thereto we have received from legacies $28,868.43, from individual givers $6,837.63, from refunds $1,810.71, from interest $16,197.75 and from loans $1,000, making total receipts of $126,204. 15. It is encouraging to note that the number of contributing churches is 5,126, being an increase of 41 over last year.

Personal appeals have been made for individual gifts, much correspondence has been carried on, and a great deal of literature has been disseminated, all of which, no doubt, in a great measure accounts for this increase. To this, however, should be added the Church's evident sympathy for and interest in our work, for which the Board is truly grateful. It should not be forgotten, however, that our field of operations has been greatly enlarged, calling for a corresponding enlargement in the amount of aid necessary to carry on our work. We therefore earnestly urge larger moral and financial support during the year upon which we have just entered, especially in those Synods and Presbyteries receiving a much greater amount from this Board than they contribute. It must be frankly admitted that a number of Presbyteries are more interested in securing student and university aid from the Board than they are in sending adequate offerings.

DAYS OF PRAYER.

We recommend that the Churches and Bible Schools observe the second Sunday of February, 1913, that is the 9th, as a Day of Prayer for Academies, Colleges and Universities, and for the recruiting of Christian Leaders for the Ministry and the Missionary life. It is also recommended that the Thursday preceding the Second Sunday in February, be observed by our Colleges as a Day of Prayer for the outpouring of the Spirit of God upon these institutions, and the youth pursuing studies in them, in order that large numbers may be called to service in behalf of the Church of Jesus Christ.

The following table shows the number of candidates under the care of the Board during the past year, grouped according to the institutions where they have pursued their courses of study, and amounts granted.

The following form may be used in most of the States:

"I give and devise to THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA the sum of.....dollars, to and for the uses of the said Board of Education and under its direction to be applied to assist candidates for the Presbyterian ministry." REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1912.

The Ninety-third Annual Report of the Board of Education was presented to the General Assembly in session at Louisville, Ky., May, 1912, and was referred to the Standing Committee on Education which presented the following report, which was received and its recommendations adopted:—

Your Committee on Education, aware of the unwisdom of affirming that any one special department of Church work is the most important subject to be considered, begs leave to direct the attention of the Assembly—and through it, the attention of the Church—to the fundamental and vital value of this work, related as it is to the vexed and vexing problem of finding and furnishing leaders in every branch of Christian activity.

A poet wrote:—

“Vain mightiest fleets of iron framed,
Vain our all-conquering guns,
Unless proud Albion keeps sustained
The pure hearts of her sons.”

In vain do we build chapels and churches; in vain do we found and endow theological seminaries; in vain do we survey the “gates of ancient empire lifted off their hinges” for the forward movement of the evangelizing Church, if, when the voice of God sounds forth, “Who will go for us,” there is no adequate response on the part of our sons and daughters;—if the spirit of the age has so paralyzed the spirit of moral leadership as to evoke, in answer to that challenge, no better response than, “Here am I, send some onè else!”

In 1896, for the first time in American history, we took our place among the great commercial nations of the world, the balance of trade being in our favor to the extent of $75,000,000. The next year it was $100,000,000, the next $300,000,000 and the next $615,000,000. It is no mere coincidence that in 1897 our number of ministerial and missionary candidates fell from 1,037 to 911. The next year it decreased to 814, and the next to 716. We reached the “low water mark” in 1902, with but 572. These were the seven fat years of commerce, and the Church's seven lean years. In 1903, with commerce not less prosperous, a religious reaction had set in. We had begun to adjust ourselves to the new condition. The Church awakened to the danger,—all the Churches were alarmed. Influences were set in motion to correct the peril. The number of ministerial and missionary candidates began to increase. The figures show 658 in 1904, 699 in 1906, and 1205 in 1912. We have had seven years, if not of fatness, at least of "increasing plumpness".

And your Committee is convinced that your Board of Education has had no unimportant part in arresting the decline, and promoting the growth of interest, in the supply of ministerial and missionary candidates among us.

We do not wish to be understood as believing that the fact adverted to above—the increase of commercialism in America—is the only explanation of the dearth of candidates for ministerial and missionary offices; nor even that it is the chief cause of that decline. We are not unaware that the comparatively recent movement towards social service in various fields—a movement which with some has become an organized passion, a crusade, and which we do not lament—has opened innumerable new fields for unordained men and women who aspire to be moral leaders, men and women who, two decades ago, impelled by the same motive, must have devoted themselves to some form of ministerial or missionary work. But, rejoicing in the growing number of such as give themselves to institutional work of a social and philanthropic character, we call them and the whole Church to a new sense of the truth expressed by Count Okuma, at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of Christian missions in Japan: "No nation that neglects the spiritual can permanently prosper.....Modern civilization had its rise in the Sage of Judea, and in Him alone is the dynamic of moral progress."

No more urgent duty lies upon the Church, under the hand of God, and in view of the spirit of the age, than to look to the sufficient supply and the adequate training of those who, at home and abroad, are to continue the work the Master began, "both to do and teach". Jesus Christ was, supremely and unceasingly, a Preacher. "The Spirit of God hath anointed me to preach."

Incidentally, He healed,—healed that He might make every miracle of healing a parable of redemption. His successors are to preach, to proclaim, to forth-tell.

In fifteen years, our country's population has increased by millions. The membership of the Presbyterian Church in the United States has increased by tens of thousands. But our supply of ministers and missionaries has increased by only 168.

Now, if ever, we should fall to prayer,—nay, rise to prayer, for never do we rise so high in power as when we bend to pray. "Pray ye the Lord of the Harvest that He send forth laborers into the harvest." "Send forth,"—that is strong; it is thrust forth, exactly the word that describes how Jesus swept the mercenaries out of the temple!

Our best defense against the ills of changing times is still, as it ever has been, prayer. Our most effective agency for recruiting force is still prayer. We must not forget that prayer is a force as real as radium. "I wish I could give you something more substantial than my prayers", said a friend to a departing missionary. "That, you could not do, though you had the wealth of the world to give," was his reply.

We urge the Church, therefore, through its Commissioners in this Assembly, to increased faith and fervency in prayer that He who founded and still inhabits the Church, may raise up in larger numbers, prophets and apostles, evangelists, pastors and teachers "for the building up of the body of Christ."

"We write unto you, fathers," and mothers, to remind you that the first ordination of every minister and missionary is at your hands while still your children are about your hearthstone and your altar.

We remind you, pastors, that boundless opportunity is yours to speak the word in due season to the youth who is meditating, long before his elders are aware of it, "What shall I do with my life, where invest it so as to secure the largest returns of satisfaction?" We remind you, pastors, that both in private and public, you may not only affirm the excellence of the Ministry as a vocation, but demonstrate its glory in the obvious joy of your labor.

We have read with care and pleasure the Annual Report of the Board of Education, and marked the manifoldness of its service to the Church. We believe that, if that large number of our churches which did not, last year, or in any previous year, contribute so much as a penny to the Board, could be informed of its work, few of them could resist making an effort, henceforth, to redeem their record.

Consider:—Since the Board was organized, it has assisted, by loans and grants, more than 15,000 candidates for the ministry and missionary work. Has it pauperized them? Does the nation pauperize the military cadet at West Point and the Naval cadet at Annapolis by educating them, free of charge, boarding and clothing them while they are in training to be leaders of our forces on land and sea? Free education, free books, and free tuition, free board and free lodging and free uniforms, did not debilitate the manhood or degrade the spirit of Grant and Sherman and Sheridan, or of Schley and Sampson and Dewey!

We heartily approve the efforts of the Board to provide for the religious care and culture of our Presbyterian students in State Universities. And we mark the indubitable evidences that the representatives of the Board who are at work in such institutions are conserving much of our most valuable personal material, from which already we begin to see the development of coming leaders in Christian work of every kind.

We perceive in every foreign-speaking student helped, at Dubuque or at Newark, the relation between the Board and the missionary fields at home or abroad.

We approve the Board's effective plan of evangelistic and vocational campaigns in colleges, and note the ceaseless activity of its Secretaries who for much of the time during the year are in the field, visiting the colleges and churches.

We offer the following resolutions and recommendations:—

I. That the Board be commended for its complete and searching report of conditions affecting the supply of ministerial candidates and other matters relating to Christian leadership. The tabulations and charts are valuable, and should be studied carefully by the Church.

II. That the suggestion of the Board that ministerial candidates be encouraged to pursue their studies at those colleges where increased efficiency is the rule and where a consistent advance is sought in the strengthening of the Liberal Arts courses, be approved.

III. That the Board be authorized to remit the obligations of men aided, who enter the ministry of any branch of the Reformed Church holding the Presbyterian system, provided such Church shall extend a like courtesy to this Board in similar instances.

IV. That the additional rules presented by the Board governing the policy of aid to certain medical students looking forward to work upon the foreign field, as found upon pages fifteen and sixteen of the report, be approved.

V. That the Board be instructed to continue and strengthen the Plan of College Visitation under which evangelistic and vocational meetings have been held in forty-four of our colleges, in co-operation with the Evangelistic Committee of the Assembly.

VI. That churches and individuals contributing to the work of ministerial education and the training of lay workers be urged to use the Board of Education as their agent in transmitting funds to such institutions and such students as are in direct relation with the Board, under the authority of the Assembly, rather than to send their contributions direct to such institutions or students.

VII. That the progress of the Board in supplying the religious needs of Presbyterian students at State Universities be most heartily commended, and the new policy be approved of assuming the entire support of certain university pastors in those Synods whose Presbyteries co-operate with Synod's Committee in increasing the apportionments to Education based upon the contribution of the Board to this work in such Synods.

VIII. That the Board be instructed to use more stringent methods in dealing with students, who allow extra-academic activities to interfere with their scholarship standing and to admonish those engaged in supply work to refrain from this practice, unless under highly exceptional circumstances, until they have finished at least the first year of their theological course.

IX. That Presbyterial Committees be urged by the Assembly to keep in closer touch with their candidates and that they be earnestly admonished to exercise the utmost care in learning the whereabouts of candidates who have abandoned their purpose to enter the ministry, and that they use every means within their power to assist the Board in collecting refunds of aid.

X. That the Board be authorized and instructed to prepare a comprehensive plan for reaching Sabbath Schools, Young People's Societies and Brotherhoods with information touching the demand and opportunity for Christian Leadership in the ministry and missionary life, including the introduction into mission study courses of such material. We further suggest to pastors and Sunday School superintendents the desirability of setting apart one Sunday during the year for the consideration of this important subject, to be known as Vocation Day.

XI. That the newly created Department of Publicity and Research be approved and commended to the Church as a most useful agency for the dissemination of information relating to Christian Education.

XII. That the election of Mr. Edward R. Sterrett to the treasurer-ship of the Board, succeeding Mr. Jacob Wilson, resigned, be approved.

XIII. That the election of the following gentlemen to membership upon the Board be approved.

WALTER E. REX, ESQ.
MR. GUSTAVUS W. KNOWLES
MR. ALBA B. JOHNSON
MR. JAMES A. HAYES

MR. JOHN Y. BOYD
MR. EVAN G. CHANDLER
MR. CRAIG N. LIGGET
MR. JAMES L. WILSON

and that the re-election of the following named gentlemen to succeed themselves be approved:

CHARLES WADSWORTH, JR., D. D.
WILLIAM H. OXTOPY, D. D.
GEORGE W. BAILEY, M. D.
JOHN CALHOUN, D. D.
JOHN BALCOM SHAW, D. D.
EDWARD B. HODGE, JR., M. D.
MR. WILLIAM R. NICHOLSON

XIV. That the discontinuance of the Department of the South and Southwest, in view of the transfer of its work to the Board of Missions for Freedmen, be and hereby is approved.

XV. That the second Sunday of February, 1913, that is the ninth, and the Thursday preceding the second Sunday, that is the sixth, be observed as Days of Prayer in our academies, colleges, universities and churches for the outpouring of the Spirit of God upon these institutions to the end that there may be an adequate consecration of our youth to the activities of Christian Leadership specially in the ministry and the missionary life.

XVI. That the report of the Treasurer and the Minutes of the Board, having been carefully reviewed and found correct, be approved.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH- SCHOOL WORK.

PRESENTED TO AND APPROVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, MAY 22, 1912.

Your Committee counts it a great privilege to present the report of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Sabbath-school missionary work. We feel that this silver anniversary should be fittingly celebrated in our schools and churches by calling special attention to the splendid record of the Board's work as set forth in the Seventy-fourth Annual Report. The organization of 20,000 Sabbath schools, 1,500 Presbyterian churches, and the addition of $1,000,000 worth of church property, should cause us devoutly to thank God for his goodness and for the seal of his approval upon our efforts.

Our gratitude should be shown in a substantial way by calling upon our churches to make an appropriate silver offering on Children's Day, or at such a time as may be most convenient for them. This offering to be sacredly set aside for the further development of the work so wisely entered upon.

The report of the Assembly's special Committee on Religious Education has already been received and adopted by your body; and it is unnecessary for us to say that we heartily approve of the joint work of the Board and this Committee in the line of religious instruction.

During the past year the Board has lost the valuable leadership, in its Young People's Department, of the Rev. Willis Lord Gelston. His resignation was due to ill health, and the Board reluctantly surrendered his services; but it is pleased to report that the Rev. William Ralph Hall is, for the present, performing the duties of Superintendent of the Young People's Department with great fidelity.

Financially, the Board has prospered, and will soon be prepared to pay the small sum yet remaining of the old indebtedness of $600,000 on the Witherspoon Building.

Because of these conditions, the Board informs your Committee that it is now able to give the much-needed encouragement in building up the business end of its work. The rapid development in this branch of the Board's work, under its efficient management, calls for more capital to meet the increasing demand; to respond to this call will mean, in the end, a much larger fund for missionary work.

That the Board had to borrow $110,000 during the year, and pay interest on same, is to be regretted. This is from no fault of the Board, but because the Board is not now permitted to add enough of its profits to its working capital, and because of $75,000 advanced for the lot on which the Witherspoon Building stands. We are pleased to note that the books show that this $75,000 has been replaced. To provide for the future, the Board asks permission to set aside fifty per cent. instead of thirty-three and one third per cent. of its profits as a working capital, as soon as the Missionary Department begins to receive the added revenue from the rents of the Witherspoon Building.

It is with satisfaction that your Committee notes the gradual evolution of the Presbyterian Hymnal to its present stage of excellence. The revised Hymnal is pronounced, by the highest authorities in the musical world, as well as by experts in hymnology, to be the best hitherto published.

The examination of the records of the Board has impressed upon the Committee the magnitude of the work committed to the care of the Board. The Board has a many-sided problem in dealing with its missionaries on the field. Not only is it coöperating with its missionaries in every way possible in their attempts to organize and foster Sunday schools on their various fields, but it is emphasizing its educational feature, calling upon these missionaries to assist it in doing this equally important Sabbath-school work. The records reveal the fact that the Board has endeavored, so far as its means will permit, to continue to extend the educational work as outlined in last year's report. We feel that the Assembly should heartily commend the action of the Board, and warmly endorse the appointment of Educational Superintendents in the various states and districts.

Your Committee offers the following recommendations:

1. We recommend that churches and Sabbath schools, so far as possible, hold a service on Children's Day in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Sabbath-School Missionary Work, and take a silver offering in connection with the same.

2. We recommend that fifty per cent. of the net profits of the Business Department, instead of thirty-three per cent., as at present, be reserved and added to the capital of the Board, as soon as the Missionary Department begins to receive the added revenue which will come to it on the payment of the balance of the mortgage on the Witherspoon Building—the remaining fifty per cent. to be paid to the Missionary Department.

3. We recommend that the attention of all our churches be called to the excellence of the revised Hymnal, and that all congregations be urged to secure it when purchasing new books.

4. We recommend that $500 be devoted to the work of the Temperance Committee during the coming year.

5. We recommend that the following members of the Board, whose terms will expire in June, be reelected to serve for three years:

Ministers:

REV. WILLIAM BRENTON GREENE, D.D.,
REV. LOYAL YOUNG GRAHAM, D.D.,
REV. MERVIN J. ECKELS, D.D.,
REV. SAMUEL McLANAHAN,
REV. J. D. HUNTER.

Elders:

WILLIAM W. ALLEN,
THOMAS W. SYNNOTT,
GEORGE HALE, M.D.,
L. M. RICE,
THOMAS R. PATTON.

6. We recommend that the Board be congratulated on the near prospect of discharging, in full, the mortgage indebtedness on the Witherspoon Building.

7. We recommend that Rally Day be observed in all the churches, and that the young people observe the first Sunday in February as Young People's Day; using the literature published by our Board, and taking liberal offerings for the purposes indicated.

8. We recommend the hearty endorsement of the action of the Board in the appointment of Educational Superintendents in the various states and districts.

9. We recommend that the records of the Board be approved, and the various officers of the Board be commended for their fidelity.

10. As to Overture No. 264, from the Presbytery of Muskogee, asking for a course in Bible reading, it is recommended that it be referred to the Board.

11. As to Overture No. 265, asking the Board to promote a society for boys between the ages of twelve and seventeen, its reference to the Board for careful consideration is recommended.

12. As to Overture No. 266, requesting action "looking toward the incorporation, bodily, of the latest approved metrical version of the Psalms into the Presbyterian Church Hymnal," it is recommended that it be referred to the Board.

13. Overtures Nos. 257-263, 305, 308, 354 and 355—all bearing upon the present Graded Lesson Helps—were referred to your Committee. They were carefully considered, and a public invitation was extended to all who wished to express themselves on this subject to appear before the Committee. Four hours were given to those who accepted the invitation. The speeches were limited to ten minutes each, and the brethren were heard alternately.

After listening to these men, the entire Committee felt that the new method of instruction, through the use of Graded Helps, had, in its three experimental years, completely vindicated itself to the Church, and that the discontinuance of the Graded System of instruction would be a calamity and a departure from the historic position of our beloved Church in always endorsing the best pedagogical methods known to the educational leaders of the world.

On the second point, which had to do with matter rather than method, there was not complete unanimity. A large majority of the Committee, however, after sifting the evidence against the present Graded Lesson Helps, came to the conclusion that these Helps were in conformity with the standards of the Presbyterian Church, and that the method of publishing them in conjunction with other denominational bodies should, on account of comity, economy and efficiency, be continued. The last report of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work shows a total saving effected through coöperation of $25,345.60. That is, the Board has been enabled, by working with other denominational bodies, to publish the Graded Helps at a saving for our Sabbath schools of about $10,000 per annum. Many schools are not purchasing the Helps because the price is prohibitive. To publish our own, singly, would put them still farther from the reach of the schools where money is scarce.

A large majority of your Committee, therefore, would have preferred to present to this Assembly an action entirely in line with the deliverances of former General Assemblies, which are as follows:

The General Assembly of 1910 adopted the following report, presented by its Special Committee on Religious Education: "That the Assembly again commend the Graded Lessons thus far published by our Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, and advise pastors, sessions and Sunday schools to use them so far as practicable."

In 1911 the Assembly adopted the following resolution presented by the Standing Committee on the work of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work: "That the Board be commended for the progress made toward the perfecting of the Graded Lessons, and be encouraged to complete these lessons as soon as practicable."

Your Committee believes that no unnecessary obstacles should be placed in the way of the work of the Board. It recognizes the difficult task before the Board in seeking to carry out the wishes of the General Assemblies of 1909, 1910 and 1911, in supplying the perfectly satisfactory system of study.

The careful and conservative men who compose the Board are a guarantee to the Committee that all its members are anxious to guard the doctrinal standards of our beloved Church.

However, in view of the fact that overtures have been presented by Presbyteries which hold that the Graded Lesson Helps are not in conformity with our doctrinal standards, and the fact that a few members of our Committee do not agree with the majority concerning this matter, and the further fact that it is impossible to go into the subject in a way that would satisfy all concerned, even if all the sessions of the Assembly were devoted to this one purpose, therefore your Committee, in order to secure complete unanimity, offers the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Graded Lessons now in use in the Sunday schools are unsatisfactory to a portion of the Church; and

WHEREAS, Our Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work is one of a syndicate publishing said Graded Lessons; therefore be it

Resolved, First, That the Assembly, through its Moderator, appoint an ad interim Committee, to which shall be referred, in connection with the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, the whole matter of the Graded Lessons.

Resolved, Second, That the Assembly directs the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, and the ad interim Committee to be appointed, to withdraw from circulation such Graded Lessons as the Committee finds objectionable.

Resolved, Third, That said ad interim Committee report to the General Assembly, which will meet in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1913, all matters concerning said issue.

14. As to the Overtures Nos. 257-263, 305, 308, 354 and 355, thus considered, your Committee recommends no action, but asks that they be placed in the hands of the ad interim Committee, for information only.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WILLIAM H. MATTHEWS, Chairman.

The Seventy-Fourth Annual Report

OF THE

Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work

Approved by the Board, April 23, 1912

The Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work presents to the General Assembly its Seventy-fourth Annual Report.

The year has been a year of earnest service, filled with educational, missionary and business activity, as the details of this Report will show.

The net profits of the business were $30,234.22, of which one-third will go to the capital of the Board, and two-thirds to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Fund.

In considering the profits of the Board, we should bear in mind that our primary aim is service to the Church. That this is the case will appear when we observe the low price at which our Sabbath-school periodicals are sold, and the introduction price of the Revised Hymnal. The funds at the disposal of our benevolent work, however, depend on the amount of business profits.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Sabbath-School Missionary Work

In 1887 the General Assembly instructed the Board of Publication to undertake the work of Sabbath-school Missions. To emphasize this new service, the name of the Board was changed to The Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work.

Progress in this effort has been full of encouragement, and presents reasons for hearty thanksgiving. Beginning with sixteen missionaries, the number has increased from year to year until now we are able to report one hundred and fifty-two missionaries and colporteurs at work during the past year in all parts of the United States.

More than twenty thousand Sabbath schools have been organized; and into them upwards of a million boys and girls have been gathered. Fifteen hundred Presbyterian churches have grown out of these schools. The property of these churches amounts to considerably more than a million dollars.

Detailed reference to the work of these twenty-five years will be found on page 20.

Working With the Assembly's Special Committee on Religious Education

The Assembly of 1911 authorized and instructed its Special Committee on Religious Education and the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, "jointly to continue during this coming year the work of religious education, as already begun, and to perfect a plan for the transfer of the work to this Board, and report to the next Assembly."

The Committee and the Board at once adopted a plan for the prosecution of this joint work, and have been pursuing it during the year. A Joint Committee, consisting of three members of the Assembly's Committee and three members of the Board, was appointed. This Committee has been holding monthly meetings during the greater part of the year. Considerable progress has been made, but the way does not seem clear yet for the Assembly's Committee to transfer the entire work to the Board. It is, therefore, the recommendation of the Assembly's Special Committee and of the Board, that the work authorized by the Assembly of 1911 be continued during the coming year under the present arrangements.

Full details of this work will be found in the report of the Special Committee to the Assembly.

Resignation of Mr. Gelston

The Board regrets that it has to report the resignation of the Rev. Willis L. Gelston, the Superintendent of its Young People's Department.

Mr. Gelston became convinced that the condition of his health necessitated his resignation, and the Board reluctantly came to the same conclusion. Mr. Gelston was the first Superintendent of our Young People's Department. He entered upon his duties in September, 1907, immediately following the organization of the department. His executive ability was very helpful in determining the policies and methods of the new work. His enthusiasm and winning personality made him popular with the young people of the Church. Under his leadership the work of this department has developed to its present stage of helpfulness and efficiency.

Rev. William Ralph Hall, who was elected a year ago to assist Mr. Gelston, will have charge of the department for the present.

Further details of the work for the young people will be found on pages 17, 18.

Graded Lessons

The Graded Lessons published by the Board are issued by the same International Lesson Committee that gives us the Uniform Series. They were published in response to an urgent demand for lessons of this character. Sixty-four Presbyteries overtured the General Assembly of 1908, asking for "action with reference to a graded course of Bible lessons for Sabbath schools."

In October, 1909, the Board, with the approval of the General Assembly, issued its first Graded Lessons. The Assembly of 1910 adopted a report presented by its Special Committee on Religious Education, as follows:

"That the Assembly again commend the Graded Lessons thus far published by the International Sunday-School Association, and the Helps on the same published by our own Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, and advise Pastors, Sessions and Sunday schools to use them so far as practicable."

In 1911 the Assembly adopted the following resolution presented by its Standing Committee on the work of the Board of Publication:

"That the Board be commended for the progress made toward the perfecting of the Graded Lessons, and be encouraged to complete these lessons as soon as practicable."

Encouraged by the approval of successive Assemblies, the Board has gone forward in its publication of the Graded Lessons. Reference to the Graded Lessons will be found on pages 23-25, in the report of the Editorial Department.

Division of Business Profits

The General Assembly of 1887 instructed the Board to place two-thirds of its net profits annually to the credit of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department, at the same time adding one third to its capital "in order that means may be furnished to carry on the business to an extent commensurate with its growth."

During the past ten years there has been a rapid growth in the business of the Board, demanding a largely increased capital. During this same period the mortgage of $600,000 upon the Witherspoon Building has been diminished until only $52,000 will remain on the first of May, which the Board hopes to see paid in the near future. When this mortgage is paid off there will be a large increase in the revenue of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department, arising from the income of the building, and from other funds which will then be available for missionary purposes.

In consideration of this increased income of the Missionary Department; in order to provide the Board with a sufficient working capital, and in view of the fact that the Missionary Department will be ultimately the gainer from the placing of our business upon a firmer financial basis, the Board requests the General Assembly to authorize it, when the Missionary Department shall begin to receive the increased revenue from the income of the Witherspoon Building, to credit annually one half of its net profits to the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department, and to add one half to its capital.

The action of the Board, in full, will be found on pages 36, 37.

The Revised Hymnal

The Revised Hymnal was issued in September, 1911, and immediately sprang into favor. The first copies came from the press on September 6, but it was not until September 23 that there was stock to fill orders. From that date to January 13, 1912—one hundred working days—there were one hundred adoptions by churches reported. To April 1, one hundred and thirty-two church orders had been filled, and, in round numbers, twenty thousand copies sold.

A fuller statement regarding the Hymnal will be found on page 25.

Expiration of Term of Office

The term of office of the following members of the Board will expire in June:

Ministers:

REV. WILLIAM BRENTON GREENE, D.D.,
REV. LOYAL Y. GRAHAM, D.D.,
REV. MERVIN J. ECKELS, D.D.,
REV. SAMUEL McLANAHAN,
REV. J. D. HUNTER,

Elders:

WILLIAM W. ALLEN,
THOMAS W. SYNNOTT,
GEORGE HALE, M.D.,
L. M. RICE,
THOMAS R. PATTON.

The Board respectfully recommends to the Assembly that these ministers and elders be reëlected to serve for three years.

Representation at the General Assembly

The Hon. Robert N. Willson and the Rev. William Beatty Jennings, D.D., were requested and authorized to represent the Board, in connection with the Secretary and the Business Superintendent, at the meeting of the General Assembly.

Department of Sabbath School and Missionary Work.

Missionaries

The number of Sabbath-school missionaries in the field, for longer or shorter periods, was 139, besides 23 colporteurs whose attention was given entirely to the visitation of foreign settlements. Of these missionaries 12 were Synodical and District Superintendents, and 140 were assigned to the different Presbyteries, a total of 152. (For a complete list of Sabbath-school missionaries at work April 1, 1912, see pages 52, 53.)

Sabbath-school Extension Work

Following the missionary policy of their respective Presbyteries, our missionaries have organized 651 new schools and revived 242, making a total of 893, into which they have gathered 30,305 persons, of whom 3,066 were officers and teachers and 27,239 were pupils. (See page 19.)

Sabbath Schools Organized Under the Board's Offer of Equipment

In this way we have encouraged the organization of mission schools in localities not reached by our missionaries. During the year 52 schools have thus come into existence.

Sabbath Schools Aided

More than 2,500 mission schools not yet self-supporting, have been aided during the year by donations of lesson helps, papers, hymnals, libraries and other supplies.

Sabbath School Development

Reports received from our missionaries, show 2,455 Sabbath schools under their care, with a membership of 112,242. By frequent visitation, they encourage and develop these schools, thus holding strategic points for our Church until the arrival of the home missionary. In many other cases where churches cannot be maintained, these schools furnish the only religious service in the community.

House to House Visitation

Our missionaries have also visited 106,571 families in rural districts. In many of these scattered homes, the visit of the missionary is the only pastoral work with which they are familiar.

Evangelistic Services In some parts of the field these workers are called upon to hold evangelistic services as a means of interesting the parents, and stimulating the spiritual life of the community. They held 840 such services last year, 3,401 conversions being reported.

Distributing Literature Much good is accomplished through the distribution, by sale and gift, of evangelical literature. This is especially true in connection with our colporteur work among foreigners. During the year 26,291 volumes and 9,636,635 pages of religious tracts have been distributed; besides 6,561 Bibles and Testaments, of which 3,677 were in foreign languages.

Churches Developed Reports from the field show that 98 new churches have grown out of mission schools organized by our missionaries during previous years. Of these churches 78 are Presbyterian and 20 are of other denominations. (See page 20.)

Presbyterian Chapel Buildings Our missionaries have assisted in the erection of 61 Presbyterian chapels to house their new organizations. The value of these buildings is $126,850. It will be noted that the value of the property thus acquired by the Presbyterian Church during the year represents a return of 71 per cent. of the entire cost of the mission work for that period.

Rev. Dr. Christopher Humble The Board has sustained a serious loss in its force of field workers during the year, in the passing away of Dr. Humble. His call came suddenly while in the performance of his duties, and our entire missionary force mourns his departure. For eighteen years Dr. Humble served the Board and the Church with earnestness, faithfulness and unusual efficiency, especially in organizing and promoting missionary effort in behalf of the mountaineers of the South from which abundant results have been gathered.

Donations of Clothing On account of the drought of last summer and the consequent crop failure in the States of South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, and Colorado, our missionaries found hundreds of families of new settlers in a poverty-stricken condition and without sufficient clothing to protect them during the winter. In response to appeals sent through this Department, much suffering and distress were relieved by the shipment of boxes and barrels of clothing and other supplies by Sabbath Schools, Mission Bands and Women's Societies.

Review of Twenty-five Years' Work It is gratifying to note from the tabulated report on page 20 that the pioneer Sabbath-school work of this Board during a quarter of a century has been such a mighty force in our land, not only in laying the foundation for future churches, but in giving to thousands of children and young people in places where churches could not be supported, the opportunity of religious teaching through the mission schools. During this period 20,654 such schools have been planted, into which 1,200,000 persons have been gathered. Out of these schools 1,515 Presbyterian churches have grown, an average of 60 new Presbyterian churches each year. Other denominations have shared in the results of the work, 601 churches have been organized by them as the outgrowth of some of our mission schools, making a total of 2,116 churches in twenty-five years, an average of 84 each year.

Synodical and Presbyterian Sabbath-School Committees These Committees are becoming increasingly helpful in promoting the plans of the Board for developing every phase of Sabbath-school work throughout the entire Church. Presbyterian and Synodical Sabbath-school Institutes have been held under the direction of these Committees, giving a decided impetus to Teacher Training, Adult Bible Classes, Missionary Instruction and other departments in connection with the modern efficient Sabbath school. In a number of Presbyteries the Committee on Sabbath-school Work and the Committee on Young People's Work have been combined under the name of the Committee on Religious Education, thus centralizing the responsibility for all the work of the Church pertaining to the religious teaching and training of our young people.

Grants

During the year donations were made as follows:

Periodicals, books and tracts, to Sabbath schools, churches, pastors and missionary workers, including foreign languages	$10,201.42
Bibles as rewards for memorizing Shorter Catechism.....	312.64
Westminster Teacher to Foreign Mission Stations.....	456.09
Total	$10,970.15

Contributions amounting to $2,675.91 were made to the Board for the erection of chapels and other special objects in connection with the work on the field.

Children's Day and Rally Day

About 5,500 Sabbath schools used our Children's Day supplies last year, over 800,000 copies of the program and supplement having been distributed. Of the Rally Day program 303,000 were distributed among 2,300 Sabbath schools. It is with regret that we note a decrease in the Sabbath-school offerings on these special days last year. Information has been received that in some cases these offerings have been divided among the other Boards to make up the amount which the church was assessed for benevolences under the Budget Plan. Just how far this practice prevailed it is difficult to determine. We would urge most earnestly, however, that in the future all offerings given on these occasions be remitted to this Board in accordance with the instructions of the General Assembly. The total of offerings from Sabbath schools last year is $87,975.58.

Foreign Colporteur Work

The insufficiency of our funds to support additional colporteurs accounts for the fact that this part of our missionary force has not been substantially increased during the year. For periods of from three to twelve months 23 colporteurs have been at work among Italians, Hungarians (Magyars), Bohemians, Ruthenians, Russians, Poles, Slovaks, Roumanians and others of foreign speech in Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

They have visited 35,912 families, distributed 8,800 religious books and 68,842 pages of tracts by sale and gift; besides 3,677 Bibles, Testaments and portions of Scripture in at least 20 different languages. The total sales amounted to $1,717.44. (See page 22.)

The care of mission stations that have grown out of their work, has been temporarily assigned to several of our colporteurs because of the scarcity of trained workers. This naturally reduces the total amount of sales, but we believe that the cause in general is benefited.

Foreign PeriodicalsFor Bohemians, Moravians,
Slovaks and Other Slavic Peoples

For Bohemians, Moravians, Slovaks and other Slavic peoples, the Board is publishing a sixteen-page weekly religious paper, "Kres-tanske Listy" (Christian Journal), whose circulation has now reached 3,000 copies.

The efficient editor, the Rev. V. Losa, reports having received many encouraging letters from individuals, families and churches that have been helped through the medium of this paper. The receipts from subscriptions and advertisements last year were $2,649.06, making the net cost for the year $4,687.18.

For Hungarians (Magyars)

For Hungarians (Magyars) our sixteen-page weekly, "Reformatusok Lapja" (The Reformed Sentinel), continues to meet the need of a religious journal for the Protestants of that nationality who are coming to our shores. Under the editorship of the Rev. Ladislás Harsanyi, this paper has made good progress during the year. The present circulation is 1,000 copies weekly. The net cost of this publication for the year was $2,798.83.

For Ruthenians

For Ruthenians our eight-page weekly paper, "Sojuz" (Union), which for several years was published in New York, was changed in size and form, and transferred to Pittsburgh under the management of the Rev. S. Byczynskyj. It is distinctively religious in tone and utterance, and it is believed that in its present form it is meeting the needs of the people speaking the Ruthenian tongue. The circulation is 1,000 copies weekly, the net cost last year being $1,633.82.

For Italians

For Italians the weekly paper "L'Araldo" (The Herald), the publication of which was begun at the request of the Italian ministers and missionaries, shows gratifying progress. The circulation is now 3,000 copies. The Rev. A. di Pietro, editor and manager, has shown unusual efficiency and aggressiveness in suiting this paper to the peculiar needs and requirements of the Italian immigrant population, helping them to become Christian American citizens. The net cost of "L'Araldo" for the year was $1,783.30.

Cards*

The Bible Picture Cards in six different languages are increasingly popular, being found useful not only by our colporteurs, but by the missionaries on the steamship piers, and in the mission Sabbath schools that are being conducted among foreigners in various localities. The Board is now publishing 14,000 of these cards weekly, at the net cost last year of $1,110.07.

In connection with his duties as manager of the Italian weekly paper, Mr. di Pietro has established a depository for the sale of the best religious books and tracts published by the Claudian Press and La Speranza Press, both in Italy. In this way our Italian ministers and missionaries are given the opportunity of securing the best Italian religious literature published at a reasonable price, without being obliged to send to Italy for it.

Calls have come to the Board for the extension of this publication work by adding certain other periodicals for which a need has been expressed. This work has already grown to such proportions that it is a considerable drain upon our funds, and it is hoped that on Rally Day this year the needs of our foreign immigrants will be remembered, and that the desire to help them will be expressed by much larger offerings, enabling us to enlarge this good work.

Shorter Catechism The Board continues the practice of giving a Teacher's Bible to Sabbath-school pupils who recite the Shorter Catechism from memory. Last year 436 persons, having met the conditions, were presented with Bibles.

Acknowledgments Again the Board desires to express its appreciation of the hearty coöperation of the American Bible Society during the year, in furnishing Bibles and Testaments to our Sabbath-school missionaries. Thus our workers are able to take advantage of the many opportunities which come to them to extend the reading and the knowledge of the Word.

Financial Contrary to our expectations, we are obliged to report a decrease of $4,159.37 in the total contributions received during the year. A gratifying increase is noted in the congregational offerings, but a decrease of $5,790.60 in the Sabbath-school offerings on Children's Day and Rally Day more than offset this gain, and caused us to close the year with a debt of $4,252.11.

Although the expenditures of the Board show a considerable increase over last year, we desire to call attention to the fact that the cost of administration has been somewhat less than the amount reported for the previous year, the percentage being 4.05.

Comparison of Contributions

The following table shows a comparison of contributions received during the past ten years:

	Church.	Sabbath School.	Y. P. Societies.	Individuals.

Sabbath-
Institutes

One of the most gratifying features of this "Summary of Educational Work" is the advance which has been made along the line of holding Presbyterian and Synodical Sabbath-school Institutes. These Institutes have been found most helpful in every Presbytery and Synod where the plan has been adopted, and they look forward to them from year to year with a great deal of interest. In these Institutes the various problems in connection with the work of the Sabbath school are freely discussed, and the interchange of ideas and methods in use in the various schools has been the means of helping many pastors and superintendents to develop their own Sabbath schools to a higher degree of efficiency. There is no reason why every Presbytery should not adopt the plan. Almost every Synod now holds a pre-Synodical Sabbath-school Institute during the entire day preceding the opening of the Synod. It does not seem too much to ask that each Presbytery devote at least a portion of one session each year to the discussion of problems of such supreme importance as are connected with the religious education and training of our youth.

Educational Sabbath-School Work

During the year the Board has continued and extended its various lines of educational advance, as outlined in the report for last year.

Work on the "Standard of Excellence" has been steadily pushed with a view to bringing every Presbyterian Sabbath school into line. A wall chart has been published, price seventy-five cents, on which the ten points are clearly stated and explained, with space opposite each for the Board's official star of recognition. Smaller charts of the same form have been furnished to our missionaries for use in their schools. The statistical returns, as submitted to the various Presbyteries and summarized in this report, indicate a gratifying measure of co-operation on the part of the Presbyterial Chairmen of Sabbath-School Work, in conjunction with the Board's missionary force, and a readiness on the part of the Sabbath schools to equip themselves for larger and better service.

The "Educational Bulletin," with sixteen pages of information, announcement and suggestion, has been issued three times during the year, in May, September and March, and mailed free to every pastor and Sabbath-school superintendent.

The Educational Superintendent has met nearly all the Board's missionaries on the field, including those on the Pacific Coast, who, on account of the expense, are not usually called into conference, and has discussed with them the leading features of modern Sunday-school work. He has also supervised their educational activities. In addition to this general oversight, the fields of the Synods of Alabama, Idaho, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin, and of the Presbytery of Boston, have been covered by district educational service for all or part of the year, to the great profit of the Sunday-school forces of these fields. Invaluable service was also, until his lamented death on January 27, 1912, rendered by the late Dr. Christopher Humble, the Board's educational superintendent for the Middle West.

Much other lecturing and field service has been furnished by members of the Board's force. The missionaries report 1,003 institutes and other Sunday-school meetings held on their fields, representing 2,968 Sabbath schools. The efficiency of these institutes, as indicated in the programs, the reports and the evident progress of the schools thus reached, is on the increase. The emphasis on quality as well as quantity is bearing fruit in better work in the schools under our missionaries' care or reached by them in their visitations.

A "Correspondence Course for Presbyterian Sabbath-School Missionaries," under the care of the Educational Superintendent, was announced early in the year. It is based on the textbooks of the Westminster Advanced Teacher-Training Course, with additional lessons to cover the missionaries' special needs. Notwithstanding the difficulty experienced by our missionaries in finding time for reading, study and reports, 55 of them, with 9 others, have enrolled in the course, 234 lesson outlines have been sent in, and 2 students have completed the work on the first book, Robertson's "The Old Testament and Its Contents." The students express themselves as greatly benefited by the work done thus far.

The number of Presbyterian Teacher-Training Classes enrolled with our Department and being examined by the Superintendent of Sabbath-School Training is 253. The International Sunday-School Association has reported 464 Presbyterian Teacher-Training Classes enrolled with their various State Associations. We have 132 students enrolled in our Correspondence Course. The number of students examined last year was 969; examination papers received and marked, 3,434; diplomas awarded to 390 students who completed the First Standard Course.

The progress made in the publication and introduction of the Graded Lessons is reported by the Editorial Department. The Sabbath-School and Missionary Department has contributed to this work through its Educational Superintendent. He delivered an address on "The Material of the Graded Lessons" before the International Convention at San Francisco, June 26, 1911, which the Board later issued in pamphlet form, and has also continued to serve as a member of the Conference which selects and arranges these lessons for presentation to the International Lesson Committee.

The Department of Young People's Work

The policy of the Department of Young People's Work in broad outline is: more organizations within the Presbyterian Church for the young people; more efficiency in all lines in existing organizations, and a deeper and more definite educational work. Upon these lines the efforts of the Department have been centered for the past year.

Activities Given Especial Emphasis

Records and Reports

To secure, as far as possible, direct communication with the leaders of the Young People's Societies, the Department secured, as formerly, through the Presbyterian Chairmen of the Committee on Young People's Work in each Presbytery, a record of the society officers and a report of the work. These records and reports for the past year have been a distinct improvement on former years. Through reports to Presbyteries, the needs of the young people and the agencies available to meet their needs have been presented, both by Presbyterian chairmen and by Department representatives.

Summer Conferences

Another activity given peculiar emphasis was the Summer Conferences. Four were held in different parts of the country, reaching about twenty states. The enrollment was larger than in any previous year.

The results warranted expansion, and five Conferences are planned for this summer.

Rally Day To rally all the forces for aggressive work in the fall, the annual Rally Day program, together with other Rally Day literature, was issued. The influence of Rally Day is increasing each year.

Young People's Day Young People's Day, aiming to present the young people's work to the whole Church and to secure financial support for the Department, was also observed by a large number of societies. The programs, instructions as to planning a profitable and acceptable service, advertising material and envelopes for receiving the offerings, were furnished by the Department.

Winter Conference A Winter Conference for Presbyterian young people was held in Pittsburgh, in conjunction with a general Church Conference, with most gratifying results. The Department hopes to extend this line of work in the coming year.

Study Courses Looking toward increased education along definite lines, the Department issued a leaflet, "Study Courses." This outlined an educational program for all the young people's societies of the Church.

General Efforts

Aside from the above-mentioned tasks which were given major emphasis at certain seasons of the year, other activities are pursued throughout the whole year.

Field Work Individual churches, Conventions, Rallies, Presbyteries and Synods were addressed by the Department officers.

Correspondence The Department's correspondence, aside from all circular letters, aggregated above seven thousand five hundred letters. The Department's officers gave this correspondence their personal attention.

Printing Many circular letters and considerable printed matter, including leaflets to meet the needs of the Department, were printed and sent out.

The Religious Press Articles in the interests of the Department regularly appeared throughout the year in "Forward." Articles for other religious papers were occasionally prepared.

Editorial Department

The Graded Lessons

The Graded Lessons were adopted by the International Sunday-School Association at the earnest request of teachers and workers in all parts of the country. There had been a growing feeling among elementary workers for a number of years that lessons adapted to younger children should be chosen for these departments instead of those selected for the whole school. At length this desire prevailed, and the arrangements for Graded Lessons for all departments, so far as might be desired, were adopted by the International Association. These lessons were begun October 1, 1909. The lessons for the Primary and Junior Departments were then introduced. They became popular at once, and a great many of the Sabbath schools of the Presbyterian Church adopted them. Many, however, still continue to use the Uniform Lessons, helps for which are published as heretofore; and our Sabbath schools are at liberty to use either course.

The General Assembly of 1909 expressed its appreciation of the results of the work of the International Sunday-School Association's Lesson Committee in the Graded Lessons, so far as published, and commended them to the favorable consideration of pastors, sessions and Sunday schools. The Assembly of 1910 and also of 1911 again commended these Lessons, and the helps on the same, published by the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, and advised the pastors, sessions and Sunday schools to use them, so far as practicable.

It is impossible to state precisely the extent to which the Graded Lessons are now used, but it is probably safe to say that in the elementary grades one-third of our schools have adopted them. The reception of these lessons has been more than cordial—it has been enthusiastic. Among the advantages reported are: An increased interest on the part of pupils, an enlarged attendance, larger use of the Bible and more home study. In a few cases, schools have returned to the use of the Uniform Lessons, after trying the Graded Lessons, but such a course has usually been accounted for on the ground of economy, or some other like reason.

In October of 1910, Graded Lessons for the Intermediate Department were issued. There was at once a demand for them from perhaps one-third of the schools in the Presbyterian Church. In October of 1912, lessons for the Senior Grade will be introduced, and it is anticipated that these also will meet a cordial reception in our Sunday schools.

One of the principal difficulties in preparing and planning for the publication of these Graded Lessons was the necessary cost of such preparation. If undertaken by our Board alone, the lesson helps would have been too expensive for popular use, the necessary prices being, in many instances, prohibitive. This led to an arrangement by the publication departments of several of the larger churches, including the Methodist Episcopal Church, North and South, the Congregational Church, and the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., for uniting in their publication. This coöperation has made it possible to bring the cost of the lessons down to a figure which will not be burdensome to most of the schools. It is hoped, too, that the price can be still further reduced after the lessons have been once prepared, the initial cost being thus eliminated.

It will be interesting to those who use the Graded Lessons to know how the editorial work is provided for. The Editors of the several denominations engage the lesson writers. These receive definite instructions. Their work is then submitted to the joint body, and is reviewed by each of the Editors, whose corrections are incorporated in the final copy.

Thus, it will be seen, the utmost care is given to the preparation of the lessons for the Graded Series, the same care that is given to the preparation of all the lesson helps that go out from this office.

The results so far attained have clearly shown the demand existing for helps of this character in Sunday-school work. The Board has already printed for the first quarter of the third year of the Graded Lessons (corresponding to the fourth quarter of the year 1911):

	Teachers' Text-Book.	Pupils' Stories.
Beginners' Lessons	9,000	96,000
Primary "	16,000	134,000
Junior "	16,000	Pupils' Work Book. 130,000
	Teachers' Manual.	Pupils' Text-Book.
Intermediate "	12,000	66,000
Total	53,000	426,000

The Board has expended upon the Graded Lessons, including Editorial Work, Composition, Electrotyping and all other processes of manufacture, also handling, freight, postage and necessary clerical work, as follows:

Beginners' Lessons	$43,221.78
Primary "	48,479.83
Junior "	54,681.67
Intermediate "	17,995.59
* Total	$164,378.87

Upon the above expenditure the economies effected by co-operation have amounted to $25,345.60, approximately 16 per cent.

During the past year the revision of "The Revised Hymnal" was completed and the new book placed upon the market. The Board was fortunate in being able to assign this work of revision to the same committee who arranged the "Hymnal" of 1895, viz.: Hon. Robert N. Willson, Franklin L. Sheppard, Esq., and the Rev. Louis F. Benson, D.D., the latter having editorial supervision; and a careful study of the book reveals the remarkable skill with which this feature of the work has been accomplished. This revision indicates the changing emphasis put upon different phases of the Church's life during the past sixteen years, and the committee have demonstrated their ability in thus incorporating into this book such features as are found necessary to keep pace with the growth and development of the Church.

From the point of manufacture, also, it is to be observed that the Board has produced a rare piece of book making; so that from every point of view we present to the Church a hymn-book which marks a distinct advance along the lines of correct, dignified and inspiring hymnody.

It is appearing in three editions: large, with hymns and tunes: small, with hymns and tunes; and one with words only. These three forms will provide for all conditions and needs, and the prices, notwithstanding the high quality of workmanship, have been kept exceptionally low; in cloth, the large book sells for $1.00, introduction price 75 cents, and the smaller music edition for 75 cents, introduction price, 60 cents. The price of the word edition, which is not quite ready for sale, has not yet been definitely determined.

Pocket
League

Last year the Board assumed the management of the Pocket Testament League—the world-wide movement which had its origin with Miss Helen Cadbury, who is now the wife of the well-known Mr. Charles M. Alexander. The League has grown until the work is now carried on in thirteen different countries, and fully 300,000 members have been secured, as explained in the inspiring book “The Pocket Testament League Around the World.”

As is well known, the plan is to carry a Testament or Bible in one's pocket or bag that a portion of it may be read each day. The aim is to strengthen Christians and to win the unsaved to Christ by using and spreading God's Word. Members are therefore encouraged not only to read the Bible for themselves and to carry it with them, but to give it away to those who are willing to join the League and fulfill its conditions.

Since we assumed charge we have appointed one Field Secretary, also a Secretary who takes charge of the entire Pacific Coast, several State Secretaries, and 54 Local Secretaries, all of whom render gratuitous service. There are no fees of any kind. The membership cards and literature are furnished free of charge, and suitable Gospels and Testaments in the King James and American Revised Versions are furnished at a very low rate for those who desire to purchase them.

Illustrated Papers

Forward Forward has had another year of growing circulation and popularity. The best short story and other writers for young people are among its contributors. While intended primarily for older classes in Sabbath school, Forward is adapted also for young people in the home, the school and everywhere. It has a Christian Endeavor Department, with brief notes on the weekly topics, and contains articles from time to time on the work of young people's societies. For the present, single subscriptions, 75 cents; subscriptions for two or more copies in the same wrapper, addressed to one person, 50 cents.

In view of the low price of Forward and the advanced cost of material and production, it will be necessary, at an early date, to increase the subscription price of this paper.

The Comrade The Comrade takes the place of The Sabbath-School Visitor, the oldest of the periodicals of the Board. It is a bright and popular paper for boys and girls, adapted to a younger class of readers than Forward. It is an illustrated four-page paper, each number containing attractive and valuable matter. It is published weekly. Single subscriptions, 50 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 30 cents.

The Morning Star The Morning Star is issued to meet the demand in some schools for a paper at small cost.

It is of the same quality, grade and style as The Comrade, about half its size. It is issued every week. Single subscriptions, 25 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 15 cents.

The Sunbeam The Sunbeam is a four-page weekly illustrated paper for very little people. It is attractive not only in its appearance, but also in its contents. No subscriptions are taken for less than one month. Single subscriptions, 30 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 20 cents for each pupil.

Business Department

According to the statement on page 38, there has been published during the year 4,352,314 copies of books and tracts, and 66,248,215 copies of periodicals, which together with 8,000 copies of the Annual Report for the year ending March 31, 1911, make an aggregate of 70,608,529 publications for the year.

The work of placing these publications on the market is performed by means of the main store in Philadelphia, the Depositories in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and Nashville, and six other houses where the publications of the Board can be obtained.

The Depositories conducted by the Board are as follows:

Depositories

New York, N. Y., G. W. Brazer, Manager, 156 Fifth Avenue.
Chicago, Ill., W. P. Blessing, Manager, 509 South Wabash Avenue.
St. Louis, Mo., J. H. Springer, Manager, 505 North Seventh Street.
Nashville, Tenn., W. H. Shearon, Manager, 413-415 Church Street.
San Francisco, Cal., W. H. Webster, Manager, 400 Sutter Street.

The other houses referred to are:

Pittsburgh, Pa., Board of Colportage, 202 Fulton Building.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Western Tract Society, 420 Elm Street.
Richmond, Va., The Presbyterian Committee of Publication, 212-214 North Sixth Street.
Toronto, Ontario, Upper Canada Tract Society, 102 Yonge Street.
Winnipeg, Manitoba, Russell, Lang & Co., 504 Main Street.
Publication Committee Presbyterian Church of England, 21 Warwick Lane, London, E. C.

Sales

The sales of Books and Sunday-school and Church Supplies for the year amount to $354,224.82. These include not only the publications of the Board, but those of other publishers as well. The sales of Periodical Lesson Helps and Illustrated Papers amount to $557,031.83, making aggregate sales for the year of $911,256.65. These amounts do not coincide with the Treasurer's account, as they include credit sales, whereas the latter takes cognizance only of cash receipts.

The above figures of sales include not only those of the main house at Philadelphia and Depositories throughout the country, but also those made by the Sabbath-school missionaries. These are charged to the Missionary Department at "the best rate of discount allowed on the same class of publications to the most favored branch houses in the country." The missionaries are required to sell for cash only.

Capital and Net Profits

The capital at the beginning of the year, according to the balance sheet of the last report, was $335,141.23. The net profits of the past year are $30,234.22. Of this sum two-thirds, or $20,156.15, have been placed to the credit of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Fund, in accordance with the direction of the General Assembly, and will be paid in quarterly installments during the next fiscal year. The remaining third, or $10,078.07, has been added to capital. In addition to this, the sum of $75,000, which represents the amount advanced by the Business Department in 1895 toward the purchase of the site upon which the Witherspoon Building stands, has been returned during the past year to the Business Department out of available funds in the hands of the Trustees, and placed directly to the credit of capital. The capital has, therefore, been increased by the addition of these two items to $420,219.30.

Annuity Gold Bonds

The Annuity Gold Bond plan inaugurated three years ago is nearing completion. The mortgage on the Witherspoon Building is now only $80,000. Since the last interest period bonds to the amount of $28,000 have been sold, so that but $52,000 remain to be disposed of. It is hoped that these will be taken before the meeting of the General Assembly, and that the Board will have the satisfaction of announcing at that time the complete removal of the mortgage incumbrance on the Witherspoon Building. At any rate, the coming year will without doubt mark the consummation of this desirable achievement, after which the net income from the building, allowing for proper reserves, and the payment of annuities upon the bonds will be devoted directly to the extension of the Sabbath-school and Missionary work of the Board.

Division of Profits

At its meeting on March 26, 1912, the Board, on the recommendation of the Business Committee, adopted the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, The Standing Committee of the General Assembly of 1887 (see Minutes, page 103) reported as follows: "Your Committee think that the business of the Board of Publication can by wise measures be extended and made more profitable, and that while a proportion of its profits should be added to its capital in order that means may be furnished to carry on the business to an extent commensurate with its growth, the benevolent work of the Church will be forwarded, and the interest of the Business Department of this Board and sympathy with its work will be greatly increased by placing two thirds of its net profits annually to the credit of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department." And

WHEREAS, The rapid growth of the business of this Board during the ten years just passed has greatly outstripped the share of the profits to be added to its working capital; and if the evident intention of the General Assembly of 1887 was to add, out of the profits, such a proportion as would "carry on the business to an extent commensurate with its growth," it has become desirable and necessary that this proportion should be increased. And

WHEREAS, In view of the great success of the Annuity Plan, and of the probability that the mortgage upon the Witherspoon Building will be extinguished at an early date, there is a practical certainty that out of the income to be derived from that building, after the payment of the annuities upon the bonds which have been issued, and of the amount to be reserved for the payment of taxes and other items as provided for by previous action of the Board, as well as out of moneys which shall then be available from other sources, there will be a large increase in the amount of funds which will be at the disposal and for the use of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department; therefore

Resolved, That the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School

Work requests the General Assembly to change the proportion of profits to be added to its capital from year to year from one third to one half, the remaining one half to be credited to the Sabbath-School and Missionary Department; such change to take effect upon the cancellation of the mortgage upon the Witherspoon Building.

FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Board of the Church Erection Fund.

With gratitude to the Great Head of the Church for His signal blessing upon the work of the year, the Board presents to the General Assembly its Forty-second Annual Report. The Board entered upon the year now under review, with a keen sense of privation in the loss of its great Secretary, Rev. Dr. Erskine N. White, whose master hand and consummate skill had directed its affairs through the quarter century of its greatest development. But his wisdom had so adjusted its methods under the rules and regulations which the General Assembly, in its wisdom, had from time to time provided for the Board's guidance that his spirit seemed to be still in its wheels propelling it in its onward and widening course.

He entered the office just after the dawn of the new expansive era that followed the civil war. His wise counsels aided the Board in meeting new and constantly changing and developing conditions. He witnessed with growing enthusiasm the admission into the Union of the great States of North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oklahoma and heard and heeded their call for advice and help in sheltering the young churches that were coming into being everywhere. His sympathies went out to welcome with helpfulness the new insular possessions, Cuba, Porto Rico and the Canal Zone. And then, as he was laying down his pen, he heard New Mexico and Arizona calling for admission into the family of States. He is not dead, but lives in the activities of the mighty work of Church Erection which is one of the glories of the Kingdom's advancing life.

THE YEAR.

In the midst of the joy of service we have been called to mourn the loss of one of our beloved and useful members, the Rev. Charles James Young, D.D., who died December 19. The Board has placed on record this testimony of his faithfulness and its sense of privation in his death:

The Board is called to mourn the loss of a beloved and useful member, the Rev. Charles J. Young, D.D., who died suddenly in the early morning of December 19, 1911.

Dr. Young was elected to membership in this Board by the General Assembly in 1895. By his faithful attendance at its meetings, his conscientious fidelity in the discharge of every duty, and his wise counsels in the conduct of its business, he made his membership a valuable asset of the Board, and by his unfailing courtesy and good fellowship he endeared himself to all its members. His departure entails a loss which will be keenly felt and hard to repair.

THE BOARD'S FIELD.

This is, in the true sense, a national Board reaching in its operations every part of our national domain, and serving all nationalities and exceptional populations among whom the ministers and missionaries of our Church are at work.

NEW ENGLAND.

The Presbyterian Church has a solemn responsibility for the spiritual care of the large and increasing population of foreigners of Presbyterian faith or affiliation in New England. By natural selection they segregate. By birth and training they are Presbyterians and by occupation employees. The churches organized among them have not financial resources to provide church buildings without liberal aid.

Our responsibility for these people is recognized by churches of other denominations, notably Congregationalists, Baptists and Methodists, who extend substantial help in providing houses of worship.

This demand is accentuated by the contemplated expansion of the Presbytery of Boston into the Synod of New England with four Presbyteries.

OLDER SYNODS.

It is of interest to note that the requisitions for aid in the States from New York to the Western plains have come chiefly from villages and mission churches in cities and suburban communities. Distinctively country churches are not increasing in number. The perfection of roads and the general use of the automobile make it easy for the farmer to give his family the superior advantages of the churches in the cities and villages. And there is a general tendency among wealthy farmers to remove to the cities, leaving their lands to tenants, with a consequent falling off of church attendance in the country. A new phase of mission work is thus presented to the Church

Extension agencies if the rural populations are to be provided with the means of grate.

The effect of this tendency upon the business of Church Erection in these older States is to eliminate, to a large extent, the cheaper churches from the number of those that apply for aid and to increase the average appropriation.

THE CITIES.

It was never the business of this Board to aid in the erection of costly churches, nor churches of metropolitan character. It was not the purpose of the General Assembly that created it, nor the intention of churches and individuals from whom it has derived its resources, that it should enter upon that class of work. Nevertheless, there is an important and growing demand for its help in building mission chapels for the neglected classes, largely of foreign speech, in our cities and in the newer suburban communities, a demand which falls quite within the Board's appropriate sphere. But in the cities there is wealth and willingness to carry the greater part of the burden so that the average appropriation of the Board during the past year for this class of work is not very greatly increased over the previous year, as our tables show.

THE NEW STATES.

While the city mission churches must be cared for, at the same time the demands of the great wastes of the continent are most imperative upon the whole Church. The vast irrigating enterprises, the multiplying mining communities, the numberless collateral lines and branches of the transcontinental railroads, are bringing into being innumerable villages into which enterprising populations are pouring. A wise foresight demands that these communities should be provided with sanctuaries before society is set in the mould. This is the great work of our Board. This was the declared purpose of the Assembly that created it, and the steadfast purpose of all the subsequent Assemblies.

In the prosecution of its work during the past year the Board has aided in building churches in every State except five, and also in Alaska and among the Mexicans, Mormons, Indians and negroes.

At every monthly meeting of the Board the whole vast continent passes under review. The tabulated results of sixty-even years are shown in the following statement:

*In comparing the number of appropriations with the number of churches still upon the roll which have been aided, it should be noted, as appears in the columns of payments, that about 5 per cent. do not call for their appropriations, that about the same number have received more than one appropriation, and that others from one cause or another are either dissolved or consolidated, the actual average increase in the number of churches upon the roll of the Assembly being about 65 per cent. of the number reported as organized. It is therefore probable that the number of churches now enrolled which have been assisted by the Board is not more than two-thirds of the total number of appropriations paid.

* The "available balance," 1912, is misleading, as there were on file approved applications aggregating $80,500 postponed for lack of funds.

DISTRIBUTION.

The apportionments have been distributed among 47 States and Alaska.

The State of Washington received the largest number of appropriations, which was 25, and the largest aggregate amount, $26,413. Oklahoma follows with 21 appropriations, aggregating $19,240. These were the States of greatest increase in population during the decade from 1900 to 1910.

It will be observed that the number of churches aided by this Board since the beginning of its work is more than 96 per cent. of the number of churches now upon the roll of the General Assembly, counting the churches that have come from the late Cumberland Church, which never received our aid.

It will be observed that in five of the States no appropriations are reported for the year now under review. From some of these States applications were received and favorably considered, but in some cases the churches were not prepared to receive the appropriations and in others the churches applying succeeded in raising sufficient funds to meet their necessities and relinquished the appropriations which the Board had made.

It is an interesting and instructive fact that in more than twenty of the States in the list the number of churches that have received aid from the Board exceed the number now on the roll of the Synods.

The number of applications to the Loan Fund was 14 in excess of the number during the previous year and the aggregate of the amounts applied for was greater by $59,900. The average amounts applied for during the two years were respectively $2,535 and $2,905.

The number of appropriations from the General Fund exceed those of last year by 17, and the average amount appropriated $991, against $884 last year, while the aggregate amount is $23,733 greater than last year. This increase was made possible by the residue of income from the Kennedy Fund after the demands of the evicted churches of Tennessee had been met.

The number of appropriations from the Loan Fund was six less than last year, but the aggregate amount was $26,000 less than the loans of the previous year, while the average loan was $2,595, against $2,611 last year—a decrease in the average loan of $16.

GROWTH.

There is a prevalent belief that the Church is losing its influence among men and that Christian faith is waning, but the facts in the experience of the Boards of the Church do not justify that belief.

Never before in the history of our country were the resources of the Boards so greatly taxed to meet the demand for the means of grace and for the privileges of the sanctuary as at the present time. If the Board of Church Erection were qualified to build churches outright on demand, it might be asserted very plausibly that the call for its benefactions in new communities is prompted by an ambition for attractive buildings at the expense of other people.

But this claim is refuted by the terms upon which the churches are aided—each congregation being required to provide from one-half to two-thirds the cost before it can receive the moiety which the Board provides. That claim is further refuted by the demand for larger edifices to accommodate the congregations which are waiting to fill them, and the consequent increase in the cost to the congregation.

The work of the Board is necessarily divided into several distinct departments. It is necessary, therefore, to tabulate the resources by which the work is maintained.

DEPARTMENTS.

This statement of the resources of the Board presents a clear view of the growth and variety of the work which has been entrusted to it.

Through bequests designated for special purposes, and by successive enlargements of the sphere of the Board by action of the General Assembly, its work has become complex as related to distinct funds in its keeping.

I. PERMANENT FUND.

This fund was originally established in 1854 as an endowment of $100,000. By successive additions it is now $2,788,744.31. It is invested in bonds and mortgages in the City of New York and in securities received from the executors of the will of John S. Kennedy in pursuance of the terms of the will and also in railroad bonds purchased with cash received from the estate of John S. Kennedy as directed by the General Assembly in 1910, as follows (see pages 408 and 178-181 of Minutes of 1910).

2. That all investments made of this fund be made in accordance with the laws of the State of New York concerning the investment of the funds of Savings Banks in said State.

II. THE GENERAL FUND.

This fund is the annual income derived from church and individual contributions, interest on invested funds, sales of properties of defunct churches, and appropriations returned by churches. It is distributed annually among needy churches either as grants or as small loans without interest to be repaid in annual contributions, under the following conditions provided by the General Assembly.

1. The church applying must be a corporate body, and the title to its property must be held in fee simple either by the church or a Presbytery or a Synod or a Board of the Church at large.

2. The application must be endorsed either by Presbytery or its Standing Committee on Church Erection.

3. The amount granted or loaned must be secured by a first mortgage upon the church property. This mortgage bears no interest, and is not due (in case of grants) unless the church be dissolved or the property abandoned.

4. Before payment by the Board, a certificate must be received from the Trustees showing that the appropriation will complete the building and leave the church without debt excepting to the Board.

5. No grant or loan without interest shall exceed one-third of the value of the property, nor ordinarily $1,000 in amount.

6. No grant or loan from this fund may be made to pay a debt more than one year old or a debt contracted for any other purpose than church building.

III. ALLIED FUNDS.

These funds are governed by the rules of the General Fund, except as otherwise specified.

1. Buell Fund.—This fund is derived from a bequest of $34,000 from the estate of Mrs. Electa K. Buell, of New York, for aid of churches in our "Western States" and in communities where there is no other Presbyterian church. This fund is now practically exhausted.

2. The Van Meter Fund consists of $6,000 from the estate of the Misses Van Meter, of New Jersey, the interest from which is to be used to aid church building within the bounds of the Presbytery of West Jersey. By the instruction of the General Assembly of 1911, the annual income of this Fund is transferred to the Presbytery of West Jersey to be by it appropriated.

3. The Gilchrist Fund consists of $10,000 derived from a bequest of John Gilchrist, of Boston, Mass. The interest, as it accrues, is to be used in aid of church building within the bounds of the Presbytery of Boston.

4. The Stuart Fund is a small supplemental fund to be used in exceptional cases which do not come under the rules of the Board. It is now practically exhausted.

5. The Barber Fund.—This Fund is held by the Trustees of the General Assembly. The apportionment of interest which falls to the Board of Church Erection is used exclusively in aid of negro churches not under the care of the Board of Missions for Freedmen.

6. The Sara A. Palmer Memorial Fund.—The income from this invested fund is used under the rules of the General Fund in every respect.

IV. THE LOAN FUND.

This fund had its origin in 1891 and was endowed principally by a legacy from the Stuart estate. It went into effect a year later. It amounts to $250,000. At the beginning of last year this fund was practically all loaned to churches. The year began with but $222.65 available for use. The year closed with applications, approved but not confirmed, amounting to $80,500.

The administration of this fund is governed by the first four rules of the General Fund, except that the amount loaned may be one-half of the value of the property and the amount ordinarily not to exceed $5,000, and must be returned in annual installments not exceeding ten, with interest, ordinarily at the rate of 6 per cent., with a rebate at final payment of one-half the aggregate interest. Bondsmen are required to insure prompt payments.

V. MANSE FUNDS.

1. The Manse Fund had its origin with the late James R. Hills, and was endowed by Mrs. R. L. Stuart. From this fund small loans without interest (and small grants in exceptional cases) are made to churches erecting inexpensive manses. This fund is now all in use.

2. The Raynolds Fund.—This fund was endowed by the late General William F. Raynolds, of Detroit, Mich. From it loans are made at a low rate of interest to churches building more expensive manses than those to which the former fund applies.

3. The Hoyt Fund.—This is a small fund derived from a bequest of the late Dr. Ezra Hoyt, a former member of this Board. It is used much as the Raynolds Fund, but for weaker churches and at a still lower rate of interest.

VI. LIFE INTEREST FUNDS.

These funds are available only after the death of the donors.

SUMMARY.

The income from these various funds is set forth under the heading of RESOURCES. The demands have so far exceeded the resources that applications for sums aggregating $80,500, which have been approved, await the income of another year for confirmation. The appropriations have been made with careful discrimination and with great regret that many worthy and needy churches are compelled to find temporary relief elsewhere until such a time as the Board shall be able to confirm and pay their appropriations.

"THE SEATTLE PLAN."

Respecting exceptional cases where extraordinary aid is required, the General Assembly of 1911 (Minutes, pages 124, 125) adopted the following recommendations of its Standing Committee:

That the Presbyteries needing aid in buying lots and building under exceptionally severe conditions, be advised to co-operate with the Board in raising special church extension funds as approved by the General Assembly of 1910.

This action has reference to the Seattle Plan (see Minutes of 1910, pages 182-185).

The Seattle Plan has the merit of providing for all exceptional cases with money specially contributed and designated for the purpose.

Pursuant to that action of the General Assembly, the Board invited all Presbyteries to unite with it in creating such special funds in the manner provided.

Only nine Presbyteries expressed a desire for such a fund. But none of these has found occasion to enter into the plan.

All the other Presbyteries that responded approved the plan, but were contented with the existing provisions of the Board.

REVISION OF THE RULES.

The Board received from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly a communication containing the following resolution of the General Assembly:

Resolved, That the Board of Church Erection be instructed to revise its Rules under the direction of the Executive Commission.

Under this resolution, the Board received from the Executive Commission directions "to revise the rules so as to provide more liberal grants from the General Fund and larger loans from the Loan Fund." In transmitting its directions, the Executive Commission expressed its judgment "that it will be entirely possible for the Board of Church Erection Fund, without impairing its integrity and with only a slight modification of its rules to meet the present demands of the Church."

In accordance with these instructions, the Board prepared a paper which was amended and approved by the Executive Commission, and is presented to the General Assembly as the report on revision of the rules:

Whilst the rules heretofore restricting the action of the Board and formulated by the various Assemblies are wise and judicious in themselves and have been wisely and faithfully administered by the Board, and believing that they should be continued in general as the Code of rules for the future action of the Board, yet for the purpose of assisting the Board to deal with cases where the fulfillment of the conditions heretofore required by the Assembly's rules is believed by the Board to be unwise or impossible to carry into effect, the Board of the Church Erection Fund is hereby authorized in such cases to use its discretion in making loans or grants from the income of the fund now or hereafter in the Treasury of the Board for securing lots, and erecting chapels and houses of worship, under such conditions or rules as shall seem to it wise; but this permission shall not be taken as the ordinary, but as an exceptional rule for the Board's action.

Be it further resolved, that whilst the Board should not run in debt, yet it is expected by the Assembly that the yearly interest on its funds shall be carefully and fully placed on church or manse properties, after deducting the ordinary expenses of the Board therefrom.

PLACE OF CHURCH ERECTION IN THE ECONOMY OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The church edifice is the material nucleus around which the spiritual elements gather and take on their permanent shape.

Every congregation that is comfortably housed becomes a source of helpfulness to the causes of the Church. Its house of worship becomes a rallying place where the organic life of the Church is maintained and where every department of work is considered, where the contributions are gathered for their treasuries and where the youth of the Church are trained for the Master's service. A very large proportion of our pastors and Home and Foreign missionaries come from homes that were erected by the assistance of this Board. Thus it sustains a close and vital relation with every Board and agency of the Church.

LITERATURE.

During the year the Board published six leaflets which were distributed in generous quantities throughout the Church. They were, the "Annual Leaflet," "Church Erection Catechism," "Functions of the Funds," "Ventilation," "A Town without a Church," and "We Built Them a Church."

In addition to this literature, the Board has fully occupied the space allotted to it in the Assembly Herald.

SYNODS AND PRESBYTERIES.

The Board desires to express its appreciation of the helpful co-operation of Standing Committees on Church Erection of the Synods and Presbyteries. It has felt free to call upon them for advice in regard to applications which sometimes reach the office. It relies upon them for aid in protecting its property interests when aided churches disband or are dissolved, and in furthering the interests of the common cause in every way.

VARIOUS FUNCTIONS.

The records, files and correspondence of the Board are always open to the inspection of the Assembly's Commission, Committees and other agents; and the experience of the Board in administering its affairs is always available to those who seek its counsel.

The Board is most keenly conscious of the need of wise discrimination in making its appropriations for the best interests of the churches that seek aid.

The Board offers its counsel in the selection of designs for church buildings and manses and the management of building enterprises. It has been of service in perfecting titles, correcting deeds and guarding against losses by fire.

Congregations frequently find that they have exceeded their resources and subjected their property to mechanics' liens, from the perils of which the Board's Funds have hitherto been protected by the far-seeing wisdom of the General Assembly in the instructions and limitations which it has provided for the Board, the terms upon which it is at liberty to make appropriations, and the stage of advancement at which it is at liberty to make its payments. But in spite of this foresight, churches are sometimes unwisely located and often their property deteriorates in value because of changing populations so that it is impossible to recover even the $\frac{1}{3}$ of the cost which the Board has granted. This evil might be, to some extent, abated if Presbyteries or their Committees on Church Erection would exercise the most careful oversight of the business of church building and use the greatest discrimination in endorsing applications.

If small villages are sometimes "over-churched," as is frequently alleged, it cannot be the fault of the Board of Church Erection, since the churches are organized and located before their applications for aid in building are prepared. From the nature of the case, the Board's responsibility is minimized by the fact that its place is in the rear of the advancing armies of conquest.

RESPONSIBILITY.

The Board faces a future of constantly enlarging work. It must accept its full share of the responsibility for aiding and encouraging congregations in the rapidly developing West. The wise provision of the Assembly by which all grants and loans are secured against alienation has resulted in the Board's holding mortgages to the amount of $3,107,000 on grants and non-interest-bearing loans, and on interest-bearing loans $454,489, a total of $3,561,489, and insurance policies numbering about 6,000 and covering the mortgage interests.

These important trusts involve a constant oversight of the field, so that in case of the abandonment of the work or the dissolution of the congregation the invested funds may be safeguarded. A constant vigilance is required to insure the collection of annual payments and interest on loans from churches assisted, and the premiums upon insurance from the congregations protected.

As the Board understands it, the purpose of the rules is to balance, as nearly as possible, the receipts and expenditures and to regulate the appropriations so that the income of the Board shall be justly and wisely distributed among the aid-receiving churches throughout the country. It must be borne in mind that the Board cannot give what it does not possess, but it has other ways of helping on the business of the Church at large.

THE OUTLOOK.

The rapidly increasing demand upon the Board has a manifold significance. It is indicative of national growth and material prosperity. It speaks with emphasis of the advancing movements of our beloved Church which, moving in harmony and good fellowship with other branches of the Church of Christ, points to the progress of the Master's Kingdom. We may rejoice and take courage for a larger future. But the question forces itself upon the Board, how is the demand to be met?

The following estimates prepared by our Treasurer presents a serious financial problem:

These statements press upon us with emphasis the question, how is the demand to be met?

There is but one rational answer to the question. That answer is, by increased contributions from the churches and individuals. The resources of the Board from invested funds, legacies from those who preceded us, have been taxed to the utmost. As the income from these funds is the most steady and reliable source, they should be greatly increased. But we cannot wait for legacies. They are uncertain, and when they come will be needed to meet the still growing requirements of the future. The present demand can be met only by the living source of supply, the Church and its membership who know the value of the work and see and feel the great burden that is laid upon the shoulders of its servant, the Board.

For the last ten years the annual contributions of the Church to this Board have advanced but $10,300, i.e., from $59,300 to $69,500—only 8.8 per cent.—while the demands have increased from $246,626.50 to $443,948—55.5 per cent.

May the Board assume that it has the co-operation of the Church whose servant it is and whose boundaries it helps to extend? Hitherto the Board has felt its way cautiously, it has hesitated to hold out encouragement in advance to those who have made anxious inquiries. It was not sure of the support of the churches. May it not speak henceforth more confidently, relying upon timely help?

And while the Board confides in the churches, will not the churches confide in the Board?

The General Assembly's Executive Commission has given careful and sympathetic attention to the growing demands which press so persistently upon the Board, and has urged an increase upon all former contributions. It is easier under the "every-member-weekly-pledge," which the Budget Plan suggests, to make a systematic and proportionate advance than under any other known system.

The official term of the following, named members expires at this time, and it devolves upon the Assembly to fill their places for the ensuing term of three years:

MINISTERS.

Rev. Anson P. Atterbury, D.D.,
Rev. Wm. Russell Bennett, D.D.,
Rev. David R. Frazer, D.D.,
Rev. John S. Zelig, D.D.

ELDERS.

D. Stuart D. Jessup, M.D.,
Charles Glatz,
Wm. H. Parsons.

Two vacancies in the class of 1914 in the membership of the Board occurred during the year, one by the resignation of the Rev. Frederick Campbell, Sc.D., the other by the death of the Rev. Charles J. Young, D.D. These vacancies were filled by the election of the Rev. Newell Woolsey Wells, of the Presbytery of Brooklyn, and the Rev. Robert B. Beattie, of the Presbytery of Morris and Orange. These elections await confirmation by the General Assembly.

LOCAL CHURCH ERECTION.

The General Assembly of 1911 recommended:

That Presbyteries conducting local Church Erection work be instructed to maintain a vital connection with the Board of Church Erection by contributing to the Board in addition to the amounts contributed to the local work, and to make a summarized statement of their work to the Board of Church Erection.

Many of the Presbyteries have conducted local Church

Erection work, notably Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, New York, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, and Seattle.

Baltimore has assisted 15 churches at an expenditure of $15,677.83.

New York carried on all the Extension work within its bounds at an expenditure of $232,530.31 without assistance of any kind from the Board.

Kansas City has aided 7 churches at an actual expenditure of $9,238.93—with additional pledges of assistance amounting to $5,557.50—a total of $14,796.43.

The Board is not in possession of definite data from the other Presbyteries.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FREDERICK G. BURNHAM, President.

DUNCAN J. McMILLAN, Secretary.

Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Church Erection.

Your Committee on the "Board of the Church Erection Fund" would respectfully report:

We have examined the minutes of the Board and find them correct. The Report of the Treasurer, also, has been gone over with care and is found correct.

The Board mourns the loss of Rev. Dr. Charles J. Young, who, after a faithful service of seventeen years, was called to his reward.

The Report of the Board records a year's work of extraordinary largeness and complexity well done, though the Board is obliged to state that "the demands have so far exceeded the resources that application for sums aggregating $80,500, which have been approved, await the income of another year for confirmation. The appropriations have been made with careful discrimination and with great regret that many worthy and needy churches are compelled to find temporary relief elsewhere until such a time as the Board shall be able to confirm and pay their appropriations."

All overtures relating to the Board of the Church Erection Fund were referred by the Assembly to the Executive Commission, and not until yesterday were they handed by the Commission to this Committee. Meanwhile, believing that the matter of most of the overtures was involved in the Report of the Board, your Committee asked a conference with the Executive Commission, which was readily granted. Later a Conference was held with the Representatives of the Board. These Conferences revealed the fact that the Committees' proposed recommendations were in substantial accord with the views of the Board's Representatives and also with the conclusions of the Executive Commission. For this reason the Standing Committee makes no report on the overtures separate from that of the Executive Commission, but gives to that report its endorsement.

With this explanation of the absence of any recommendations concerning the matters referred to in the overtures, the Committee makes the following routine recommendations:

1. That the minutes of the Board be approved.
2. That the Report of the Treasurer be approved.
3. That the Board be commended for its diligence and fidelity in the discharge of its work.
4. That the following members of the Board, whose term of service expires in May, 1912, be reappointed: Ministers—Rev. Anson P. Atterbury, D.D., Rev. William Russell Bennett, Rev. David R. Frazer, D.D., Rev. John S. Zelig, D.D.; Elders—D. Stuart, D. Jessup, M.D., Charles Glatz, and William H. Parsons; and that in pursuance of the special resolution of the General Assembly the following persons from the West be added to the membership of the Board:

Class of 1913—Rev. John H. Boyd, D.D., Portland, Oregon; Mr. E. C. Sringer, St. Paul, Minn.

Class of 1914—Rev. J. Frank Smith, D.D., Dallas, Texas; Mr. W. N. Casby, Birmingham, Ala.

Class of 1915—Rev. Robert B. A. McBride, D.D., Leavenworth, Kas.; Mr. H. P. Crowell, Chicago, Ill.

5. That all our churches, those receiving aid and others, be urged, in view of the constantly increasing demands upon the Board, to enlarge their gifts to the cause of Church Erection.

6. That the Assembly hear, in connection with this report, the Rev. Duncan J. McMillan, D.D., the Corresponding Secretary of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. BEATTIE JENNINGS, Chairman.

Amended Report of the Executive Commission Concerning the Board of Church Erection.

Presented to the General Assembly, May 23, 1912.

The Assembly recognizes the faithful and efficient service of the Board of Church Erection, under the rules which the Assembly, from time to time, has provided for the Board's guidance; but, believing that the time has come for modifying these rules and limitations imposed by the Assembly, and under which the Board has hitherto acted, now in order to enable the Board to meet the reasonable requirements of exceptional cases, be it resolved:

"That whilst the rules heretofore restricting the action of the Board, and formulated by the various Assemblies, are wise and judicious in themselves and have been wisely and faithfully administered by the Board, and believing that they should be continued in general as the Code of Rules for the future action of the Board, yet for the purpose of assisting the Board to deal with cases where the fulfillment of the conditions heretofore required by the Assembly's rule is believed by the Board to be unwise or impossible to carry into effect, the Board of the Church Erection Fund is hereby authorized in such cases to use its discretion in making loans or grants from the income of the fund now or hereafter in the treasury of the Board, for securing lots, and erecting chapels and houses of worship, under such conditions or rules as shall seem to it wise; but this permission shall not be taken as the ordinary, but as an exceptional rule for the Board's action.

"Be it further resolved, That whilst the Board should not run in debt, yet it is expected by the Assembly that the yearly interest on its funds shall be carefully and fully placed on church or manse properties, after deducting the ordinary expenses of the Board therefrom."

The Executive Commission recommends:

1. That the General Assembly approve the preceding statement and adopt its recommendations as the action of the General Assembly.

2. That the General Assembly, under the authority conferred upon it by the amended Charter of the Board of Church Erection, elect six additional members of the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., to be chosen, under the terms of the Charter, from the West, and that the Standing Committee on Church Erection be instructed to nominate to this Assembly six persons for such election.

3. That the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. is hereby authorized and directed, if the way be legally clear, to set apart from the moneys received from the John S. Kennedy Estate $500,000, to constitute the John S. Kennedy Loan Fund, to be loaned to churches subject to the rules which now control the Loan Fund, or such as may be established by the General Assembly; and that the Executive Commission be authorized and directed to act with the said Board of the Church Erection Fund in the preparation of such rules.

4. That the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. be and is hereby authorized and directed to make investments of its fund, known as the John S. Kennedy Fund, if the way be legally clear, in loans to the Presbyterian churches in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., upon such security as in the judgment of the Board is sufficient fully to secure the same.

5. That the action of the General Assembly of 1910, so far as it conflicts with these resolutions, is hereby rescinded.

6. That the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. be and is hereby authorized in its discretion to place church contributions, legacies and other gifts of money received by it, which are not otherwise designated, into a fund that, in distinction from the General Fund, shall be known as the Special Fund, which may be used by the Board, as part of its regular work, for the purchase of sites for the erection of church buildings in special and exceptional cases arising from applications from feeble churches connected with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

7. That the Executive Commission be empowered to do any and all things necessary to secure the full carrying out of this action of the Assembly.

8. That the General Assembly reminds the churches and Presbyteries that the demands on the Church Erection Fund are likely to be largely increased to meet the pressing needs of our rapidly expanding population, and that the Board of the Church Erection Fund will have a most delicate and difficult task to determine the just distribution of the funds at their disposal, which will be far from adequate to satisfy all the reasonable appeals which will come to them; and that the General Assembly, furthermore, urges all churches and Presbyteries to use the utmost care and wisdom in considering the entire national situation, and in exercising forbearance from pressing unduly their local interests, in the hope that further contributions from our churches and gifts and bequests from individual benefactors may be received to increase the ability of the Church Erection Fund to meet the grave situation that confronts our Church in its efforts toward an expansion commensurate with the nation's growth.

9. That the General Assembly hereby authorizes and empowers the Board of the Church Erection Fund to employ a Field Secretary in the general interests of the Board.

NEW YORK

APRIL 29, 1912.

*Finance Committee,
Presbyterian Board of Church Election,
New York City.*

GENTLEMEN:

We have completed our examination of the accounts of your Treasurer for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1912.

The Railroad and New York City securities, as shown in the statement herewith, were examined in the Mercantile Safe Deposit Vaults on April 24, 1912.

The cash in office and bank balances were verified. The investment mortgages and church mortgages, securing interest-bearing loans belonging to all Funds, were inspected by us and found to be in order. All disbursements for the period, except those represented by outstanding bank checks at March 31, 1912, were verified by canceled bank checks or properly approved vouchers.

The Assets appearing in the Treasurer's statement of "Assets Protecting Special Funds" were examined and found correct and in accordance with the records. We submit herewith a Balance Sheet at March 31, 1912, and certify that it correctly represents the financial condition of the Board as shown by the Books.

Respectfully yours,

SUFFERN & SON,
Certified Public Accountants.

The Board has elected, subject to your approval, Rev. C. E. Hayes, D.D., of the Synod of Arkansas, and Rev. E. E. Morris, D.D., of the Synod of Arkansas, to succeed themselves in office as corporate members until 1915.

The Board has confined its efforts entirely to collecting outstanding loans due the Church Erection Fund, and to the disposition of some real estate properties.

Only one Church Erection claim has been settled in full during the year—that of Marlow, Okla. Suit was brought and the mortgage foreclosed. Others are in process of settlement.

REPORT

OF THE

Board of Directors of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund.

The Board of Directors of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund respectfully submits its Third Annual Report to the General Assembly.

The progress which this agency of our Church has made during the past year is a source of great gratification and encouragement to those upon whom the responsibility of carrying out its provisions rests. No agency of our Church during the first three years of its operations has made larger progress than this agency has made. It has fully justified the expectations of those who formulated the plan and the faith of those who welcomed it as a much-needed advance movement looking towards a better provision for the aged and disabled ministers of our Church, their widows and orphans.

The Board respectfully reports that the Executive Commission proposed to it during the fiscal year just closed a plan of federation or coöperation with the Board of Ministerial Relief. This plan involves the continuance of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund with its charter and organization as an annuity department of a Board, to be known as the "Board of Ministerial Relief and Ministerial Sustentation." With this understanding the Board agreed to said plan, subject, of course, to the approval of the General Assembly.

Since being put into operation, the Sustentation Fund has made an average growth of $10,000 a month in cash and subscriptions, over and above the necessary expenses. Besides this over forty persons of wealth have either put it in their wills or signified their purpose to do so. This in time will largely increase its permanent endowment.

The Fund is already paying 25 per cent. of the full amount of the benefits to annuitants. This percentage will be increased after May 1, 1912, to 30 per cent.

There was in the treasury of the Fund, April 1, 1912, $196,194.72 in cash and approved securities. For other financial details reference is made to the Report of the Treasurer.

The adequacy of the Table of Rates, as prepared by the President and the Actuary of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, has the endorsement of the Actuary of The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

The Board of Directors were greatly encouraged by the gift of $50,000 recently received from a generous friend of the Fund, and which the Board trusts and believes will be supplemented by other large gifts from people of means.

The following extract from a letter received from the treasurer of one of the most prominent churches in western New York and a leading business man of the place, enclosing a check for the Fund, is a fair sample of the endorsements and commendations of the Fund being constantly received:

"I will say that the members of our Committee (Session) feel that this is one of the best and most worthy objects to which they have ever had the pleasure of contributing. It commends itself to all, and is a businesslike way of handling a proposition vital to the interests of the entire Church."

The main object of this agency of the Church is to provide a permanent Fund, the interest alone of which will be used, and which will provide not only for those who are now serving in the ministry of the Church, but will continue in perpetuity to perform this noble service to all who will take up their work in the future.

Several of the other Protestant denominations have under consideration the adoption of this plan of providing for their aged and disabled servants. It has been adopted and put into effect by the Evangelical Association, one of the strong German Protestant denominations in this country. Bishop Breyfogel, of this Church, in acknowledging the assistance rendered him and his associates, by the Secretary of the Sustentation Fund, in the preparation of the plan for his denomination, says:

"I regard the Ministerial Sustentation Fund of the Presbyterian Church the best plan yet devised for the support of ministers who by reason of disability are no longer able to render regular pastoral service, and for their families. The General Conference of my own Church has just adopted the same general plan, with certain deviations in matters of detail, and for the purpose of adapting it to a different form of Church government. A number of representative laymen of our Church have already given our Fund a very substantial endorsement in the form of generous contributions."

The Rev. Dr. Adams, of Minneapolis, Minn., for more than forty years a Home Missionary, twenty-seven of which he served as a Synodical Superintendent and District Field Secretary, writes:

"Nothing can do so much to steady the nerves of the ministers of the Presbyterian Church as the knowledge that they are provided for financially, in case of accident, disease or old age.

"The Ministerial Sustentation Fund does answer the many perplexing questions that disturb the mind of the minister in his chosen life work, where there is seldom opportunity to provide against failing health or declining years."

The Board of Directors requests that the Fund receive strong endorsement in the way of reaffirmation by this General Assembly:

1. Because it is an agency of the Church, unanimously approved by the General Assembly of 1906 and succeeding Assemblies, and the Plan, which was formulated by a Special Committee appointed by the General Assembly of 1902, was submitted to three previous Assemblies for consideration and approved by them.

2. The Plan embraces the best features of the plans in successful operation in the Presbyterian Churches of Scotland, Ireland, Canada and Australia.

3. Because the Fund is an Annuity or Pension Fund and is based upon well-recognized economic principles:

- (a) That the beneficiary of any Pension Fund should be a contributor to the Fund.

- (b) That pensions should be based on length of service and a certain attained age of retirement and disability.

- (c) That a Pension Fund should operate immediately, automatically and continuously, in providing for the beneficiaries, in case of disability, old age or death, and without the humiliation of confessed want.

4. Because of the success which has so far attended the Fund, and the generous responses to the appeals made in its behalf by thousands of the liberal members of the Church. These responses are a guarantee that the Fund will accomplish the purpose for which it was established by the General Assembly, viz., to relieve the distressing financial condition in which many of our most faithful ministers find themselves, when disabled or when reaching the age of retirement, and also to relieve the pressing needs of their dependent loved ones in the event of their death.

The following resolutions are submitted for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That the Report of the Board of Directors of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund be and hereby is approved.

Resolved, 2. That this Assembly hereby expresses its gratification at the progress the Fund has made during the fiscal year just closed.

Resolved, 3. That the Secretary of the Fund is hereby directed to convey to the friend of this cause who contributed the sum of $50,000, the appreciation and thanks of this Assembly.

Resolved, 4. That the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be requested to present the following names to the annual meeting of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund to be held on the third Tuesday in June, 1912, as the names approved by this Assembly for members of the Board of Directors of said Fund for the period ending July 18, 1912: Rev. W. H. Roberts, D.D., LL.D., Rev. Robert Hunter, D.D., Rev. J. R. Sutherland, D.D., Mr. Thompson McClintock, Mr. W. P. Scott.

In behalf of the Board,

ROBERT HUNTER, President.

The undersigned, a certified public accountant, in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., hereby certifies that he has examined the accounts of William H. Roberts, Treasurer of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund, and after careful vouching as to items of charge and discharge does approve the same as correct; that he found that there was at the close of the fiscal year, March 30, 1912, investments of the par value of $186,000, costing the sum of $182,402.86, and the total cash balance as shown by said account, to wit: the sum of $13,791.86, duly deposited to the credit of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund, William H. Roberts, Treasurer, in the following banking institutions:

Fairmount Savings Trust Company, Philadelphia.....	$13,204 92
The Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia.....	586 94

CHARLES LEWER,
Certified Public Accountant.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23, 1912.

In addition to the above financial statement, the Treasurer draws attention to the fact that the above Report covers only eleven months, and that during that period $90,357.61 have been received as donations and contributions from churches and individuals; that $20,721.29 have been received in dues from members, and $4,588.65 from interest on securities and bank balances—a total of receipts for the period of $115,667.55. There are in addition in the hands of the Treasurer $148,425 in outstanding subscriptions. While these are not cash assets, yet the experience of past years shows that at least $145,000 of the amount will be promptly paid. The Fund as an agency recently established has been obliged to employ a large number of field representatives to carry on the work in an adequate manner, but the cost of management is less this year than last.

The total amount of dues received from the members from the beginning of operations has been $92,925.79, and the additional funds on hand belonging to the Endowment and Maintenance Accounts amount to $103,268.93. Only the income from the Endowment Account can be used for the general purposes of Ministerial Sustentation. Counting in simply this income along with the dues of members, and the balances of other accounts, the Fund had 33 per cent. actual available assets on April 1, 1912, to meet its 20 per cent. of legal obligations as shown by its certificates, issued to members. The Fund is a successful agency of the Church.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT LOUISVILLE, KY.,
MAY, 1912.

The Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief, through its Chairman, Rev. F. L. Hayden, D.D., presented its report, which was accepted. The Overtures Nos. 254 and 255 referred to this Committee were taken out of its hands and referred to the Committee on Polity. The Report was adopted, except the seventh Resolution, the consideration of which was deferred until action shall be taken upon the Report of the Executive Commission.

Your Committee on Ministerial Relief would present for your consideration the following Report:

1. We recognize with a sense of deep and abiding thanksgiving to Almighty God the obligations we are under to every man and movement that have, in plan or practice, endeavored to assist in the beneficent and beautiful ministry of love to our aged and disabled ministers of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. We would make special mention of those men of far vision and wise execution who have, for so many years, wrought in this blessed ministry in the Board of Ministerial Relief and the Sustentation Fund. We here record our deep appreciation of the labors of our beloved Secretary, Rev. Dr. B. L. Agnew; and express the earnest hope, mingled with our deepest sympathy with him in his present illness, that our Father will spare his precious life for many years, and that the Church may give to him that comfort which his great heart has for many years poured out for his brethren in age and weakness.

2. That Overture No. 256 from the Presbytery of Santa Fé, asking that local evangelists be aided by the Board of Ministerial Relief under similar conditions with ordained ministers, be answered as follows:

a. The terms of the charter of the Board of Ministerial Relief do not permit making any such grants.

b. The content and purpose of the overture are such as to commend it to the Committee, the Board of Relief and the Assembly, and we advise said Presbytery to seek the needed relief in a way harmonious with the existing laws governing in such cases.

3. For sixty years past our Assemblies have listened to able reports from Committees similar to this one, while the vast army of ministerial beneficiaries and their dependencies have received the blessings of life at the hands of an insufficient generosity, and sometimes of a grudging charity, and have gone into eternity. This report is not a headstone erected above these memories, nor are these words the creation of beautiful ceremonies of a revered corpse. The past year, in gathering and distributing the offerings of the Church by the hands of the Board, has not been unlike previous years, except in the increasing number of applications for aid. More than 1,200 families have eaten at this table and blest the hands that distributed the dole. One hundred and sixty-two new names were added to the roll of beneficiaries—the largest number ever added during a similar period. The Fifty-Seventh Annual Report of the Board of Relief is in your hands. Read it and ponder well its lessons. Now note this fact: During the past year the Church at large decreased its offerings to this Board slightly. This gives us our viewpoint of observation, i. e., the rapidly lengthening roll of dependencies, and the needed proportionate increase in the offerings of the Church. The insufficient support of these deserving men and their loved ones is the continued and increasing regret of the Church, but somehow, in some quarters, the matter ends in this regret. It has not yet issued in gifts sufficient to make our care of these worn-out ones anything like generous. What is $100 or $300 to one without income from another source? How can the well-fed Christian beseech the blessings of God on his bountiful table, while the specter of want sits over against his brother, the aged servant of God, as he breaks his long fast with a meager meal? This is the picture your Committee wishes you to see. This is the tragic fact your Committee wishes you to appreciate.

4. Methods of administration are not above change. Our Boards are not mummies to be placarded and revered, but living organisms, having a motive worthy of human, Christian effort, and capable of adaptation to the ever-changing conditions of our ecclesiastical life. Through our machinery, we are trying to remedy the difficulty to which your attention has been called. We have three expert hands working on the problem of a wise readjustment of our methods, and possibly of our machinery. This adjustment of its parts seems to your Committee to be necessary. The Board of Relief has its tried, successful and time-honored methods. The originators of the Sustentation Fund have formed a plan to aid in relieving the situation, and the Executive Commission is courageously, and with marked ability, trying to furnish you with a workable and satisfactory plan of adjustment.

5. Your Committee has examined the various plans proposed, but it is not within the purview of this report to discuss these plans. We would, however, suggest as follows:

a. The Board of Ministerial Relief was instituted for and for many years has been the successful trustee and dispenser of the benevolent funds of the Church, given to relieve aged and infirm ministers and their dependencies, and any change in its methods or constitution should be in the line of greater efficiency and economy in administration, as well as increased aid to the needy.

b. That these aged and beloved wards of the Church should receive from the Board aid sufficient to meet their reasonable needs that in their last days on the earth they may consciously rest in the tender care of the Church to which their strength and years have been devoted.

c. It is evident to all that some means in harmony with this spirit of tender ministry should be devised that will make it possible to increase this aid to the point of rational comfort.

d. The Sustentation Fund, in its plan and purpose, was devised to that end, and to operate in such a way as to make the recipient of that aid the beneficiary of his own industry and economy exercised during the years when his earning capacity is at its best. But confusion has been caused, so that it has become apparent to us all that some plan of coördination or combination of these two agencies is now demanded in the interest of harmony and effectiveness.

e. Your Committee, therefore, calls attention to the fact that the Executive Commission will at this time submit to you a proposed plan of adjustment or coördination and we ask for it the most careful and prayerful consideration.

6. Your Committee would recommend to the Assembly the following:

a. The Presbyterial Committee of Relief be urged to give a more careful, and at the same time sympathetic, examination of all applications for aid to the end that while all needy ones have their full share, those persons who have another income sufficient to meet their reasonable needs be deterred from asking aid from this Board.

b. That whatever form this department of the Assembly's machinery of benevolent work may have when it is submitted to you and finally adopted by you, every pastor and session give to it their hearty endorsement to the end that harmony of spirit and action may be secured throughout the Church and the larger possibilities of this Christian benevolence be speedily realized in a substantial increase, to aid to all those persons whose worthiness and inability entitle them to participate in this heavenly bounty.

c. That in a spirit of gratitude to our ever blessed Lord for the supreme honor he has conferred on us,—his unworthy ministers in the word of life, his colaborers in service and sacrifice,—we do all in our power to relieve the strain our present problems have put on us, realizing that in our complex relationships we are all the necessary parts of the great Church founded by our fathers, and that these purposes, in their last analysis, cannot be wrought out unless together we move and serve and love as brethren.

7. The term of office of four members of the Board expire with this Assembly, and we respectfully ask you to defer any action in this matter for the present.

8. That we have examined the Minutes of the Board of Relief and of the Cumberland Board of Relief, submitted by the two Secretaries, found them in perfect order, and recommend their approval.

Respectfully submitted for the Committee,

F. L. HAYDEN,

Chairman.

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A.,
MAY, 1912.

The Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief presented a supplementary Report, which was adopted and is as follows:

1. Overtures 254, 255 and 264 concerning the amendment of the Board's rule passed by the Assembly of 1889, governing the honorably retired list, being referred to this Committee, it is recommended that these overtures be answered in the affirmative.

2. In order to avoid further confusion in the interpretation of the Board's rule, it is recommended that that rule as passed by the General Assembly in 1889 does, and is intended to, include pastors' assistants, who are ordained ministers, missionaries and all other ordained ministers, who are employed by the Boards of the Church, Synods, Presbyteries or their Committees.

3. Concerning the resolution unnumbered, but referring to unordained missionaries, who have served fifteen or more years, under the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, this Committee disapproves of said resolution, and refers the Assembly to the report of this Committee, adopted by you in its answer to Overture 256.

Respectfully submitted for the Committee,

F. L. HAYDEN,

Chairman.

ANNUAL REPORT

TO THE

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

OF 1912

"THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS" respectfully presents to THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY its Annual Report for the year from April 1, 1911, to April 1, 1912.

THIS IS THE SIXTY-THIRD YEAR, since the organization of Relief Work by the General Assembly of 1849, and this is the first Annual Report having been made to the General Assembly in 1856 by the Trustees of the Assembly.

THE FIFTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WORK,

The Book of Minutes of the proceedings of the Board for the year 1911-1912 is also herewith presented.

THE ROLL.

The Board had upon its roll for the year ending March 31st, 1912, 1,251 names: 520 ministers, 650 widows, 37 orphan families, 14 women missionaries, 17 guests in The Merriam Home at Newton, N. J., and 13 guests at The Thornton Home, under the care of the Board, at Evansville, Ind. This is the largest number the Board has ever had upon its roll.

During the year, 162 new names were added to the roll. This is the largest number of new names ever added to the roll in any year of the history of the Board. These comprised 90 ministers, 63 widows, 5 orphans, 1 woman missionary and 3 guests at The Merriam Home.

There have been 225 ministers on the Roll of Honor during the past year. Their average age is over 78 years, and the average time they have been in the ministry has been 49 years. Thirty-four of these have been added during the year just closed, and 20 of these venerable men have died.

Since the Rule of 1889, relating to Honorably Retired Ministers, was adopted, 559 ministers have availed themselves of its privileges.

The appropriations to men on the Roll of Honor during the year was $76,975, being an average of $342, as all of the Honorably Retired Ministers did not ask for the maximum amount of $350.

There is a large number of retired ministers in our Church who have very small incomes, and who should have considerably more to live upon than they now receive, but when they realize the suffering there is among their brethren, they do not ask for any support from the Board of Relief. They, in a true spirit of brotherhood and magnanimity, practically say to the Board, distribute the limited amount of money you receive to the families of our brethren who need the help of the Board more than we do.

DEATHS.

Seventy-seven of those upon the roll passed away during the year: 47 ministers and 28 widows. Two ministers died at The Merriam Home.

AVERAGE APPROPRIATIONS.

The average amount appropriated to ministers on the Roll of Honor during the year was $342.

The average amount appropriated to all the ministers on the roll of the Board was $283.

RECEIPTS FOR THE ENDOWMENT FUND.

During the past year the Board received for the Endowment Fund $35,127.25.

The Board is very glad to report to the General Assembly that the past year has been one of the best and most encouraging years in the history of its work. Whilst there have been 162 additions to the roll, the largest number it has ever had in any one year, and the whole number on the roll has been 1,251, the largest number ever on the roll, the receipts have been much larger than usual, and the Board has been enabled to pay all appropriations promptly and in full every month as payments have fallen due.

The Board has therefore every reason to be greatly encouraged in the vitally important work committed to it by the General Assembly.

February 15, 1912.

The Special Committee, viz.: Messrs. Lowrie and Heberton, appointed to confer with Dr. Alexander Henry, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, respecting Overtures from the Presbytery of Pembina and the Synod of North Dakota, referred by the General Assembly of May, 1911, to the said Board and to the Board of Ministerial Relief, respectfully report:

That conference was had with Dr. Henry. On the part of the Board of Relief, your Committee represented that this Board judges, that Colporteurs and Mission Laborers under the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work who are laymen, and who become disabled, cannot be aided by this Board. As for the laborers under the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work who are ministers, these have the same claims on this Board that other ministers have.

On the part of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, Dr. Alexander Henry said that the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work deferred in this matter to the judgment of the Board of Relief.

What the Board of Relief has done since it was organized in 1876 until 1912:

1. It has relieved 27,220 families.
2. Its current expenditures have been..... $5,702,560.21
3. Of every dollar contributed to the current fund, about 96 cents went for relief.
4. There are 225 ministers on the Roll of Honor.

The hope of the Board of Relief is that if it continues to be the distinct agent that it is those now paid $350, under its rules, will in the near future be paid $400, and that by wills now filed its Permanent Fund will be increased by about $300,000.

While it is believed that since the organization of the Board in 1876, no applicant coming within the rules of the Board has been denied aid, it is certainly true that this has been the case for the last 25 years.

The foregoing report was approved by the Board of Relief.

DIRECTORS TO BE ELECTED.

The term of the following Directors expires at this meeting of the Assembly:

REV. SAMUEL T. LOWRIE, D.D.

REV. PHILIP H. MOWRY, D.D.

HENRY L. DAVIS, Esq.
(Vacancy.)

Robert H. Smith, Esq., resigned on account of ill health.

Four Directors are to be elected at this meeting to fill their places.

RESPECTING THE RECOMMENDATION TO RAISE ADDITIONAL ENDOWMENT OF TEN MILLION DOLLARS APPROVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1911.

Before remarking directly on this subject, it is expedient to note occurrences respecting increase of the Board's endowment that preceded 1911.

I. In its Annual Report, 1902, the Board urged an increase of its endowment; and the Assembly of 1902 "commended it to the churches for an additional endowment of $1,000,000; and authorized it, if it deemed advisable, to appoint special representatives to secure the proposed increase." The same Assembly, however, began the efforts that led to the institution of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund. Consequently, the Board "thought, at that time, that it was not advisable to appoint special representatives, lest its representatives might interfere or even seem to interfere with the Special Committee on Sustentation" (Report of 1909). It did, however, what it could to get contributions to its Permanent Fund, by correspondence and circulars sent through the post office.

In 1908 the Presbytery of Cincinnati overtured the Assembly to take steps to increase the endowment of the Board by $4,000,000. This was prompted by the fact that the Board had stated to precedent Assemblies that, with its endowment increased to $6,000,000, the Board could pay honorably retired ministers $500 a year and widows $300. That Assembly (1908) "approved the purpose of the overture, and referred it to the Board of Ministerial Relief to report to the next Assembly as to any method of securing the desired end." By that time agents of the Fund were busy among the churches; consequently the Board reported to the Assembly of 1909 that: "The Board of Relief has not deemed it advisable to appoint special representatives to secure the proposed increase of its Permanent Fund, as it has not thought it wise to have agents for the two causes in the field at the same time. If, however, the General Assembly thinks it advisable for the Board of Relief to send out special representatives at the present time, it will gladly and promptly do so." (Report, 1909.)

The Assembly of 1909, by approving the report of its Standing Committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief, encouraged the Board to make special efforts to increase its Permanent Fund to $6,000,000. The Board began to do so, and so reported to the Assembly of 1910, and that Assembly urged all ministers and churches "to enlist their people in the campaign to enlarge the Endowment Fund of the Board," and "approved the overtures from several of the Presbyteries asking for a wide movement in the whole church to raise the Endowment Fund by at least $6,000,000." But the same Assembly of 1910 considered and referred to the Executive Commission the question of consolidation of the Boards and other agencies of the Church, which specifically included unifying the Board of Ministerial Relief and the Ministerial Sustentation Fund.

To the Assembly of 1911, the Board reported that it "had been organizing the work for a wide movement throughout the Church"; that "in response to the request of the Board, 1,400 Sessions had appointed committees to aid it in a church-wide work." But the report added that it had found the time unfavorable for inaugurating the movement, "For our Field Representatives have found that many pastors are unwilling to have their churches canvassed by them immediately after the agents of the Sustentation Fund have canvassed them." The Board had appointed a few special representatives to secure the proposed increase of its Permanent Fund.

But the Board was even more hampered in its efforts by reason of the movement made to consolidate the Board and the Sustentation Fund. While such consolidation was the question, nothing effective could be done to get contributions to endowment of the Board. On the other hand, the Board was so occupied in dealing with that question that it could give little attention to collections.

The Board's correspondence with the Sub-Committee of the Executive Commission, on the subject of consolidation, was printed in its Report of 1911, pp. 14-17. It showed that there are legal obstacles to consolidation that are insurmountable, and that many and very serious embarrassments would attend consolidation. Eventually consolidation was given up.

But the Commission proceeded, instead, to devise a plan of federating the Board and the Fund. The account of that, and the account, which now begins, of The Recommendation to raise $10,000,000 additional Endowment for the Board, must be recited together.

II. The Executive Commission recommended to the Assembly of 1911: "Plans of Rearrangement . . . so as to bring 'Related Boards,' etc., under one General Control" (Minutes 1911, pp. 155-158). It proposed three Federated Groups. Groups aI and bII concerned other Boards. The Assembly at first adopted the plans of federating these; but subsequently took action to the contrary. "b. Federated Group No. III" proposed: "That the management and administration of the Board of Ministerial Relief and of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund be federated and unified" (Blue Book 1911, pp. 140). The Assembly rejected this proposition; and did this at the same session and time that it adopted aI and bII (Minutes 1911, p. 51 and p. 157). The Assembly thereby expressed, that it was its will and intention that the Board of Relief should continue to be the distinct agent of the Church that it has been and is. The Assembly also signified the finality of this its will and intention, by its subsequent action respecting the Report of the Commission on "Rearrangement of Boards," etc., so far as the same had been adopted by the Assembly. The action reads as follows:

10. That the above Report and recommendations be The General Assembly's answer to all the overtures and recommendations from any and every source which have been referred to the Executive Commission on the subject of consolidation or kindred matters. (Minutes 1911, p. 158.)

There was an "Overture No. 241, from the Presbytery of Mahoning asking the General Assembly to effect a consolidation of the Board of Ministerial Relief and the Ministerial Sustentation Fund at the earliest possible date" (Minutes 1911, p. 52). This was referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures, which reported on it Friday, A. M., May 26 (next to the last day of the Assembly) as follows:

We recommend that in view of the action of the Assembly already taken, this Overture be answered in the negative.

The Assembly adopted the report (Minutes, p. 131).

"The action of the Assembly," refers to the action taken May 20 (Minutes, p. 51) when the Assembly rejected the recommendation of the Commission that proposed the federation of the Board and the Fund. By that action the Assembly had expressed its will that the Board is to continue as it is; and it answered the request of the Overture accordingly.

That it was the will and intention of the Assembly to have the Board of Relief continue distinct as it is, appears plainly intimated by the action it took respecting the Recommendation of its Standing Committee on the Board of Relief, viz.: That an additional endowment of $10,000,000 be raised for the Board; and That a campaign of five years' effort to do this be promptly begun.

This Recommendation does not appear in the printed Minutes of the Assembly of 1911; only traces of the Recommendation are to be found there, on p. 63 and p. 207. The Assembly referred it to the Executive Commission.

In order to understand the Resolution of Reference one must know what was referred. The Board requested of the Stated Clerk of the Assembly, and promptly received from him, an attested copy of the Recommendation, which reads as follows:

Your Committee, to whom was referred Resolution No. 3, begs leave to say, that, in its judgment, the time has come to make a definite and aggressive campaign for the purpose of ultimately securing adequate endowment to provide a reasonable honorarium for every retired minister, his widow or family. Further, we believe that the Presbyterian Church is large enough, wealthy enough and willing enough to make the proper and needful provision for her ministers. Therefore, we recommend:

(a) That the General Assembly approve the raising of an additional endowment of $10,000,000, instead of $6,000,000.

(b) That the work be undertaken in earnest and at once, and that a committee of seven, five of whom shall be laymen, to serve for five years, without salary, be appointed by the Moderator, to have supervision of this campaign.

(c) That this Committee be empowered to employ an efficient agent, or agents, at an adequate salary, looking to the consummation of this undertaking within five years.

(d) That this Committee and Agent have the zealous coöperation of the whole Church, and that each Commissioner of the General Assembly be requested to take up this matter with his Presbyterial Committee on Relief and render all possible assistance in securing the contemplated amount.

(e) That this Committee shall make report each year, and should a vacancy occur, the same be filled by the Executive Commission.

The Resolution of Reference reads as follows:

Resolved, That the supplementary Report, involving Section 3 of the report of the Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief, be referred to the Executive Commission, with power to act, and that the Board of Ministerial Relief and the Board of Sustentation be instructed to appear before the Executive Commission and present their respective claims; and that the Executive Commission be instructed to arrange a plan of campaign by which there will be no conflict of the two Boards, no clashing of agents in the field, and that the work may be successfully done by both agencies in equity to both, and that peace and harmony may remain. (Minutes 1911, p. 207.)

Comparing now the above Recommendation and the Resolution of Reference:

The Recommendation relates exclusively to what concerns the Board. Its reference to Presbyterial Committees on Relief proves that no other agent is meant. Its expression, "the raising of an additional endowment of $10,000,000 instead of $6,000,000," reflects the precedent aspirations of Assemblies, Presbyteries, etc., expressed successively by One Million, then Four Million, then Six Million, to be raised as addition to the Permanent Fund of the Board. Its plan of a five-year campaign of effort to be supervised by a Special Committee of Seven, assumes the continuance of the Board as the distinct agent of the Church that it now is; and not merely for five years to come, but for all the time that must belong to the administration of the Trust already confided to it, and that this plan proposed so greatly to augment. The Recommendation was presented to the Assembly and entertained by it after the Assmby had rejected the proposed Federation of the Board and the Fund, and had otherwise expressed the finality of its will and intention that the Board shall continue as it is. Thus the fact, that the Recommendation was made, and that the Assembly entertained it, was another expression of the said finality of its will.

Conclusive evidence of the same is the fact, that in the last day's session of the Assembly the following was adopted:

Resolved, That the Moderator is authorized to name the seven members of the Special Committee to raise $10,000,000 in five years, at his convenience, after the Executive Commission shall have approved the recommendations of the Special Committee on Ministerial Relief. Minutes (1911, p. 250.)

The Resolution of Reference, correspondingly interpreted refers to the Board and to the Fund as agencies that are to continue to be distinct. As such they were "to appear before the Commission"; were to "present their respective claims," and "Harmony to remain" in doing their work was to be secured by the Commission. The special task of the Commission was, "to arrange a plan of campaign," viz.: the campaign proposed by the Recommendation, so that "there will be no conflict" of the Board and the Fund, "no clashing of agents in the field." It has been shewed above, that there has been no actual clashing of agents in the field; but that the Board, from the beginning of the Fund, felt the effects of conflicting interests in the two agencies, and on that account, for nine years abstained from putting "agents in the field"; except that in the last of the said years it appointed two; expecting, however, that the trial would prove, that this cannot be done without "clashing of agents." It so turned out, and the Board so reported to the Assembly (see I above). Under these circumstances, it is reasonable to suppose, that the instructions to the Commission intended, that the proposed campaign should be so arranged that, while the Special Committee supervising it would not be hampered as the Board has been, it would still conduct the campaign in a way equitable to the Fund. In the clause "that the (their) work may be successfully done by both agencies," "the work" cannot mean the work of the campaign; for that is assigned to the Special Committee of Seven. Perhaps the clause ought to read "their work"; which would mean, each its distinctive work.

The foregoing account shows that the Assembly of 1911 decided and made very plain, (a) that the Board is to continue a distinct agency of the Church, and (b) that a five-year campaign to raise $10,000,000 for the Board's Permanent Fund must be promptly undertaken.

These actions of the Assembly were hailed with much delight and with very grateful emotions by the Board. In order to be prepared for the conference it was directed to have with the Commission it promptly undertook the task of devising how it could coöperate in the proposed campaign.

It may be stated here, that eventually, in a paper prepared with much care and pains, the Board sent to the Commission a statement of what the Board thought it ought to do or could do. And the communication was acknowledged.

III. Agreeably to the Resolution of Reference, the Commission conferred with the Board and the Fund; this was chiefly by a committee of its own members. This account will speak only of the Commission; by which is also to be understood the Commission's Committee.

By a letter dated July 10, 1911, the Board was informed that "The Executive Commission at a meeting held June 22, 1911, adopted the following":

Resolved, That under the general powers of the Commission as laid down by the General Assembly . . . a Committee of five be appointed to . . . consider the whole matter of the general relation between the Board of Ministerial Relief and the Sustentation Fund, and to report at the next meeting of the Commission."

In the conferences that followed the letter, it became plain that the Commission had judged that it was its duty to effect, if possible, the Federation of the Board and the Fund. The Commission restricted the conferences to considering the feasibility of Federation. On the part of the Board it was objected that the Commission was not authorized by the Assembly to do anything about federating the Board and the Fund; but that it was instructed to arrange the campaign for raising additional endowment for the Board. The Commission, however, in the letter of July 10, quoted above, had announced that it relied on "the general powers of the Executive Commission laid down by the General Assembly," some of which it quoted as being pertiment. Accordingly, in the conferences, though it listened courteously to objections, it replied that it had fully considered and determined the matter. It was at pains also to represent that due regard for the instructions of the Resolution of Reference dictated the course it pursued.

Ultimately the Commission sent to the Board a draft of a Plan of Federation. In a conference held February 10, 1912, the Commission informed the Board that it was the purpose of the Commission to propose the said Plan to the Assembly of 1912 for its adoption. Invitation was given, however, to suggest amendments of the Plan, or to suggest another plan.

The Reply of the Board to the above communication was as follows:

Resolved 1st, That the Board of Ministerial Relief acknowledges the courtesy of the Sub-Committee of the Executive Commission in presenting to it the draft of a plan of Federation of the Presbyterian Board of Ministerial Relief and the Ministerial Sustentation Fund, which the Board is informed, it is proposed to present to the General Assembly of 1912, as the report of the Executive Commission.

Resolved 2d, That the Board of Relief, on its part, respectfully represents to the Executive Commission, that, before the recent conferences with the Committee of the Executive Commission, the Board understood that the general Assembly of May, 1911, intended, (1) That the Board of Relief shall continue to be the distinct Agent that it is; and (2) That effort should be made to add to its Endowment $10,000,000; and (3) That the Executive Commission should mature the plan of a campaign of five years' effort that had been recommended to the General Assembly; and (4) That the Moderator should appoint the seven members of the Special Committee to supervise the effort, as the plan had recommended.

Moreover the Board continues still to have the same understanding of the will and intention of the General Assembly of May, 1911. Accordingly, the Board of Relief judges that it is precluded from doing anything that aims at Federation of the Board with the Sustentation Fund, such Federation having been rejected by the said Assembly, and conflicting with the evident intention of that Assembly, that the Board shall continue to be the distinct Agent of the Church that it is.

Resolved 3d, That the Executive Commission, however, has judged, that it is its duty to attempt to bring about the said Federation, and has drawn the Board into conferences on that subject; and has itself drafted a Plan of Federation and invited the Board to concur in recommending it to the General Assembly of May, 1912.

While, for the reasons already stated, the Board judges that it is precluded from participating in any effort to federate it with the Fund, yet out of proper respect for the Executive Commission, the Board respectfully submits, that, after a careful examination of the Plan proposed by the Sub-Committee, it sees such serious objections to a number of its provisions, that it finds itself unable to approve the Plan.

The actual situation did not admit of more than the above brief reply, Because:

1. The Commission requested the concurrence of the Board in the Plan proposed, and invited only suggestions of amendments to it, or the proposal of some other Plan of federation. Neither of these could the Board do, understanding the Will of the Assembly of 1911 as it did. Moreover the Board rejoiced that the Assembly intended the Board to continue the distinct agent that it is. In other words, the Board deprecates federating it by any plan.

2. Although it was proper that the Board should consider the Plan, and give its reasons for disapproving it, and this presented a way in which the Board, by giving reasons against a particular plan of federation, might so far set forth reasons valid against any plan; still there was not left time for formulating such reasons in the reply made to the Commission through its committee; still less was there opportunity for conferences with the Commission about the reasons that might be presented.

The Board of Ministerial Relief has attentively considered the reasons that have been given for unifying its work with that of The Ministerial Sustentation Fund. Though it judges that unification of the administrations of these two distinct bodies is impracticable, it sees as plainly as others that the work of the two agencies is so closely related that it is hardly possible for them not to appear to the churches to be rival agencies. The Board has always believed that it might undertake substantially the work proposed to be done by the Sustentation Fund, if the liberality of the Church in support of the Board would encourage it to do so. The pressure of the present circumstances has led the Board to believe that it is now expedient to propose plans whereby this may be done. It therefore respectfully submits to the General Assembly for its approval and adoption of the additions to the functions such work of the Board as set forth in the following Plans:

PROPOSITION FOR A PLAN BY WHICH MINISTERS MAY MAKE A CONTRIBUTION TO THE BOARD OF RELIEF, TOWARD THEIR MAINTENANCE IN OLD AGE AND WHEN SUFFERING DISABILITY.

1. That an endeavor be made by the Board of Relief to induce every minister, who is in a condition of health satisfactory to the Board, and not over sixty years of age, to contribute to the Board an annual sum (say a sum at least equal to one per cent. of his salary, or any greater sum that he may desire to contribute.)

2. That all such contributions be put into a separate fund by the Board, to be called the Ministers' Foundation, and all the interest earnings of the fund be added to the principal and be reinvested.

3. All contributions made by the ministers, as provided in Rule 1, shall be absolute gifts by such minister to the Board for the cause of Ministerial Relief.

4. When any contributor to said fund, or his widow, or orphans, apply to the Board of Relief under the rules of the Board now in force, or that may be adopted, such applicant shall receive such appropriation from the Relief Funds of the Board as he or she is entitled to receive under its rules, to which shall be added, each year, an appropriation from the Ministers' Foundation of such a sum as is the equitable portion of such applicant in such foundation under these rules; but the appropriation to the widow or orphans of a deceased minister, shall be three-fifths of that which would have been the appropriation to the minister, if he had applied at the time of his death, and in case of the death or remarriage of the widow, the appropriation shall be to the children until they respectively attain the age of twenty-one years.

5. The details of the Plan outlined shall be arranged by the Board, with the assistance of skilled actuaries.

6. The failure of a minister to make his payments shall not cause a forfeiture of his privilege under these rules, but his annual appropriations shall be according to the amount he has contributed, having relation to the dates of payments.

7. The Board, with the assistance of actuaries, shall prepare rules which shall permit any contributor when coming on the Board for relief, in lieu of an appropriation from the Foundation, to withdraw in cash his equitable portion of the principal of said Foundation, not exceeding the amount contributed by him.

8. If the amount of money in said Foundation shall be greater than is needed to carry out the plan adopted, in the judgment of the Board, the excess may, from time to time, be transferred to the Relief funds of the Board.

9. These rules, adopted by the General Assembly, are the only source of the authority of the Board of Relief to make appropriations to the said ministers, their widows and orphans; and the same may be added to, amended, changed or rescinded, in whole or in part, at any time, by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Board. Such appropriations shall not be construed to be legal obligations of the Board of Relief, and the claim of the parties named shall not be the subject of assignment by them or liable to attachment or other legal process by their creditors.

10. The equitable portion of any of the ministers contributing to said Foundation, as mentioned in these rules, shall be determined by an actuary employed by the Board, and when so determined and approved by the Board shall be conclusive upon all persons. Such equitable portion shall be determined as annuities and reserve are calculated in the business life insurance, according to the table of rates set forth in these rules, and the table of mortality and disability printed on pages 216 and 217 of the minutes of the General Assembly of 1904, and such tables may be changed by the Assembly on the recommendation of the Board.

11. If such minister has contributed a sum equal to the full rate specified in the said table of rates, for a person of his age, either the single payment or lump sum, or the annual payments, the standard by which his equitable portion shall be calculated shall be as follows:

(A) If he be of the age of seventy years and has served our Church thirty years, the standard shall be $500 annually during life.

(B) If he be of the age of seventy years, and has served our Church less than thirty years, the standard shall be $100 annually during life, for the first five years of such service, and in addition thereto, $10 for each year of service not exceeding in the aggregate $500 per annum.

(C) If he be under the age of seventy years, and is disabled, the standard shall be $100 annually, during disablement, for his first five years of service to our Church, and in addition thereto, $10 for each year of such service, not exceeding in the aggregate $500 per annum.

(D) For the widows of deceased ministers, the standard shall be three-fifths of the amount which her husband was receiving at the time of his death, or if he be not then receiving any payment, three-fifths of the amount he would have received had he become disabled at that time.

(E) If such minister shall leave no widow, or if his widow shall die or remarry, the payment shall be to the minor children of the minister, beginning at the death or remarriage of the widow, to be equally divided among the children, and each child's portion ceasing at death or the age of twenty-one years.

The actual amount of the equitable portion of each shall be the same proportion of the standard above mentioned, applicable to the particular case, which the contributions the minister has actually made, considering the time at which he made them, bears to the full rates given in the said table of rates.

12. The table of rates referred to in these rules is as follows:

The Board may arrange a plan by which contributions may be made semi-annually or quarterly.

13. If it should be thought desirable, with the consent of the Sustentation Fund, its members may transfer their contributions to the Board of Relief, and when entitled to relief under the rules of the Board, shall receive the benefits of the Ministers' Foundation, in such manner that their appropriations therefrom will be equal to the annuities to which they would have been entitled from that Fund, on the footing of their actual payments thereto.

14. This plan shall become effective when such a number of ministers have begun to contribute to the Foundation, that in the opinion of the Board of Relief, it can be safely put into operation.

15. All the expenses of the Board directly connected with the Foundation shall be paid out of the moneys of the Foundation, and also such portion of the general expenses of the Board as shall be determined by the Board to be its equitable share.

PROPOSITION FOR A PLAN BY WHICH MINISTERS MAY MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE BOARD OF RELIEF, FOR THE CREATION OF A MINISTERS' ACCUMULATIVE FUND, ON WHICH THEY MAY DRAW WHEN THEY COME UPON THE BOARD OF RELIEF:

(1) That every minister, without regard to his age or the state of his health, may contribute to the Board of Relief an annual sum (say a sum at least equal to one per cent. of his salary, or any greater sum that he may desire to contribute).

(2) That all such contributions be put into a separate fund by the Board, to be called the Ministers' Accumulative Fund; and all the interest earnings of the Fund be added to the principal and be reinvested.

(3) All contributions made by the ministers, as provided in Rule 1, shall be absolute gifts by such ministers to the Board for the cause of Ministerial Relief.

(4) When any minister who has contributed to said Fund applies to the Board of Relief under the rules of the Board now in force, or that may be adopted, and shall be granted relief, such minister, or in case of his death, his widow, or in case of the death or remarriage of the widow, his children under the age of twenty-one years, who may be granted relief by the Board, may also ask for and receive from said Fund, a sum equal to the amount so contributed by him with its interest accretions, in case of children to be equally divided among them; Provided: That if the minister shall leave more than one child, some of whom are over the age of twenty-one years, and some are under, such as are under shall receive only such a sum as they would have received if all the children had been under age.

(5) These rules adopted by the General Assembly are the only source of the authority of the Board of Relief to make the payments to the said ministers, their widows and orphans, and the same may be added to, amended, changed or rescinded, in whole or in part, at any time, by the General Assembly, on the recommendation of the Board. Such payments shall not be construed to be legal obligations of the Board of Relief, and the claim of the parties named shall not be the subject of assignment by them or liable to attachment or other legal process by their creditors.

(6) In case any minister who has contributed to the said Fund shall die, without having applied for said payments, and leave no widow or children under the age of twenty-one years, or, leaving such, if they do not apply for such payment within the time they would have been entitled to ask for and receive the said sum, the Board of Relief may transfer such sum to its Relief Fund.

(7) The amount contributed by each minister to the said Fund and the amount of its accretions shall be determined by the Board of Relief, and its determination shall be binding and conclusive upon all persons.

(8) All the expense of the Board directly connected with the Fund shall be paid out of the moneys of the Fund, and also such portion of the general expenses of the Board as shall be determined by the Board to be its equitable share.

THORNTON HOME.

There have been seventeen persons as guests in the Home during the year. Cost per capita for the year $332.75. Six of these coming as temporary guests, two ministers with their wives for rest and recuperation, expecting to again provide for themselves in the near future; two being orphan girls completing their course in school. This feature of the work should commend itself as a wise provision of the Church for aid of ministers temporarily disabled without means to secure needed rest to enable them to return to active work in the ministry.

As set forth in the Report of the Board to the General Assembly of 1908, the terms of the Union agreement provided for the continuance of Thornton Home and the maintenance of a committee at Evansville for its management, and to assist in the general work of the Board in this part of the territory.

So long as it was necessary for this Board to continue its existence as a separate and independent corporation, it has been our pleasure to perform these duties for the Church, as we have sought to do in behalf of this cause, for more than a quarter of a century.

The reasons for delay in effecting a complete merger having fully disappeared, it is now a mere matter of detail in arranging for such merger, in accordance with the terms of the Union agreement. The legal questions involved in working out the details of the merger are now under consideration by the counsel of the two Boards.

The terms of the following members of the Board expire in June: J. E. Williamson, Esq., J. C. McClurkin, M.D., and Mr. August J. Schlæpfer. The General Assembly is asked to nominate their successors, to be elected for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the Board in June, 1912, as provided by the terms of the Board's charter, it being understood that the corporate existence may terminate at any time.

The Report of the Treasurer is submitted herewith.

By Order of the Board,

S. B. SANSOM,
Cor. Sec'y.

Forty-Seventh Annual Report

OF THE

BOARD OF MISSIONS FOR FREEDMEN

OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

TO THE

General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church

FROM MARCH 31st, 1911 TO APRIL 1st, 1912

The Board of Missions for Freedmen presents to the General Assembly its Forty-seventh Annual Report.

We are thankful to be able to say, that we have once more closed our fiscal year with enough funds on hand to meet all our outstanding financial obligations.

Last year we were able to say that we had received more money, and expended more money in our work in that year than in any other year in our whole history.

We can make a similar statement this year. We not only have received more funds this year than ever before, but the increase over last year is greater than the increase of any other one year over any other previous year. We make this statement about money at the beginning of our report not because the getting of money is our chief object and aim; but because the work we are called to do cannot be carried on without money, and because the more money we receive, the more work we can do, and the better it can be done.

During the past year the Annual Congregational collections from the churches have amounted to very little more than they did the year before. The Churches a year ago gave us through their congregational collections $76,257.04.

This year they gave us $76,784.73—an increase of only $527.69.

Contributions from Sunday Schools show an increase of $922.86, and the Women's Societies went ahead of the year before to the amount of $2,191.85; but the Young People's Societies fell behind to the amount of $1,069.32. This is the only source of income that gave us less this year than last.

They dropped from $11,796.55 last year to $10,757.24 this year.

The Woman's Societies advanced from $60,341.14 to $62,532.99, being an increase of $2,191.85.

The receipts from Miscellaneous Sources increased from $16,953.69 to $34,468.20, a change in the right direction to the amount of $17,514.51.

The receipts from legacies were unusually large. Only one other year have they ever been as large. Last year they amounted to $26,465.98; this year to $43,635.30, an increase of $17,169.32.

The increase from Churches, Sunday schools, Young People's Societies and Woman's Societies has not been as great as we had hoped for. But the increase from Miscellaneous Sources and Legacies has been more than we anticipated.

Legacies as a source of income form a very uncertain basis on which to make our calculations and prepare our plans for a year ahead. When they come we have no difficulty in finding a place for them, and when the year is out we wonder what we would have done if they had not come. Whenever we receive an extra and unlooked for amount of money, the work, which is always crying out for more help, absorbs it as easily and naturally as a shower of rain is absorbed when it falls upon a dry and thirsty land.

The great draw-back about legacies is that they come from our best friends, and each legacy we receive means that another of our friends has left us for a better world, and is forever beyond helping us in the accustomed way.

The number of churches that helped us by giving us Congregational Collections this year, was 4929, an increase of 21 over last year.

The number of churches that helped us in any one way was 5966, an increase of 14. The figure given in our last year's report as 5252 was a misprint. It should have been 5952.

The number of Sunday schools that contributed to the Board direct was 357, just one more than last year.

The number that gave to us through the Woman's Board was 661, an increase of 120. The total number of contributing Sunday Schools was 1018, as against 897 last year, an increase of 121.

The number of Young People's Societies contributing direct to the Board was 36, a decrease of 11, while through the Woman's Board the number was 1146, an increase of 51, making a total increase for the year of 40.

The total receipts from all sources were $255,418.16, being an increase over last year of $41,040.92.

The following is a tabulated comparative statement of our receipts for this year and last:

Churches.....	$76,257.04	$76,784.73	Increase $	527.69
Y. P. Societies.....	11,796.55	10,757.24	Decrease	1,069.31
Sabbath Schools...	10,100.21	11,023.07	Increase	922.86
Woman's Soc'ties	60,321.14	62,532.99	Increase	2,191.88
Miscell. Sources...	16,953.69	34,468.20	Increase	17,514.51
Int. on inv. funds	12,462.62	16,246.63	Increase	3,184.01
Legacies.....	26,465.98	43,635.30	Increase	17,169.32
	$214,377.24	$255,418.16		$41,040.92

The Amount of money given to Church Work by the people on the field, including church building, repairs, contingent expenses and ministerial support, as reported to us by our Ministers in their Annual reports to the Board was this year $68,118.41.

The total amount given on the field to our school work by patrons and friends, as reported this year from our teachers was $77,838.09.

The total amount gathered from both church and school work, on the field, and reported to the Board, but in no way going into our Treasury, or in any way included in the Treasurer's statement of receipts and expenditures, was $145,956.50.

In addition to this the churches under the care of the Board, not including those that are now self-supporting, gave through their Annual Collections $870.78 to the Freedman's Board; and to the other Boards and Agencies of our church they gave $2,190.30.

Adding the amount raised on the field for church and school purposes, to the amount given by these churches to the Benevolent Agencies of the church, we have a sum total, passing through the hands of our Ministers, Elders and Teachers, directly or indirectly, for their own good, in their own communities, and for the good of others in other parts of our own land, and other lands, amounting to $149,017.58.

This amount means to the people that gave it, more than some of us can realize, in the way of self denial and sacrifice.

This year has been an unusually hard one, brought about by three untoward conditions which many of these people in their poverty have had to face; the high cost of living; the low price of cotton, and the unusual severity of, in many places, a cold and cruel winter. The rigor of the winter greatly affected the attendance of the pupils in many of our schools, and in some places caused suspension of public services in some of our churches for months at a time. In making their annual reports to the Board very few of the ministers and teachers fail to speak of the hardships and hindrances entailed upon them and their work by the very cold weather that prevailed. If the work here and there seems not to have advanced as much as it might have done, it is but just to keep in mind the peculiar difficulties under which, at times, it had to be done, and sometimes left undone.

We give below a condensed statement of the extent of our work:

The work of our Woman's Department through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Susan L. Storer, its General Secretary, continues to be a strong arm of help to the Board in every way. Through this channel many thousands of dollars are put into our treasury, that, but for this department, we would not otherwise receive.

When cries come up to us, as they do continuously from our growing schools for additional help, the Board, having laid out its work for the year according to its estimated income, can only promise a new teacher here and there, provided the money can be raised, and the source to which we usually look for this extra money is our Woman's Department.

Some twenty new teachers were added to our long list, and the new salary that had to be raised for each one of these new teachers was obtained through this Department.

A full and interesting report of the Woman's Department of the Freedmen's Board, which is the same as the Freedmen's Department of the Woman's Board, is made annually by the General Secretary to the Freedmen's Board, and also to the meeting of the Woman's Board held annually during the sittings of the General Assembly.

This Annual Report of our Woman's Department is usually printed as an appendix to the Annual Report of the Board of Missions for Freedmen, and it will appear this year in the full and final Report of the Freedmen's Board as sent out to all the Ministers, with such Reports as the other Boards may make, after the meeting of our General Assembly.

Ever since the Union and Reunion of 1907, our Board has been extending substantial aid to the Cumberland Colored Presbyterian Church.

In view of their lack of educational advantages in the past our Board has for the last five years, out of its general fund, been paying the salary of the professor at the head of the Theological Department of the Colored Cumberland school at Bowling Green, Ky., and in addition to this, has been allowing him a stipulated annual sum toward travelling expenses, expended in visiting the churches in the interest of his classes.

Besides this the Board has been devoting such money as comes into its treasury from former Cumberland Churches, to the general interests of this Colored Cumberland organization. This part of our help has heretofore been done through the Secretary of the Nashville Educational Society; but as this body, by a decision of the Courts, has no longer any legal existence, our Board will hereafter deal directly with these people according as we become acquainted with their needs, and according as we are able, out of the funds that come to us through Collections from former Cumberland Churches, to meet those needs.

In addition to what we have sent to the special teacher at Bowling Green School out of our general fund, we have this year sent to the Colored Cumberland Presbyterians $2,468-25. Of this amount $972.10 was from funds of the previous year, and $1,496.15 was from funds that have come to our Board this year, from former Cumberland Churches.

The Farm Homes Scheme in the neighborhood of Keysville, Ga., and connected with Boggs Memorial Academy, to which reference was made in our last Report, has passed through the preparatory stage and may now be considered as fully set in motion.

The land has been divided into small farms each of forty acres more or less, and all the acreage available for farming purposes has already been rented to desirable tenants, at reasonable rates, with the privilege of buying the same if all goes well. Houses have been provided for these renters, the necessary lumber for which was sawed from the timbered part of our own land. Eight new comfortable little settlement houses have been provided, of three rooms each, with kitchen standing apart; with also well and barn. Two old houses have been repaired and made comfortable. As many more could have been rented if we had had them, but we have preferred to wait results of the present venture before going more extensively into the scheme.

The Principal of Boys' Academy Rev. J. L. Phelps, one of our Colored Ministers, has charge of the scheme and is very hopeful as to the outcome, and is confident that the present year will show very encouraging results. No man will be allowed to even begin to buy the place he is on, as his own home, until he has rented for one year, and has shown himself as possessing those qualities of honesty, integrity and industry that are essential to the making of a good neighbor and good citizen. The church, the school and the farm, all in juxtaposition will form a three-fold influence for good, of mutual benefit to all concerned, with results alike helpful to the immediate community, to the country at large and to the Kingdom of God.

The Carnegie Library building, work for which had already begun when our last Report was made, has been completed. The $12,500 donated by Mr. Carnegie did not quite permit the carrying out of the plans that seemed to us most desirable, and $2,500 was appropriated to the securing of some additional useful and attractive features to the building, on the promise of Dr. McCrorey, President of Biddle University, that he would be responsible for raising this additional amount among his friends, and friends of the Institution in the South. These desirable and useful features were added to the building on the strength of this promise, Dr. McCrorey having given his note for the full amount, payable on or before April 1st. It is a pleasure to record that the note was redeemed and the money paid within the time specified.

The Library building is an added ornament to the College Campus, and satisfies a desire and realizes a hope that the College and its friends have long indulged in.

Mention was made also last year of the decision of the Board to change the location of Harbison College from Abbeville, S. C., to Irmo, near Columbia, S. C., and to change also the character of the Institution, making it distinctly an Agricultural College, and limiting the attendance to boys only.

The Board last summer, with assistance from the Harbison Estate, to the amount of $10,000, proceeded to the erection of the initial building, to be known as the Administration Building. It was ready for occupancy when the usual time for opening our schools arrived. The building is of brick, and is a large and commodious structure, suitable in every way for the beginning of the new enterprise, four stories high, including the basement, and containing classrooms, dormitory rooms, kitchen, dining room and chapel.

The fourth floor was not finished last year, not knowing how large the attendance might be; but the outlook for the coming year is so encouraging that this floor will be also fitted up for additional dormitory accommodations.

A specially trained teacher in the Agricultural Department, capable of teaching the boys modern and intensive farming, delivers lectures to the students on all phases of farm life &c. Students are assigned various tracts of land and under his supervision different crops are raised. A prize is given to the student who excels his neighbor in quality and quantity of the products raised.

Already this department at Harbison is proving itself to be very popular, and it is hoped by the Board that the College will help to tie the colored man more firmly to the soil. Since 85 per cent. of the colored people in the South still live in rural districts, it is evident to all that anything that trains these people to the proper use and development of the soil, is a direct and valuable contribution to their welfare, as well as the welfare of our country.

Many of the students at Harbison, unable to pay full tuition, fifty dollars a year, are permitted to labor on the farm, to make up the deficiency. Every student in the College is compelled to work at least one hour a day on the farm. The students who pay only one half of their tuition are compelled to work one whole day each week on the farm, and this work is so arranged that some students are at work each working day in the week. The raising of stock, such as pigs and chickens, is one of the features of the farm life, the boys are grouped under the head of wood-choppers, wood-haulers, stock-tenders, plow boys, cooks, dishwashers, firemen &c.

There is a blacksmith shop on the farm in charge of a student who is an expert blacksmith. A lady friend of our work has recently sent us a generous gift toward thoroughly furnishing this shop with every needed tool and appliance that will fit it for doing the best work in the best possible way, saying that if what she sends is not enough she will send more. The farm mules and horses are shod at this shop, the wagons and farm impliments are mended, and work will be done for neighboring farmers, and the community.

Other industries will be added as rapidly as the funds are provided by generous friends, or by the profits from the products of the farm.

While the academic and literary department of the school has not been changed, and no less attention is being paid to the teaching of the Bible and the Shorter Catechism, and the training of the students in their moral and religious life, more attention is being given to the industrial training in the new Harbison College at Irmo, than at the old College at Abbeville, S. C. The fire of the incendiary that burned our building at Abbeville, which we were wont to look upon as a calamity, may prove in the end to have been a blessing in disguise. Beside the Library building at Biddle University; the Administration building at Irmo, S. C.; the ten Settlement Houses on our Farm Homes land, the work at large has demanded this year a more than usually large outlay in the matter of real estate expenses.

A property in Knoxville, Tenn., owned by the American Missionary Association, known as the Slater property, and once occupied by that Association for school purposes, has for some years been occupied by a school under our care. This school commended itself to the confidence of the white friends of the city, who observed its character and conduct at close range, and they became interested in it. While the property was held at a considerably higher figure, our friends at Knoxville offered to pay $1,000 of the purchase money, if we could buy it for $5,000. A cash offer for this amount was made by the Board to the Association, and accepted, in view of the kindred work in which the two organizations are engaged.

The $1,000 was promptly sent to us by the Woman's Presbyterial of Union Presbytery, through its President, and the property was promptly deeded to the Board on the payment of the price agreed upon.

Another school, this time in Chattanooga, Tenn., has been occupying a rented building for several years. The Board has felt for some time that the school needed a home of its own. A desirable location was found that could be had for $3,500. Friends in the city agreed to pay one half of the cost of the ground if the Board would pay the other half, and in addition spend $4,000 on the erection of a suitable school building. The building will be erected this summer.

A much needed school building was erected on Edisto Island, S. C., costing $1,500; another at Union Point, Ga., costing $2,000; another at Cheraw, S. C., costing $500; another at Winston-Salem, N. S., $700 and another small one at Clarkton, Va., $350.

During the year struggling congregations have been helped in their effort to secure suitable houses of worship, either in repairing, or enlarging old ones, or building large and better ones at Sumter, S. C., Columbia, S. C., Charleston, S. C., Yorksville, S. C., Raleigh, N. C., White Hall, N. C., Chatham, Va., Columbia, Tenn., Knoxville, Tenn., Bearding, Tenn., Hollywood, Ark., Hot Spring, Ark., Little Rock, Ark., Monticello, Ark., Crockell, Tex., Garvin, Ark. Also help has been rendered on manses at Maryville, Tenn., Raleigh, N. C., Decatur, Ga., Chadbourne, N. C., and Manning, S. C.

The Church Erection Board has been quite willing to share with us this part of our burden. The people in most cases do well if they can raise and expend one-third of the cost of their church building. The Church Erection Board in most cases is quite willing to give one-third, and our Board usually grants the other one-third. It is fitting that we should at this point record our hearty appreciation of the co-operation of the Church Erection Board in this line of our work.

Our work, however, in the way of helping our people to secure proper accommodations for church and school purposes is not without its interruptions and draw-backs. On the 13th of last January fire was discovered in the fourth story of our large brick building, in connection with our Marry Allen Seminary at Crockett, Texas, known as McMillan Memorial Hall. Every effort to extinguish the fire proved unavailing, the building burned to the ground, a total loss. The building erected more than twenty years ago cost some $19,000 without the furniture, when prices were lower than they are now. It could not be reproduced for less than $25,000, without the furniture. It was insured for $16,000, and the companies carrying the insurance have awarded us the full amount. We are planning to rebuild only for the amount of insurance received, for the present.

The building was the gift of the late Senator McMillan of Michigan, in memory of a beloved and deceased daughter. The fire is supposed to have been accidental, although the origin is not known. The building stood in close proximity to the main building. The calmness of the evening alone saved the main building from destruction, then too there were no lives lost, for these two things we are devoutly thankful.

This matter of building churches and school houses; of keeping them in good repair; of enlarging them when they have become too small; of keeping them insured; of rebuilding them when they are burned down—all these things seem to be a large part of our work, but they are not our real work. They may be, and are necessary to the carrying on of our work. Our real work is something else.

These structures may be called the visibilities of our work. They can be seen, and their value can be estimated in dollars and cents. The real work of the Board is quietly carried on within these visibilities. It cometh not with observation. It often cannot be seen; much less measured. Its value cannot be estimated in the coin of the realm, the value of a soul must be calculated by the arithmetic of Heaven. The redemption of the soul is precious, yes, priceless. If we are not making godly men and women our Board is not doing what it was originally meant to do. The godliness we are attempting to implant in human souls is indeed the kind that is profitable for this life as well as the life that is to come; but we place the emphasis upon the profit for the life to come. A profit for this life without profit for the life to come is in the end, no profit at all; it is an everlasting failure. It is idle to go on building structures, if in them we are not building characters. It is idle to add to our material accommodations if we are not training those who are in them, to add to them faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge, and to knowledge temperance, and to temperance patience, and to patience godliness, and to godliness brotherly kindness and to brotherly kindness charity. These are the things worth while, because these are the things that will endure.

Believing that this main feature of our work, the moral and spiritual development of the man cannot be too strongly emphasized, we have had in mind for some time the wisdom of employing one man all his time as an Evangelist whose work shall be to visit all our churches and schools in the interests of a safe and sane evangelism.

The Permanent Committee on Temperance joins with us in support of such a man who also as he goes from field to field will lift up his voice in behalf of the great cause of temperance, reporting from time to time the work he has done in the way of curbing the curse of intemperance and drunkenness, that so often blights the homes, and bars the victim from entering the gates of the City of the Redeemed.

Several liberal contributions have already been made by individuals impressed with the need of just this kind of work on our field. The success of the work under God, depends very much on the getting of the right man for the place.

The Board has moved carefully, and after considerable correspondence and conference has selected Rev. J. J. Wilson of Wadesboro, N. C., one of our own faithful and highly esteemed pastors.

We are much gratified with the many expressions of the approval of our choice, that we have received. We have not heard as yet a single dissenting voice.

We have great hopes as to the great good that will be accomplished through this arrangement. Mr Wilson is to begin his work May 1st, and already many appeals have been made for his services in different places. Paul may plant, and Apollos water, but God must give the increase. Our prayer is that through the special ministry of this man of God, multitudes may be turned from the error of their ways, and that there may be added to the church many of such as shall be saved.

The time of service of the following members of the Board expires with this Assembly:

Rev. Maitland Alexander, D.D., Rev. Samuel J. Glass, D.D., Rev. J. W. Duff, D.D., Mr. Vincent Miller, Mr. A. C. Robinson.

We ask that they be re-elected.

Respectfully submitted,

REV. S. J. FISHER, D.D.,
President.

E. P. COWAN,
Cor. Sec. and Treas.

JOHN M. GASTON
Associate Sec'y.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON FREEDMEN
OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT LOUISVILLE, KY., MAY 1912

We commend the Board and the Secretaries for their diligence, devotion and fidelity, and for their liberal, progressive and economical administration of their trust.

We recommend that the following actions be taken:

1st. That the Treasurer's report, audited by a public accountant, and the Minutes of the Board be approved.

2nd. That the Assembly heartily commends the Board for its aggressive evangelistic and temperance movement in the securing, in co-operation with the Assembly's Committee on Temperance, of Rev. J. J. Wilson to visit the churches, holding temperance and evangelistic meetings.

3rd. That it approve also of the Farm Home scheme, which the Board has now in operation, and the Harbison Industrial College, where modern and intensive farming is to be the special object, in subordination to the main purpose of daily training in religious life.

4th. That the Church make earnest effort to meet the ten per cent. increase asked for by the Budget Committee, in order to meet the growing needs of the Board.

5th. That the Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies be urged to make at least one offering each year for this cause, preferably on the Sabbath nearest to Lincoln's Birthday; or if this day be not convenient, then on some other Sabbath in accordance with the desire of the session of each church.

6th. That in regard to the overtures concerning a change in the name of the Board, no action be taken at present on account of property rights and other issues involved.

7th. That the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D.D., the Rev. Samuel J. Glass, D.D., the Rev. J. M. Duff, D.D., Mr. Vincent Miller and Mr. A. C. Robinson whose terms as members of the Board expire at this time, be re-elected for a term of three years.

Signed,

HUGH SPENCER WILLIAMS,
Chairman of Standing Committee on Freedmen.

The Twenty-Eighth Annual Report

OF THE

WOMANS' DEPARTMENT

OF THE

Presbyterian Board of Missions for Freedmen

U. S. A.

The success of any enterprise cannot always be measured by dollars and cents, but missionary enterprise cannot be successfully carried on without dollars and cents; so the closing weeks of our financial year are always intense and anxiety deepens, and when the finale comes, and our receipts are far below our aim and desire, our disappointment is great.

Our Board of Missions for Freedmen, relying on this department as a strong arm in this work, had asked if we could secure $90,000 during the year?

This seemed a reasonable advance over the preceding year, and with earnest prayer and consecration this call was issued to all the societies of our denomination, placing this field and its needs before them as part of God's mission work which our church had assumed and expected its various organizations to support.

The leaflet "LEST WE FORGET" outlining the work was prepared and sent out by your secretary to every Synodical and Presbyterial secretary as far as known, and in quantities sufficient for every local society to receive one so that they might know and give intelligently.

Synodical, Presbyterial and local societies were visited, as many as possible, and the work earnestly presented; literature was sent out and every means in our power used to create or stimulate sympathy and compassion for the Negro.

When the books closed our receipts were $83,564.99, nearly one thousand less than we received the previous year.

In the first stage of our disappointment we went back to the reports of the first Secretary of this department, Mrs. Coulter, and as we read of the discouragements, disappointments and retrenchments they had to meet during the 90's, a feeling of shame came that we should even halt at ours.

We looked our shortage squarely in the face and found that the preceding year we had received, in legacies $5,000, and this year but $600, so we realized a very bright spot in the outlook. The decline does not come from Societies, Young People or Sabbath Schools; they have really made advance, and they are the fountain heads of all missionary work. So we renew our courage, and look to the living and not to the dead to carry on God's work.

The following table gives the receipts from the various sources which have come through the Woman's Department:

Woman's Societies.....	$62,293.58
Young People	10,508.42
Sabbath Schools	7,141.26
Individuals	2,027.15
Miscellaneous	1,594.58

Total	$83,564.99
-------	-------------

No. of Woman's Societies contributing,	3,458	increase of	81
No. of Sabbath Schools contributing,	661	increase of	120
No. of Y. P. Societies contributing,	1,146	increase of	51
Total No. of Sab. Sch'ls. contributing,	1,018	increase of	121

Some Sabbath Schools send directly to our Board.

Give the children an opportunity to know about this field and its needs and they will always respond.

The authority for this Missionary effort comes from our General Assembly, and the good being done is very apparent and lasting.

No nation or race has ever been uplifted apart from the Message and power of Jesus Christ, the Saviour of the whole world, and His commission to us is "Go preach and teach."

5,966 churches in all have contributed in any way to our Board of Mission for Freedmen. What can be said or done to arouse the other over 4,000 churches—so indifferent to this field—to see their opportunities and use them for advancing Christ's kingdom?

Your Secretaries presented this Mission field in the Synodical societies of New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas. Rev. Mr. Gaston Associate Secretary of the Board addressed the Synodicals of Iowa and Montana. We also visited several Presbyterials and local societies. Surprise was often expressed at the extent of the work being done, very many knowing little about this field and its needs.

Our Stereopticon Slides have told the story in many societies, and our literature has been sent broadcast. All these things have been an education.

It is not always prejudice, but lack of knowledge which causes the indifference and hinders generous giving.

Thirteen Synodical societies have made advancement in the year just closed. May we not hope that this will stimulate the others to more diligent study and effort?

Review of the Year's Work.

Twenty-three new salaries in all were secured. With these, eleven new teachers were employed; several teachers who have been teaching without remuneration are now receiving some salary. A few salaries have been increased, and length of term extended for some schools. All these things require planning and money.

The Board has now 131 schools and over 15,000 pupils to care for. These students are being taught and trained in all that goes toward making good earnest Christian men and women; fitting them for leaders for their race. These are the Salt to preserve and purify the whole mass and make them worthy of their nation and of ours.

School reports have been most encouraging as to the work being accomplished and the spiritual interest manifested. The extremely cold winter has been most keenly felt in all our schools, and added greatly to the expenses; nearly twice as much fuel as usual being necessary.

Mary Allen Seminary.

We are very sorry to have to record a fire at Mary Allen Seminary, Crockett Texas, which occurred on the evening of January 13th, while the school was at evening prayer. Had it broken out later in the night there surely would have been lives lost, for McMillan Hall was totally destroyed and 100 girls and four teachers were living in this building. The Chapel dining room, kitchen, music rooms as well as the dormitory were in this building, so it was necessary to close the school, and 200 girls were sent home and the teachers thrown out of employment at the mid year. Several of them were fortunate in securing other positions. The Board had the building insured for $16,000 and with this amount they expect to rebuild this summer and try to have the school reopened in the fall.

But for this fire we could report this as our most prosperous year.

Buildings.

Our Building Fund has been used where most needed. At Union Point, Ga., a new building has been erected for the use of Rev. Italy LeConte and wife. They have been teaching their large school in the little church, having as many as 150 pupils in the one room, and the noise and confusion can be imagined when they would each have classes reciting at one time. Mrs. LeConte writes that it is such a comfort and so restful to have a classroom to herself. This is a growing school and filling a large place in the life of the community.

A new building has been erected on Edisto Island S. C., that Rev. J. M. Manoney and wife may be better able to reach the many many Negroes there, who are so shut out from all that is best in life. They so much need Christian and industrial training, and there is room for great development.

At Clarkton, Va., where Rev. W. B. Stitt and wife are laboring, a new school building has made their work much easier and more helpful.

A new school building has been given at Winston N. C., where they have been needing it for so long. This is called the "Geneva School" and the women of the Geneva, N. Y. Presbyterian societies contributed over $700 for this building over and above their regular contributions. This Presbyterian society takes good care of their school.

The school at Sumter S. C., has outgrown its capacity and a new building was erected there giving Rev. A. U. Frierson a home separate from the overcrowded dormitory, and making things more comfortable for all.

The new Harbison Agricultural College, Irmo, S. C., opened up in its new building in October last and had a most successful term and already they are calling for more room. The new building is a beautiful one, has a fine location and makes a fine showing from all around. This building is four stories and contains chapel, class rooms, kitchen, dining room, and dormitory room for 100 students and three teachers. There is an electric lighting and heating plant and water tower, and more buildings must be given to accommodate all who are asking for entrance.

Transplanting and rebuilding this college and beginning all over again has been a very heavy burden upon Rev. C. M. Young and Mrs. Young and also the Board and its loyal friends, but it is expected that a greater Harbison College will repay all the labor and sacrifices made.

Some improvements have been made at Albion Academy, Franklinton, N. C., and the final payment made on the school building at Louisburg, N. C.

A lot has been purchased at Chattanooga, Tenn., for erecting a new building this summer. This will give many advantages to this "Newton School." They wish to have a better Domestic Science equipment, as this is so necessary to fit girls for making a living. An outfit for shoe-making, and a set of carpenter tools will help the boys very much. We hope to give you a fine report of this work next year.

The school taught by Mrs. Flora E. Mayers in Knoxville, Tenn., has been needing a home of its own, and a suitable building was obtained for $5,000, which was made possible because the Union Presbyterian society gave $1,000 toward this purchase. They knew and appreciated the work which is being done there.

"Coulter Memorial School" at Cheraw, South Carolina, is now under the care of Rev. G. W. Long and wife, and they have far more students applying than they can accommodate, A new building is being put up which will help to meet the great need. With all their inconveniences they have carried on a school of 160 students and done good work. This is one of our schools which just will grow in spite of all holding down, and we feel that you will hear still better things from it in the near future.

The Farm Homes scheme, of which mention was made last year, is being carried out by Rev. J. L. Phelps near Boggs Academy, Keyesville, Ga., with most encouraging results. Good families have been located on the various tracts of land, several new houses have been built, and these farmers are to be given easy payments, and they are hoping to own their homes in two or three years, and as the money is returned to the Board it will be reinvested as seems best. Rev. Phelps writes that the white people take a great interest in their work and have given $500 for him to equip their Domestic Science Department, and they have the best in that part of the country. A new dormitory is the great need now.

Death has called three of our ministers who were also principals of schools, Rev. Lawrence Miller, Newnan, Ga., principal of McClelland Academy, Rev. W. H. Mitchell, principal of Allendale school, S. C., and Rev. N. N. Gregg minister in charge of the church and school at Due West, S. C. These were faithful men and will be much missed, but they have entered their reward.

Box Work.

This has fallen off greatly in the last two or three years, and never was it more needed than this last winter. Please write to us, 513 Bessemer Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., if you desire to send a box. If you have a preference we will be glad to favor it if the school is not already provided for. Careful oversight must be given this part of the work, so that each may have a fair share of help.

This box work must not be considered as discharging all your obligation to this field, for boxes do not pay teachers salaries, scholarships, or put up buildings. Money must come into our treasury for these things.

Life Memberships.

We have often been asked if we had Life-members? And we had not, but recently such arrangements have been made and certificates prepared. For the payment of $25, personally, or by a society as a testimonial to some friend, or for the interest and success of the cause certificates will be given. We trust there will be many such who have this work upon their hearts.

Rev. J. J. Wilson one of our ministers has been employed by our Board for Evangelistic work, This will fill a long felt need, for these churches and schools need to be strengthened in the things of God, and brought into closer fellowship with Him and with each other, and we look for great blessings to follow.

We gratefully acknowledge the kindness of our Woman's Board in giving us the pages of the magazines, "Home Mission Monthly" and "Over Sea and Land," in which we might present our cause and make it more real and vital to all their readers.

Our literature will be very helpful in the study of this problem, and we bespeak careful reading of all these that you may know what there is to be done.

We appeal to all those who have contributed in any way toward the success of this work, and ask you to remember that this growth and success means that more money will be needed this next year, if we are to keep pace with our opportunities.

And, on the strength of the fact that all societies did make some advance in offerings, we will again set our aim for $90,000, this coming year, for "Pledged Work" and "Building Fund," and it lies with you to decide what the result will be.

What shall we say to all those who have no part in heeding this call from God?

The demand for Christian training and education is becoming widespread and insistent. This stream of humanity does not tarry, but goes on down to eternal darkness because no one cares for their souls.

This people again cry to be set free; they are in still a greater bondage than human slavery—the bondage of Satan.

In Christ alone can they be free indeed.

Does not their call appeal to you? If we are all co-workers with Christ, here are hungry multitudes. The Bread of Life is free to them as it is to us; If we have fed upon it, Jesus says "Give ye them to eat."

Speed you Christian workers,

Hear the rally call,

Jesus leads His forces,

Forward ALL.

Where the need is greatest.

Where the strife is long,

Go with noble courage

And inspiring song."

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN L. STORER.

The College Board respectfully presents to the General Assembly its Twenty-ninth Annual Report. The Board has held all its regularly appointed meetings throughout the year and has given diligent attention to the increasing work committed to its care.

The enlarging territory and duties of the Board have made it impracticable for the Secretary both to administer the business of the Board and to keep in efficient personal touch with the colleges. The Board therefore engaged the services of Mr. Gilbert A. Beaver for the period between November 1, 1911, and June 1, 1912, and has been favored with most efficient assistance, voluntarily given, by Dr. James E. Clarke, of Nashville, Tenn., a member of the Board, in personal visitation of the synods and of the colleges in the Southwest—Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma. The colleges in the last three States have but lately come into coöperation with the Board and needed his sympathetic guidance.

Two important inquiries have come to the Board during the past year from the friends of Christian education, which it has sought to answer with the ascertained facts in the case.

One of the inquiries asks if the Bible is thoroughly and heartily taught in our colleges. This is an inquiry which the General Assembly, the Board and the colleges do well to consider and answer with no uncertain emphasis. At the recent Men and Religion Forward Movement Conservation Congress this question was mooted, leaving the impression that the Christian colleges of the country are not doing their full duty in this regard. So far as the colleges coöperating with the Board of this Assembly are concerned the Board is able to give a definite and satisfactory reply. The policy of the Board makes it a condition of coöperation with any college that it "requires all regular students to take systematic Bible study as a part of the curriculum required for graduation, in accordance with the agreement between The College Board and the Annual College Conference held on May 16, 1906; 144 hours are the minimum for required Bible study in the college course, 36 hours are to be given each year." This policy was not thrust by the Assembly or by the Board upon reluctant colleges; it was suggested by our college presidents in their pre-Assembly Conference with the Board in 1906, for their own observance, and they recommended it to the Board as one of the conditions to be required by the Board of all colleges coöperating with it. This recommendation was adopted by the Board and confirmed by the Assembly, and is in steady operation.

The Board makes a further condition "that the college has in its faculty only such teachers as can be regarded as exerting a positive Christian influence over the students." Once a year each college president whose college receives aid from the Board gives a signed statement to the Board that these conditions have been complied with. If in any college there is neglect or indifference to such Bible teaching and Christian influence it arises from a temporary cause, which, under the pressure of the general Christian spirit of our colleges, soon passes away.

The Council of the Reformed Churches in America, at its recent meeting, in a wise and weighty deliverance on the subject of Bible instruction in our colleges, made the following recommendations:

"The first and chief text-book should be the Bible itself, and preferably the American Standard Version, with References, a Bible dictionary and concordance and subject index.

"A manual of Biblical geography, with maps, and references to books on orientalisms in the Bible.

"A series of constructive text-books on a graded basis, for use in academies, and a series for the first and second years of the college course.

"The use of teacher-training courses, as a required or optional part of the curriculum in church academies and colleges."

The College Board is most heartily in accord with these recommendations, but experience prompts it to say that however valuable and necessary such constructive text-books are as auxiliary aids to the intelligent study of the Bible, care must ever be taken that they shall not be used in the classes as a substitute for the Bible itself. The alleged ignorance of many college students in respect to the Bible is the ignorance of the content of the Bible itself as a book. "It has come about that men find it easier sometimes to read books about the Bible than to read the Bible itself. A general impression is abroad that Bible study is a matter of such difficulty that in order to understand what the Bible says it is necessary to read technical books by experts on its text or contents. Perhaps there is nothing that needs to be said more clearly than simply this: Read and study the Bible itself. Do not seek to find first of all what men have said about it, but go straight to it with open mind and ask what it says about itself. . . . The first thing we need in Bible study to-day is more study of the Bible." This is what the Board advises our colleges to do primarily. Only a sufficient knowledge of the contents of the book itself can form an intelligent basis for such historical and critical lectures and recitations as may be given.

It has come to pass that there is no other place to-day but the Christian college where a comprehensive knowledge of the Bible as a book is required to be taught as a part of the curriculum required for graduation. "The Christian college has a freedom in the matter of Bible study that is denied to State schools. It has the greatest opportunity in American educational life to-day to give a working knowledge of the Bible to its students." The time has come for the Christian college to take still greater advantage of that freedom and that opportunity. There is an awakening of conscience in the Church and among benevolent friends of Christian education as to the fidelity with which the Christian colleges impart this thorough knowledge of the Bible as a book. The Board is glad to report to this Assembly that our colleges heartily coöperate with the Board to satisfy this reasonable desire and expectation.

The second of the inquiries asks if our Christian colleges are Christian. There is more than a play upon words in that inquiry. It comes not from the opponents but from the best friends of the Christian college, not because they doubt it but because they think the evidence is not sufficiently emphasized; because they keenly feel that the Christian college is the essential force to-day in the training of earnest leadership for the Church not only in the ministry but in all the walks of life, and that the college must by no means be suffered to fail in any degree in performing that high function. The following table of carefully ascertained figures will show what the Christian college is doing for the ministry of the Church.

SOURCES OF SUPPLY OF THE STUDENTS NOW IN EIGHT OF OUR SEMINARIES.

Of the foregoing 550 students,

466, or 84 per cent. are from Christian institutions: 70 per cent. from Christian colleges; 8 per cent. from Christian universities and 6 per cent. from other Christian institutions.

33, or 6 per cent. are from State institutions: universities, normal schools and high schools.

51, or 10 per cent. are from unclassified or unknown institutions.

214 are from the colleges coöperating with The College Board.

174 are mainly from Christian colleges of sister denominations, with some from institutions in foreign countries whose Christian character is well known.

It is encouraging to notice, in this table, the growth of Christian unity in fundamental principles and purpose. That 174 students from Christian colleges other than our own should be found in our Presbyterian seminaries shows how free from sectarian bias is the religious education embodied in our Christian institutions. Doubtless an equal number of men have been educated in our own colleges who passed equally unbiased into the theological seminaries of their own home Church. In no other institutions of Christianity is the spirit of unity so forward in its operation as in the Christian college.

The ministers and missionaries of the Church, however, can do their full work only as they are supported by educated laymen of Christian character and influence. The Christian college is no longer to be satisfied by counting the generous number of students it has trained for the pulpit. Christian service is many-sided to-day. Leadership for such varied service must also come from the Christian college. Is the Christian College Christian in the positive influence it brings to bear upon its students with a view to such lay leadership? The Board has prepared the following table of the various lines of social service for which our own colleges are educating their students. These colleges are not specially selected. They are simply those whose reports came to the Board sufficiently complete to be printed in time for the preparation of the Board's report to the Assembly. The reports from the remaining colleges will doubtless make an equal showing. There are those who, not informed on the work of a Christian college, infer that it is a kind of theological seminary where the specific doctrine and polity of some denomination is the principal subject taught. There is nothing denominational in the courses of study, not even in the study of the Bible, in our colleges. When the Presbyterian Church wishes to instruct its youth in its particular doctrines and government, it establishes a theological seminary for that specific purpose, separate and distinct from its colleges. There is no other religious requirement made of the Christian college than that it shall be Christian in spirit in the widest sense of the word Christian. It has the fullness of that freedom wherewith Christ makes us free.

From these tables it will appear that the appeal of the college to the Church is justified by the direct service it renders to the Church. The appeal of the college to the friends of Christian education is the appeal of a loyal servant of society whose service is limited only by the means furnished by the Church and by individuals of goodwill who seek to see society Christianized.

FINANCIAL SUMMARY.

The following table presents a summary of the entire contributions received from all sources, by the Board and by our institutions, for college work within the Church year 1911-12. The Board is thankful to report contributions from 5,010 churches, to the amount of $189,525.20. From the Board, through the Board and from individuals directly, the colleges received last year the sum of $1,342,925.86. For this impressive sum the Board most heartily gives, and asks the Assembly to give due credit to the untiring and self-denying efforts of our college presidents and to the benevolent friends in and out of the Church who so liberally responded to their appeals. The detailed distribution of this sum is found in the Treasurer's Report given on following pages. The Summary of Receipts and Disbursements is as follows:

LEGACIES.

The Board reported last year that it had received in February, 1911, from the executors of the John Stewart Kennedy Estate, the sum of $750,000.00. It now reports that on June 1st, 1911, it received $75,000.00, and on September 28th, 1911, $30,000.00, and on March 28th, 1912, $15,000.00 more, making a total of $870,000.00 now in the John Stewart Kennedy Memorial Fund. $62,500 of this amount, received in securities good in themselves, has not been productive in the past year. The latter payments are but recently invested. From the income of that part of this Fund which has been productive throughout the year, the Board has paid to colleges for emergency needs $31,250.00, according to the Board's policy announced in its last Report to the General Assembly, by which this policy was confirmed. It has set apart $100,000 of this legacy as a Loan Fund for the use of colleges, most of which has already been used for that purpose.

The Board also reports a legacy of $12,000 from the estate of that long-time and generous friend of the Board, the late Mr. John H. Converse of blessed memory. This legacy has been paid out in the general work of the Board.

The Board recognizes and appreciates the faithful attention of so many churches in their contributions to this Board, and the constant liberality of many individual friends of Christian education, both for their gifts and for the courteous treatment of the Board's servants and of the presidents of our colleges as they have from time to time presented their needs.

The Board has been called to meet the loss of Mr. Nathaniel Tooker, one of its faithful and generous members, who passed away suddenly last June, leaving a gracious name to his family and to the Church.

We would also note the death of Dr. Daniel Kimball Pearsons at the ripe age of ninety-two. He devoted himself and his fortune to the welfare of the small Christian college, where the poor but hardy young man and woman might find the opportunity of a college education. In the interest of such colleges he determined to "die a poor man". "When I die," he said a year ago, "I shall not be rich in money, but I am rich in the joy of doing good." He had no children. "But," he said, "Providence gave us a large family of children in the Christian colleges of the country. There are forty-seven of them which I think I can call my own, and they are scattered among twenty-four states." To these he distributed his fortune of more than six million dollars. To nine of our own colleges he gave the sum of $320,000.

NEW YORK, April 30, 1912.

THE CONSTITUTION AND POLICY OF THE BOARD.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE BOARD.

AS AMENDED IN MAY, 1909.

At its meeting held at Buffalo, New York, May, 1904, the General Assembly adopted a Constitution for this Board, which is as follows:

1. The name of this Board shall be THE COLLEGE BOARD OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, and the general work shall be such as is indicated by its title. It may aid academies in its discretion in the matter of current support, but shall not seek endowment for such institutions.

2. The Board shall consist of twenty-seven members, one-half of whom shall be and two-thirds of whom may be laymen. They shall be divided into three classes, one class to be elected each year by the General Assembly. The Board shall have power to fill vacancies.

3. The officers of the Board shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer.

4. The headquarters of the Board shall be at New York, and the Executive Committee of the Board shall be residents in New York or in the immediate vicinity.

5. The College Board shall be the agency of the Church for the following purposes:

(a) To secure and receive moneys and other property for the benefit of any needy college or university which is (1) organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or (2) required by its charter to have at least two-thirds of its Board of Control members of said Church, or (3) actually under Presbyterian approval at the time of receiving assistance.*

(b) To coöperate with such institutions as it is authorized to assist, as promote and maintain high educational standards, spiritual culture and thorough Bible teaching, to the end that persons contributing funds for such institutions may be assured that their students will be under positive Christian influences.

*"The words 'Presbyterian approval' mean that a synod or presbytery may send a committee of visitation to any college to learn the quality of the work done by it, and to report thereon; or it may receive a written or an oral report by the president or other appointed officer of the college on the quality of the work done, and express its approval or disapproval accordingly, and transmit its findings to this Board for the adjustment of its relations to said college."—Adopted by the General Assembly, 1911.

(c) To awaken interest, diffuse information, and stimulate prayer in behalf of the institutions which it is authorized to assist.

(d) To coöperate with the institutions which it is authorized to aid, and assist in securing endowments for them.

(e) To coöperate with local agencies in determining sites for such new institutions as it is authorized to assist, and in consolidating weak institutions.

(f) To decide for which of the institutions it is authorized to assist it will seek endowments, and to which of them it will make grants for current expenses.

(g) Secure an annual offering from the churches.

6. The Board shall call an Annual Conference of Presbyterian Colleges to advise the Board and to coöperate in securing the desired results.

7. The funds received by the Board shall be devoted either to the endowment or to the current expenses of colleges, and shall be secured:

(a) By special applications for endowment, under the approval and general direction of the Board.

(b) By annual offerings from the churches.

8. (a) Every college hereafter established, as a condition of receiving aid, shall be organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or by perpetual Charter provision shall have two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church.

(b) In case of colleges already established, and not included under the above provisions, appropriations for endowment shall be so made as to revert to the Board whenever these colleges shall pass from Presbyterian control.

(c) In all other respects the disbursement of funds by the Board shall be wholly discretionary with the Board, both as to amount and direction, subject always to the control of the General Assembly.

(d) The Board shall endeavor to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause.

9. It shall be the policy of the Board to limit the number of colleges in any region, so as to secure strong institutions rather than many weak ones, and in carrying out this policy colleges may be consolidated when deemed advisable by the Board. Colleges coming into existence without the approval of the Board, and colleges which refuse to consolidate when so directed by the Board may be denied aid from the Board.

THE POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The Policy of the Board is based on the Constitution framed for it by the Church through the General Assembly in 1883, 1904, 1908, 1909 and is summed up in one word—Co-operation.

The Board will co-operate (1) with givers, (2) with Presbyterian Colleges, and (3) with both givers and colleges to secure co-operation between them.

1. Co-operation with Givers.

The Board will endeavor to awaken, inform and stimulate the Church in behalf of Presbyterian Colleges.

It will offer the fullest and most reliable information, both about the college cause and the individual college, and regarding the relation of the Church to education and its colleges.

It will in no way try to dominate givers and their gifts, but will seek only to ascertain and carry out the desires of givers.

It will seek to safeguard funds committed to it or secured with its co-operation, as givers may desire, or, when no desire is expressed, as the interests of the colleges and the Church require.

It will, when desired to do so, act as Trustee of funds committed to it, investing them with paramount consideration of safety; holding them permanently if the giver so directs, or, if the giver prefer, temporarily, until conditions prescribed by the giver are fully met, disbursing the income derived from them in accordance with the wish of the giver.

It is instructed by the Assembly to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its Treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause.

2. Co-operation with Colleges.

A Presbyterian College is one which either (1) Is organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, owned or controlled by an ecclesiastical corporation of the Church ; or (2) By perpetual charter provision has two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church ; or (3) Is affiliated with this Church by the predominance of adherents of this Church in its foundations, Board of Control, Faculty and student body. The term "College" is commonly used herein as including universities.

The Board will seek neither to dominate colleges nor to carry them. It will co-operate with them.

Colleges not yet recognized in the Board's report, desiring approval and co-operation, are requested to send to the Board's office for blanks on which report of their ecclesiastical, educational and financial status may be submitted to the Board.

The Annual College Conference will be asked to act in an advisory capacity toward the Board in all matters in which an ecclesiastical corporation, administering trust funds, may properly accept information, opinions and advice from a body of experts in educational matters and college detail.

The Board will seek primarily to stimulate colleges to self-help, and their home fields to the utmost limit of support and endowment because a college, to have a hopeful future, must ordinarily be strongly based in the affection, prayer and giving of its vicinage.

To co-operate in securing endowment for the colleges is an important function of the Board and to that it will give much attention. Co-operation with colleges which have little or no endowment, in securing aid for current expenses until their endowments are reasonably adequate, is a necessary missionary function, and for this cause the Board solicits and expects annual collections from all our churches.

AID FOR CURRENT EXPENSES.

The Board will consider applications for annual aid toward current expenses of such colleges as are organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. or as are required by their charters to have at least two-thirds of their Boards of Control members of said Church.

Application is to be made by the Trustees of the College, in formal meeting, filling out a blank which the Secretary will furnish on request and will send to aided institutions April 1. Applications made for the first time should be accompanied by the fullest information regarding the history and prospects of the institution.

The Annual Board Meeting for voting on applications is held on the first Tuesday in June. Applications must be in the Secretary's hands by May 1. If the Trustees cannot meet in time for this, the Executive Committee should send an application as nearly as possible like that which the Trustees will probably adopt; and the formal application, adopted by the Trustees, should reach the Secretary as soon as possible. Institutions withholding applications beyond the date of the meeting, and giving no satisfactory explanation of the delay, will be regarded as expecting no aid from the Board for the ensuing year.

Applications for aid for current expenses must have the Synod's formal approval of the college endorsed thereon; applications of academies, similarly the approval of their Presbyteries. The endorsement of Synod or Presbytery is the endorsement of the college as worthy to receive aid for current expense from the Board, in such amount as the Board may be able to grant. Yet, as there is often no meeting of the ecclesiastical body held between the making of the application by the Trustees and the June Board meeting, unendorsed applications will be voted on at the June meeting; but exact duplicate applications, bearing the endorsement of the Synod or Presbytery at the fall meeting, must be sent to the Board before any appropriation will be confirmed.

The Board will vote at the Annual Meeting appropriations to the amount covering its expected available resources for the current fiscal year. Applications not on file for the Board at its June meeting cannot be acted on until the next meeting, in November, and then only if unexpected funds for that purpose have come into its possession.

Any solicitation of church collections by a college without a distinct prearrangement with the Board must necessarily decrease the Board's ability to pay in full the appropriations it has voted.

Payment of one-half of the appropriation for the year will ordinarily be made in December, and the second-half payment will be made as of March 31st. Church collections designated for a given college from churches outside of that college's field will be paid to that college, but will be deducted from the appropriation voted by the Board. A college's "field" is the Synod in which the college is situated, except as otherwise defined by the Board where there are two or more colleges in one Synod. When the conditions governing an appropriation are not met before December 15th of the year in which the appropriation was voted by the Board, the appropriation shall lapse. The Treasurer is authorized to pay appropriations only on condition that a college shall satisfy the Board in the following particulars:

(1) That it requires all regular students to take systematic Bible study as a part of the curriculum required for graduation in accordance with the agreement between The College Board and the Annual College Conference held on May 16, 1906; 144 hours are the minimum for required Bible study in the college course, 36 hours are to be given each year;

(2) That it has on its staff only such officers and teachers as exert a positive Christian influence over the students;

(3) That its financial administration is conservative and safe;

(4) That it has used every reasonable effort to secure funds from its vicinage, within agreed presbyterial or synodical lines;

(5) That it carries adequate insurance on its buildings and their valuable contents; and

(6) That no mortgage is placed upon the property without previous consent in writing by the Board.

(7) That such securities as the General Assembly requires are given to the Board.

The Board will co-operate most heartily with Colleges

1. That are evidently needed, conditions of population and location of other educational institutions being considered.

2. That have local interest, opportunity for growth and promise of permanence;

3. That do educational work of high grade;

4. That seek to form Christian character, influencing students toward Bible study, saving faith, right living and consecration to service; and

5. That are prudently and conservatively financed, in estimating probable income, in preparing budgets of expenses, and in the investment of permanent funds. Colleges may never properly, under any conditions, use endowment or special funds, even temporarily, for current expenses or deficit. Such a course is regarded as a misuse of trust funds. Colleges will be expected to carry adequate insurance on their buildings and other destructible property.

3. Co-operation with Colleges and Givers to Secure Co-operation Between Them.

The Board will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to make known to givers the nature and needs of Presbyterian educational institutions.

It will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to secure gifts:

(1) The Assembly expects every church to make an offering for the College Board.

Colleges approved and recommended for aid on current expenses, may solicit and receive the College Board offerings of the churches in their home regions only when a distinct arrangement to that effect has been made with the College by the Board.

As the Board must depend mainly on church offerings for funds to pay appropriations voted for the current expenses of colleges, it is expected that stronger colleges—while seeking individual gifts and, on occasion, additional special offerings from the churches—will not attempt to secure the regular College Board offerings for themselves.

(2) The Board will expect much from individual givers.

The Board requests that colleges, planning to solicit funds outside of their home fields, will first consult with the Board, that the interests of all co-operating parties may be conserved; otherwise it will be understood that such colleges will not ask or expect any special co-operation from the Board.

(3) The Board will seek for its own Treasury:

(a) Gifts and legacies for use in accordance with the expressed wishes of donors, or, if such wishes are not expressed, for use in the discretion of the Board;

(b) The Board will seek for a Retiring Fund of $500,000 as a minimum, the income of which shall be paid for retiring allowances for teachers who have served our colleges with great ability and loyalty for many years, at low salaries, and who have come to an age when they can no longer render active service.

(4) The Board will seek for colleges:

(a) Gifts and legacies for permanent endowment.

(b) Gifts and legacies for the endowment of particular Chairs of $25,000 or more and for scholarships of $1,000 or more.

(c) Such gifts from individuals for current expenses as will help the college, beyond the appropriation the Board makes, to meet its annual deficit while the college is securing endowment.

The Board will always seek first, in co-operation with a college, to develop the interest and gifts of its home field, both for endowment, for temporary aid in Scholarships, Chairs and Sustentation, and in emergencies, and afterward in other fields, as may seem wise and practicable.

(5) The Board will expect from Colleges :

(a) Monthly reports of gifts received from churches, church societies, individuals, legacies, etc.

The Treasurer of the Board will send to all Presbyterian universities, colleges, academies and schools of which the Board may have knowledge, blanks on which all such gifts shall be reported.

(b) Gifts reported by approved colleges and academies, on the special blanks prepared for their use by the Board, will be treated as receipts of the Board. Treasurers of such institutions are Deputy Treasurers of the Board, authorized to handle and account for College Board gifts secured in co-operation with the Board and sent by the giver directly to the college. Church offerings so reported will appear on the books of the Board, and in its Annual Report, in the list of contributing churches; the amounts given by individual givers, in classified totals, in the alphabetical list of colleges.

The Board will report in its Annual Report to the Assembly, all gifts passing through its treasury and also all gifts received directly by the colleges when reported to the Board as above.

Academies.

1. The Board does not see its way clear to approve the establishing of any new academy in the northern section of the country, where the High School development is already marked.

2. The Board will consider applications regarding academies in the southern section as on a different basis, emphasizing, however, its feeling that such institutions will in most cases be temporary in their character.

3. The Board finds that changed educational conditions render impossible the effective maintenance of academies with the resources at the command of the Board. The Board adopts, therefore, the policy of withdrawing from academic work, except where academies are connected with Presbyterian colleges.

4. This statement has reference solely to academies independent of colleges, the Board continuing its hearty approval and its offers of assistance for academic departments of colleges.

In accordance with the foregoing policy, during the Church year (1911-12) the Board voted the following sums:

REPORT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE COLLEGE BOARD.

The Annual Report of The College Board and the Minutes of the Board have been submitted to us. The report of the Secretary shows that 57 colleges and 7 academies are affiliated with the Presbyterian Church and receive financial support directly or indirectly from The College Board or various agencies of the Church represented by The College Board. The number of students in the 64 schools of the Church during the past three years has been as follows:

	1910.	1911.	1912.
College students.....	6,815	7,317	7,818
Preparatory.....	4,199	4,172	4,797
Others.....	8,309	7,751	10,286
Total.....	19,323	19,240	22,901

This gives an increase in 1912 over 1910 of 3,578, and is a most gratifying evidence of appreciation of the Christian school on the part of the public.

POLICY OF THE COLLEGE BOARD.

The Committee commends most heartily the activities of The College Board during the past year, and bestows its unqualified endorsement upon the policy of the Board in the use of funds under its control. It commends the splendid judgment and devoted efforts of the Secretary, Dr. Robert Mackenzie, as evidenced by the character and quantity of work done under his administration. The Committee desires to express its appreciation of the economical administration of the affairs of the Board, and also of the clear, precise, illuminating manner in which the minutes of the Board have been kept.

FINANCES.

The response during the past year to the appeals of The College Board has been more generous than in any previous year. The response made to solicitations for financial support by the college presidents has been more liberal than in any year except 1910-11, when the sum raised was $1,912,-172.23. But one item of that year, the John S. Kennedy bequest of $738,377.78 to New York University, a form of gift most unusual, if deducted from the total of that year, would leave $1,173,794.45 as the sum raised in the usual ways. During the past year the amount raised by the usual methods is $1,342,925.86, or $169,131.41 increase over the banner year.

The College Board joins with the Standing Committee in asking the Assembly to give its heartiest thanks to the presidents, by whose self-sacrificing efforts this impressive sum was secured, and to the generous individuals and associations by whose aid and sympathy this princely amount was obtained for Christian education. Most hearty appreciation is bestowed upon the Rev. George R. Brauer, for the comprehensive and exhaustive presentation in the Report of the finances of the Board.

STANDARDIZATION.

The Committee expresses its gratification at the steps taken by the conference of presidents of Presbyterian colleges at Louisville, Kentucky, May 15 and 16, looking toward the standardization of the colleges. A standard college must meet the following requirements:

1. It must have six professors giving full time to college or university work, and offer a course of four full years in the liberal arts and sciences; and must require for admission not less than the usual four years of academic or high school preparation or its equivalent, in addition to the pre-academic or grammar school studies.
2. Its heads of departments must have the baccalaureate degree and M. A. degree, or, in lieu of the M. A. degree, conspicuous teaching ability.
3. It must have $200,000 of productive funds, or an income for maintenance of not less than $15,000 per annum.
4. It must have a library of not less than 5,000 volumes.
5. It must have a laboratory equipment sufficient for at least two years' work each in physics, chemistry and biology, according to modern methods of instruction in these subjects.
6. It must meet the requirements of The College Board as to the Christian character of the professors and instructors and as to the Biblical instruction.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That the minutes of the Board, which have been examined and found in order, be approved.
2. That the financial report of the Board, duly audited by a public accountant, be approved.
3. That 10,000 copies of the Report of The College Board be printed for distribution among the colleges and the churches as the Board may deem expedient.
4. That the protest of the Presbyterian college presidents and representatives against the publication by the U. S. Department of Education, of conclusions not based on facts and accurate investigation, be endorsed.
5. That the following members of the Board, whose terms of office expire at this time—Revs. John R. Mackay, D.D., Cleland B. McAfee,

D.D., James E. Clarke, D.D., Gates D. Fahnestock, J. C. Egbert, Thomas E. Hodges, George A. Plimpton and John R. Rush—be reelected for the term of three years; and in the place of Nathaniel Tooker, deceased, that Henry B. McCormick be elected; and in place of William Sloane, resigned, that the Rev. Frederick E. Stockwell be elected.

6. Overture No. 186 from Kalamazoo Presbytery, praying that the General Assembly provide some plan for the pensioning of professors in our Presbyterian colleges, has been referred to your Committee.

In view of the fact that the General Assembly of last year (1911) took action upon this matter, instructing The College Board to provide such a plan, and that this has now become a part of the policy of the Board to be worked out as soon as possible, it is recommended that no further action is necessary in the premises.

7. In response to Overture No. 187 from Atlanta Synod, praying that Biddle University be placed by the Assembly under the fostering care of The College Board:

In view of the fact that Biddle University is directly under the control of the Board of Freedmen and is already recognized by The College Board as an institution with which the Board is authorized to coöperate, therefore it is recommended that no action be taken.

The Board, however, has taken from these several institutions mortgages, notes and deeds of gift to safeguard the moneys, so that in the event of any institution failing to comply with the conditions on which the moneys were paid the moneys shall be returnable to the Board, with interest, and become again assets of the Board.

These securities are summarized above, and are held by the Board as "Contingent Items." No interest is charged to the institutions while they observe the conditions of the grants, and therefore no income accrues to the Board from these Contingent Items.

TEMPERANCE AND MISSIONS.

THE liquor traffic is a hindrance to Missions.—First, because it gives the people of the non-Christian lands a suspicion and distrust of Christianity—Christianity and liquor coming from the same countries; second, it misrepresents Christian civilization; third, it demoralizes the weaker peoples living often in trying climatic conditions, which makes them less able to endure the ravages of drink; fourth, it debauches mind, body and soul, so that the material offered to the Gospel has become almost unredeemable; and lastly often where its effects are not so extreme, it operates to lower morals and to exalt appetite. —

Thirty-first Annual Report 1912.

Presented to the General Assembly at Louisville, Ky.

OUTLINE OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

Ending April 1, 1912.

1. More than 1000 meetings have been held by our representatives in 28 States. Beside assisting in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Utah, Montana, Nebraska, Missouri, Maine and Colorado, addresses were delivered before Synods, Presbyteries, Ministerial Associations, Theological Seminaries, Universities, Colleges, High Schools, Temperance Institutes, Sunday School Conventions, Y. M. C. A's, Chautauquas, Presbyterian Churches and Sunday-schools. A prize of $25.00 each was provided for a prohibition oratorical contest in some of the Theological Seminaries and Colleges.

2. The equivalent of more than twenty-five million (25,000,000) pages of literature in eleven languages was supplied in connection with the work mentioned in paragraph one. This literature went into every State of the Union, to South Africa, Central and South America, Canada, Corea, India, Ireland, Scotland, England, Alaska, the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico, Ceylon, Mexico, East and West Indies, Russia, China, Bulgaria, Holland and New Zealand. Large quantities were supplied in the prohibition campaign in Maine and Texas.

3. Beside supplying literature free to thousands of Presbyterian organizations we have furnished it at cost to applicants in almost every sister Church in the United States, and some in Canada and European countries, as well as to other temperance organizations. The Temperance Resolutions of the Assembly have been distributed among our churches.

4. A column has been supplied each week in some of the Presbyterian papers, a supplemental lesson has been prepared for each quarterly temperance lesson in the Westminster Senior Quarterly. Some phase of the question has been presented in each issue of The Assembly Herald. Many new tracts have been issued and most of the standard ones reprinted. A press bulletin has been sent to hundreds of secular and religious papers and widely used.

5. More than twenty thousand (20,000) personal communications have been sent out, including a letter to most of the Sunday-school superintendents in the entire denomination, so far as we have had their names and addresses. Many thousands of requests for information have come from pastors, elders, Sunday-school teachers, Christian Endeavor officers, Missionary Societies and other interested individuals.

6. One hundred twenty-five thousand (125,000) copies of a temperance program, including responsive reading and music, with recitations accompanying, prepared by the Committee, were used by our Sabbath-schools. Nearly one hundred thousand (100,000) Art Pledge Cards and Pledge Rolls were ordered by Sunday-school superintendents and teachers.

7. Two of our lecturers attended the World's Congress Against Alcoholism at The Hague. Temperance surveys of cities, and an original investigation of the Army Canteen have been made.

8. Two Secretaries and two lecturers have been employed during the entire year and four additional lecturers for a part of the year, one of the latter speaking Spanish and the other various Slavic languages. These with the stenographers are the only persons drawing salary.

9. THE AMETHYST, official organ of the Committee, has a circulation of 95,000 and is increasing rapidly.

10. The receipts for the year have been $33,866.94 and the disbursements $29,543.90. Thus at small expense and with a limited number of workers, the Assembly's Committee has served a denomination numbering more than one million three hundred thousand communicants, with fully twice as many adherents and reaching into almost every part of the world.

WITH reverent gratitude to God for His continued favor, the Permanent Committee on Temperance respectfully presents its 31st annual report to the General Assembly.

INCORPORATION.

The last Assembly authorized the Committee to incorporate and the same has been done under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, so that the Committee is now qualified to receive legacies, annuities and hold property the same as other permanent agencies of the Church.

GROWTH.

With incorporation came a feeling of stability and permanency which has magnified and dignified the work and made it easier to secure the kind of talent necessary to maintain the high standard of past years.

August 1st. Rev. Percy Y. Schelly entered upon his duties as Associate Secretary. October 1st Rev. Guy W. Wadsworth, D. D., came to the Committee in the same capacity, and January 1st Mr. Wm. E. Johnson began as Press Secretary.

Mr. Schelly had been Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in Pennsylvania. Dr. Wadsworth was formerly President of Occidental College and later of Bellevue College. Both men have had successful experience as pastors and brought to the work zeal tempered by wisdom and culture buttressed by knowledge.

Mr. Johnston is a practical sociologist and an experienced investigator, a traveller, a reporter, and an author of merit. As Chief Special Officer of the U. S. Government for the enforcement of the liquor laws among the Indians his success was as marked as his fidelity was unquestioned. The Church is fortunate in securing his service and through the Church Mr. Johnson finds a splendid opportunity to serve the cause.

FIELD WORK.

It has been the policy of the Committee from the beginning to return directly to the churches the largest possible amount of service in return for their contributions. One of the ways of doing this is through lecturers who are specialists in their several fields and we believe that no organization in this country has maintained a uniformly higher standard in the talent it has presented than your Committee.

Miss Brehm, who is in her sixth year with us, is in increasing demand and from all parts of the Church come gratifying reports of her work. She is rendering the cause and the Church most valuable service.

On account of private business matters, Dr. J. M. Fulton has been on leave of absence a part of the year but he has recently completed an itinerary in Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin where his addresses in colleges and high schools, as well as in churches, have elicited most cordial commendation.

Mr. Schelly resides in Philadelphia and gives attention to the eastern coast of the U. S. Dr. Wadsworth makes his headquarters in Denver, Colorado, and has devoted most of his time to the central and far west where he is widely and favorably known.

The General Secretary has addressed numerous gatherings in addition to the usual field work, while at the same time giving attention to general administrative affairs.

Rev. Duncan C. Milner, D. D., of Chicago, with rare ability and generosity, has given a portion of his time entirely without compensation. With his co-operation we have established, in connection with the National Temperance Society and the Scientific Temperance Federation, a depository for literature in Chicago, which is maintained almost without expense to the Committee, and which enables the people in that general district to secure their supplies more conveniently than before.

The Committee also records its appreciation of the valuable service rendered by Rev. Wm. Parsons, D. D., of Portland, Oregon, and Rev. John Royal Harris, D. D., of Pittsburgh, both members of the Permanent Committee.

We wish to make grateful mention of the valuable co-operation of many Presbyterial and Synodical Chairmen and to express the hope that still others may take an active part in the future.

FINANCES.

Again we are able to report all obligations of the year met and a balance in the treasury.

When it is remembered that your Committee operates not only in every State of the Union but in almost every civilized country it will be seen how much can be accomplished by using the machinery of the Church, with comparatively small means.

The Budget plan has increased the number of contributing churches but decreased the amount received from a number of individual churches. Many in sending their offerings say they could have given more but this is their apportionment. The solution of this difficulty is to increase the apportionment, which we trust the Assembly will see its way clear to do. We must keep pace with the general progress of the reform and be able to enter new fields and take advantage of new opportunities as they are offered.

THE AMETHYST.

Starting three years and a half ago The Amethyst has attained a circulation of 95,000, which, so far as we know, is larger than that of the single edition of any temperance paper published. From widely separated portions of the Church and from other countries come expressions of appreciation and we have reason to believe that its usefulness and influence will continue to increase.

LITERATURE.

The demand for literature continues especially when and where campaigns are in progress. It is issued in eleven languages and prepared in attractive form, so that the demand for it is wide-spread in other churches.

PRIZES.

The Committee offers a prize of $25.00 in each of our Presbyterian

Colleges and Theological Seminaries for the best oration on the subject of temperance and a number of our educational institutions are availing themselves of the offer. We believe it will result in large and lasting good. The contests are held under the direction of the faculties and all of the orations are on some phase of the temperance question. In each institution five or more young men and women enter the contest. This interests and instructs not only those who take part but the whole college community and the friends at home. We need a number of individuals to provide these prizes as our regular funds are insufficient to meet the growing demand.

LIBRARIES.

There are more than 15,000 public and school libraries in the U. S., practically none of which have anything like an adequate supply of reference works on the subject of temperance. The liquor interests are furnishing, gratis, books attractively bound, bearing specious titles and purporting to be the works of accredited temperance authors, while in reality they are prepared for the most part by persons without scientific standing and in the interests of the liquor traffic.

PLEDGE ROLL.

We have prepared a handsomely engraved pledge roll 24x36 for use of Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor Societies and families. The pledge is one of the oldest and most valuable safeguards, as well as a thoroughly scriptural form of temperance work. More attention should be given to it in our Sunday-schools.

AMONG THE MEXICANS.

The work begun several years ago among the Spanish speaking population of New Mexico has been continued. The greater portion of these people are unevangelized so far as Protestant influence or any substantial knowledge of the gospel is concerned. We have employed a young man who speaks Spanish to accompany Rev. John Mordy, who is under commission of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work. They travel in wagon, sleep in tents, distribute gospel and temperance literature, use the stereopticon and undoubtedly accomplish much good.

HELPING THE FREEDMEN.

Comparatively little work along temperance lines is being done among the millions of negroes in our country. Race prejudice, indifference, hopelessness and the difficulty of the work have no doubt contributed to this neglect. In the past, for longer or shorter periods, we have employed temperance evangelists among the people, but the work seems to need closer supervision than we have been able to give it at long range. We have therefore, made an agreement with the Board of Freedmen by which we share the expense and responsibility of a man qualified for both gospel and temperance work.

PROTECTING THE IMMIGRANT.

Millions of people come to our country from distant lands. Among the first to greet these future citizens, are the minions of the liquor traffic. They meet them at the railway stations and under the guise of friendship, all the more seductive, because speaking their native tongue, they allure them into saloons for the ostensible purpose of changing their money into United States currency, or finding employment, or directing them to relatives, and there rob and wrong them. Thus treated at the threshold of a country of which they have dreamed so long, they may be easily and speedily turned into anarchists.

For a part of the year your Committee has had a man of ability and piety to meet these people and protect them against such influences. So far the undertaking has been tentative, but we hope to be able to mature a policy which will enable us to make it permanent.

DEFENDING THE INDIAN.

For many years there have been flourishing temperance societies among the Indians of our own mission schools and the Assembly's Committee loses no opportunity of encouraging and helping them in this work.

Since the colonization of America by Europeans, practically every Indian war with its fearful record of blood-shed and suffering, the bare mention of which brings a chill of horror, has been caused, directly or indirectly, by the traffic in intoxicating liquors. It is estimated that Indian wars have cost the Federal Government $500,000,000.00 or an average of $100,000.00 to kill an Indian. The merest fraction of this amount might have converted most of them to christianity. Had a portion of the money spent for missions among them been used in the promotion of temperance, the results might have been better.

IN HONOR OF LITTLE TURTLE.

It is not generally known that the first law enacted by Congress concerning the liquor traffic, except to tax it, was inspired by an Indian. It was the Act of March 30th, 1802, and reads as follows:

"That the President of the United States be authorized to take such measures from time to time as may appear to him expedient to prevent or restrain the vending or distributing of spirituous liquors among all or any of said Indian tribes."—Statutes at Large, Vol. II., p. 146.

This act was passed through the efforts of Meehecunnequa or "Little Turtle", as he was known among the whites, who was a Miami Chieftain, one of the signers of the Treaty of Grenville, a friend of Washington and Kosciuszko and one of the greatest Indians this country has produced.

Little Turtle journeyed from Indiana to Maryland on horseback accompanied by an interpreter and, by his eloquence, interested the Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends to assist him. With a committee from the Meeting, he appealed in person to President Jefferson who sent a special message to Congress asking for the protection of the Indians against the white man's liquor. Little Turtle later addressed the legislatures of Kentucky and Ohio pleading the same cause. It was he who introduced farming, vaccination and other features of civilization among the Indians of the central west. He also broke up the cannibalistic practices of the Miami people. He died at Ft. Wayne, Ind. July 14th, 1812, and was buried with honors of war.

Through the influence of the Assembly's Committee, represented by its Press Secretary, Wm. E. Johnson, the Society of American Indians is making preparations to celebrate the one hundreth anniversary of the death of this famous Indian and to raise funds by popular subscription to erect a monument to his memory in Ft. Wayne.

WEST VIRGINIA.

The West Virginia legislature of 1911 submitted to the people a prohibitory constitutional amendment to be voted upon Nov. 5th, 1912. The Synod of West Virginia has appointed a special committee of three ministers and two elders to direct the work of Presbyterians in that state during the campaign.

The Assembly's Committee gave Synod's Committee financial assistance to organize its work and get it under way. We also sent one of our secretaries for a month into the state to give assistance to our pastors. Its Press Secretary has made surveys of a number of cities in the state, prepared the greater part of the campaign hand book and has sent out a number of bulletins.

Your Committee has also agreed to credit every church the full amount of the contribution which it makes to Synod's Committee, to supply large quantities of literature, to send additional speakers into the state near voting time, and otherwise, help Presbyterians to lend a strong hand in this most righteous warfare.

MAINE.

Maine has been under constitutional prohibition since 1884. Prior to that, it was under continuous statutory prohibition from 1858. In 1905 a stringent enforcement law was passed and a period of vigorous enforcement ensued. This was followed by political entanglements which resulted in a change of administration. One of the first acts of the new legislature was to re-submit the question of constitutional prohibition. After a vigorous canvass, in which your Committee took part, the proposed repeal of the prohibitory amendment was defeated by a vote of 758.

The Governor afterwards called a special session of the legislature to submit to the people a constitutional amendment providing for local option in Cities instead of state-wide prohibition, but the bill was defeated. The effect of this is to continue the historic policy of the state in prohibiting the liquor traffic.

THE FEDERATION.

The National Inter-Church Temperance Federation was further strengthened during the past year by the addition of the Reformed Church in the U. S. A., making in all nine denominations in the Federation representing a membership of more than twelve millions.

At the request of the Business Committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, a joint meeting with the Federation was held in Philadelphia, May 9th, 1911, in which the following resolutions were passed:

"WHEREAS, several of the temperance agencies of the various denominations included in the Federal Council have adopted a Basis of Agreement and formed an organization known as the Inter-Church Temperance Federation, and

WHEREAS, said action has been approved by the respective official bodies of said denominations, and

WHEREAS, said agencies are in a position to employ Secretaries, print literature and otherwise promote the reform, and

WHEREAS, said Committee of the Federal Council is not in a position to carry on active operations, and

WHEREAS, if said Committee should undertake active work it would necessarily duplicate that which is being done by said Temperance Federation, and

WHEREAS, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America in session December 7th, 1908, approved of the co-operation of said temperance agencies and the Business Committee of the said Federal Council in its meeting in New York, April 9th, 1911, invited said Temperance Federation to come into joint relation with the Federal Council, through its Standing Committee on Temperance, therefore be it RESOLVED:

1. That the Standing Committee on Temperance of the Federal Council hereby recognize said Church Temperance Federation as being an effective agency for promoting the temperance reform along such lines as the Church may properly pursue.

2. That said Committee on Temperance and the National Inter-Church Temperance Federation act jointly in advancing the cause of Temperance."

Later this action was affirmed by the proper officers of each organization. The propriety and wisdom of such an arrangement is so manifest as to require no discussion. The Federal Council is composed exclusively of ecclesiastical organizations. The Federal is composed of the official temperance agencies of ecclesiastical organizations, most of which are a part of the Federal Council. That the Council should therefore, do its temperance work through these organizations is both logical and consistent.

The significance of this arrangement is greater than is easily comprehended since, for the first time, it gives an official temperance voice to the united Protestantism of this country. The Federation thus becomes to the temperance reform what the Federal Council is to the Church at large in other lines of Christian effort.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE.

The movement to amend the Inter-state Commerce Law so that it could not be used as a cloak for the nullification of prohibitory laws, has taken a more definite form than ever before. Under decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court, any person has the right to have liquor shipped, in any quantity and for any purpose, from a point within one state to any prohibition district in any other states and the state authorities cannot interfere until the liquor is actually delivered to the consignee. Moreover, the railways are compelled to accept such shipments.

In December 1911, a conference was called in Washington, D. C., at which were present representatives of twenty-six organizations and thirty-nine states. The purpose was to come to an agreement as to the character of legislation needed to remedy the injustice now suffered by the several states. A measure was agreed upon which has been introduced into both branches of Congress and is known as the Kenyon-Shepard bill.

Three representatives of the Assembly's Committee took part in the meeting which considered this measure and later we also had a representative at the hearing before the Judiciary Committee of the House, in support of the measure.

At the time this report is written, no definite action has been taken and the outcome for the present is uncertain, but there must and will be found a way to prevent the liquor interests from thwarting the law of the Commonwealth.

WET AND DRY TERRITORY.

Computations have been made to show that 79% of the territory of the United States, computed in square miles, is nominally "dry". This is of little significance for the reason that the rural districts are chiefly "dry" and the urban chiefly "wet". Other computations estimate that 50% of the people of the nation live in territory which is nominally under prohibition. The zeal for the extension of "dry" territory, commendable in itself has not, in all cases, been accompanied by the same degree of zeal in making prohibition effective. In too many cases no sufficient effort has been made to elect officers who will enforce the law. This has resulted in a reaction in some localities, particularly in Ohio where many counties have returned to the license policy.

The remedy for this is to elect men to office who have the inclination, the ability, and the courage to do what they are paid and sworn to do. So long as the county is voted "dry" and the Court house voted 'wet', we may expect a reaction of the kind referred to. A strong, honest man on a strong, honest platform supported by intelligent, honest voters who think right and act right and vote right will solve the problem of law enforcement, without which we cannot hope to advance or even maintain what we have gained.

There have been many localities where saloons have been voted out and where the laws have been enforced. In all such places the results have been gratifying. On the whole, prohibition territory has probably not increased during the year, but substantial progress has been made in the temperance reform along scientific, economic, and industrial lines, while christian people generally are taking a higher and firmer stand against intemperance and all that tends to foster it.

CONSUMPTION OF LIQUORS.

Any statistics of the quantity of liquor consumed during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1911, available at this time, are subject to correction when the computations of the Government Bureau of Statistics are completed. The indications are that there has been a slight increase in the consumption of all kinds of liquors during the past year, as the following table indicates. The total per capita consumption exactly equals that of 1907 which was the highest in our history. It will be seen that the argument that the more beer that is used the less spirits will be consumed, is by no means sustained by the facts.

The urban districts which are under license are increasing in population much more rapidly than the rural districts, which are chiefly under prohibition. The drift of population is towards the cities. This in part explains why the consumption of liquor increases per capita while at the same time prohibition territory increases.

The following tabulation shows the consumption of liquors in the United States since 1840:

LOST IN THE SALOON TILL.

Mr. W. P. F. Ferguson, Editor of "The Vindicator", says:

"Will you imagine a hand swooping down, seven times every second, day and night, and seizing money from the American people? Now it snatches the workingman's pay envelope and leaves him penniless; now it falls on the little hoard of the housewife, takes her money and leaves the family to face starvation; now it is in the till of the small trader, perhaps again and again, until he faces bankruptcy; now it has snatched the surplus of the rich so that he grows poor. For the hand takes and never gives; not one dollar of return comes to any form whom it gathers its toll. Seven times every second it seizes, ten shining dollars each time, from the American people. Each minute it robs 420 people and $4,200 have gone to the till of the gin miller, without return. This process goes on every day and every night, with ceaseless regularity, and on each Sunday of the year handfuls must be enlarged and at each grab must steal some 50 life-giving, life-saving, life-broadening dollars."

We are also indebted to Mr. Ferguson for the following table:

Drink Consumption		Drink Bill
Gallons		Per Gallon
Domestic Spirits	*134,749,168	$6.25	$ 917,996,587.00
Imported Spirits	3,836,821	8.00	30,694,568.00
Domestic Beer	1,959,671,286	.64½	1,263,987,979.00
Imported Beer	7,240,458	1.00	7,240,458.00
Domestic Wines	56,655,006	2.00	113,310,012.00
Imported Wines	7,204,226	4.00	28,816,904.00
TOTAL 2,169,356,965			$2,362,046,508.00
2,045,427,108—1910 (highest former record.)

*To this, which is the total "withdrawn for consumption" must be added 12,130,286 gallons increase in rectification, as shown on page 94 of the Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1911. The total of domestic and foreign spirits thus become, not allowing for adulterations, 150,716,275 gallons.

WHAT THE CANTEEN IS.

There is some confusion in the public mind as to what is meant by the Army Canteen. The Canteen is simply a recreation room where the soldiers may gather, play games, have social intercourse, read and enjoy helpful and innocent amusements. This has never been abolished and no one, so far as we are aware, ever suggested that it should be. But on February 1st, 1889, W. C. Endicott, who was then Secretary of War, issued General Order No. 10, which permitted the sale of beer "in a room used for no other purpose." Gradually, the bar room practically crowded out everything else, or at least, brought about conditions which destroyed the canteen for other purposes.

Such debauchery followed that the fathers and mothers who had given their sons to their country and temperance people generally, demanded the abolition of the bar, and secured the enactment by Congress of a law to this effect, which went into operation February 2, 1901.

Since that time the liquor interests and sympathizers have persistently clamored for the restoration of the sale of beer, but in the discussions they have spoken of abolition and re-establishment of the "canteen", using the latter term as synonymous with the sale of beer. All that was done by Congress and temperance people was to abolish the bar and stop the official debauchery of young men. All that we contend against is the restoration of the bar. The canteen proper should never have been defiled by such an annex, and we believe that the temperance people will not permit the return of the former conditions.

IS THIS ANARCHY?

Recently the Presbyterian Temperance Committee had Mr. Wm. E. Johnson make a personal investigation of the Army Posts at Fortress Monroe in Virginia, Ft. Leavenworth and Ft. Riley in Kansas and Ft. D. A. Russell in Wyoming. In every one of these places, Mr. Johnson found beer being sold in open defiance of the law of Congress and the will of the people. He purchased samples of the beer and had them analyzed by capable chemists, whose certificates he holds, giving all details as to the percentage of alcohol contained, etc. In every instance the percentage was larger than the Internal Revenue Bureau permits to be sold without the payment of the beer tax and in some instances, it was several times as large. Beer is also openly sold in Ft. Sheridan, near Chicago, and no doubt in other places.

This seems to be an attempt to carry out the reported threat of the brewers,—that the recreation rooms, gymnasium, libraries, etc. secured by the temperance people from Congress at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars, would be turned into beer halls. Whoever is responsible for these and other almost incredible conditions, should be brought to justice. Your Committee has secured this information at considerable cost and has given it to the public in widely circulated press bulletins.

THE WORLD'S CONGRESS.

The XIII International Congress Against Alcoholism was held at The Hague, Holland, September 11th to 16th, 1911. Our General Secretary was one of the delegates appointed by the President of the United States and was later chosen Secretary of the American delegation. Miss Marie C. Brehm, our lecturer on scientific temperance, was also a delegate, representing the Presbyterian Temperance Committee and the Inter-Church Temperance Federation. About 25 nations were represented in the Congress by 1200 delegates. Among them were leading scientists, members of various Parliaments, cabinet officials, high army officers, church dignitaries, prominent sociologists and other influential people.

To touch elbows with so many nations all seeking to solve the problem of dealing effectively with their common foe, the liquor traffic, dispelled the feeling of isolation which some times chills the ardor of the reformer. While there were delegates of all shades and thought and theories as to what is expedient under present conditions, there was practically unanimity that the ultimate and permanent solution of this question could be attained only by total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the nations and that in so far as these principles prevail in the practices of the day the future generations will benefit. To conquer in this warfare we must not compromise.

Elders: O. L. Miller, M. D., Wm. R. Zeigler, W. W. Shields.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

INTRODUCTORY WORD.

In presenting to the Presbyterian Church for the first time a Combined Statistical Report of the gifts received during the last fiscal year by all the benevolent and missionary agencies of the Church, the Joint Executive Committee, representing the Church at large and the various agencies believe that the convenient form of the material will be self-commendatory. It is necessary only to add a word to call attention to the significance of this phase of the "United Forward Movement." These agencies are not alone side by side in statistical array in the following pages, but they are side by side in cordial cooperation with each other and are side by side in confidence and well wishing of the Church.

A careful comparison between the exhibits contained in the following columns, and the statistics in the Minutes of the General Assembly, will show the difference between what has actually reached our several agencies and what is reported as having been given to the underlying causes, by the churches. The discrepancy in many cases is abnormal and in every case noteworthy. While there are factors that amply account for many differences the Joint Committee would plead with the pastors of all our churches to permit the discrepancy to point its own general moral. The Presbyterian Church must support its own agencies. The Joint Executive Committee prayerfully trusts that the dry facts and figures herein contained may become kindled by the spark of grace into fuel for many missionary fires on the altar of Presbyterianism.

EXPLANATORY WORD.

The lists of clerks of Sessions of the Churches which appear in this report have either been furnished by the Stated Clerks of the several Presbyteries, or are taken from the Minutes of the Synods for the year 1911.

In combining into one exhibit the reports of contributions made directly to our nine Permanent Agencies, all contributions credited to organizations under the several Presbyteries which could not be identified with the list of churches of the Presbyteries as they appear in the Minutes of General Assembly for 1912, have been placed in the Appendix of the Report.

In reporting the contributions of churches to the various Permanent Agencies the fraction of a dollar has been omitted; where the contribution was fifty cents or over, a dollar has been added; where less than fifty cents, it has been dropped; contributions to any particular cause which have been less than fifty cents is indicated in the report by a dash.

Where contributions from churches which have not contributed during the year, have been received by any particular Permanent Agency just after the close of the Treasurer's books for the year, these have been indicated by a star in the proper place of credit.

In the Church Erection column.

a. Indicates that the contributions are 10 per cent. of the grant received by the Church. .

b. In accordance with terms of mortgage.

c. Refers to the list of repayments on Church mortgages.

e. Refers to list of contributions to Manse Fund.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING AFFECTS BUSINESS LIFE.

Systematic giving touches the whole business life. A part of the profit of every bargain is foreordained to a sacred use. Each day's work is work for Christ, not only in a general sense, but in the very specific sense, that a part of that day's gain goes into Christ's treasury. So the Lord Jesus Christ is a special partner in each Christian's business, and has an interest in every transaction. How sensitive and scrupulous is the conscience of the Christian man who realizes the partnership of Christ. How impossible for him to defile himself with practices of even doubtful morality. He will not make or sell wares injurious to his fellowmen. He will not take advantage of the ignorant or unwary.—Rev. A. E. Myers.

RULES OF GIVING.

It is scarcely wise or practicable to attempt to establish a fixed measure or rule of giving that shall be incumbent upon all persons and meet all conditions. Individual liberty must have a fair field and no coercion.

But each one needs, for his own guidance and protection, to establish a law for himself and to constitute his conscience prosecutor and his will officer. But it will be the glad and holy law of gratitude. There will be no technicalities in his law that will fasten him to a rigid tenth, his grateful heart will never be satisfied with that limit. It will say a tithe at least, of course, but only as a minimum. He will be ashamed not to surpass any Hebrew measurement. He is not gazing into the dim future for a promised Messiah, he makes his vows in full view of the Cross of Christ. The proportion he fixes will not be gauged simply by an arithmetical calculation of interest and profit. "What hast thou received," will be ringing in his ears and through the chambers of his soul. The scale he uses will have on it heavenly units.

But he will not leave a matter of such supreme importance as the return he makes to the Giver of his life, the Giver of his eternal life and the Giver of the trust he holds, to the uncertain swaying of impulse or emotion. He will adopt some business method that will not only ensure the full sum but also a due regard as far as possible to a wise regularity.

He will arrange perhaps for stated times. He may make it his habit to set aside a fixed amount at certain dates, to be a "Benevolent Fund" on his ledger or in his bank, and consequently the only question will be when a cause is presented, what is the relative importance of this case and what legitimate claim does it possess? This may often simplify the work of giving and require less time and thought. A definite fund is already at hand and can be drawn upon.—Rev. D. Stuart Dodge, D. D.

WORSHIP OF GOD BY OFFERINGS.

I. "In order that every member of the congregation may be trained to give of his substance systematically, and as the Lord hath prospered him, to promote the preaching of the Gospel in all the world and to every creature, according to the command of the Lord Jesus Christ, it is proper and very desirable that an opportunity may be given for offerings by the congregation in this behalf every Lord's Day, and that, in accordance with the Scriptures, the bringing of such offerings be performed as a solemn act of worship to Almighty God."

II. "The proper order, both as to the particular service of the day and the place in such service for receiving the offerings, may be left to the discretion of the minister and session of the church; but that it may be a separate and specific act of worship, the minister should either precede or immediately follow the same with a brief prayer, invoking the blessing of God upon it, and devoting the offerings to His service."

III. "The offerings received may be apportioned among the Boards of the church and among other benevolent and Christian objects, under the supervision of the Church session, in such proportion and upon such general plan as may from time to time be determined; but specific designation by the giver of an offering to any given cause or causes, shall always be respected, and the will of the donor carefully carried out."

IV. "It is the duty of every minister to cultivate the grace of liberal giving in his congregation, that every member thereof may offer according to his ability, whether it be much or little."

We smile at the little English boy who devoted one of the two sixpences given him on a holiday to the heathen, and on losing one of them, congratulate himself on the fact that it was the one he had devoted to the heathen. But do we not charge losses in precisely the same way to the Lord? "Time is money," say business men. Well, in the matter of time, you give a seventh to the Lord, and as much more as you can in the closest, family, prayer-meeting, and Christian service, and you find it better to have six-sevenths for yourself and one-seventh for God than the whole for yourself. Why not do so with money—one-tenth at least to Him, and as much more as you can—and you will find the nine-tenths for yourself better than the whole for self, for God's blessing hallowes and conserves the remainder.—Dr. John Hall.

Let our offerings be according to our incomes, lest the Lord should be displeased and make our incomes according to our offerings.—Dr. John Hall.

Suppose that your loving Redeemer should write on that blank sheet of paper that he wants his fair share of your earnings or your income. It will not do for you to say that, when you have got the fine clothes or the fine furniture or any other luxury, if there is anything left, it shall go into the contribution-box. When he asks a fair share of your time, it will be a sheer swindle if you take six days for your own work, and begrudge the hour or two each week for your prayer meeting. A harder surrender then time or money will be to surrender your own will to Jesus, and let him own you and lead you into just such a path as will be most for his glory. Glorious old Paul felt, "I am not my own; my brains, my time, my old scarred and weather-beaten body, all belong to him who bought me with his blood." That is the true ideal, and you must never draw back from any service or sacrifice that gratitude can prompt or duty demand.

There are not many things that we know about heaven, but one of the things that we do know is that it resounds with grateful adoration of the enthroned Redeemer. The incense of praise ascends continually. A mighty chorus of myraids of voices roll up the song of gratitude, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power and riches and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and blessing." Do you expect to join in that magnificent chorus?—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

Christian contributions must be regarded as being as certainly Christian, and as certainly devotional, as any other act of the Christian life. And until their people thoroughly understood this, their efforts to enforce the habit, and the duty, of Christian contribution on their respective congregations, would never be attended with full or perfect success. Both in the Old and in the New Testament this duty of Christian contribution was presented as matter of worship. In the 72d Psalm, they were told, "And he shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba. Prayer also shall be made for him continually, and daily shall he be praised."—Rev. Hamilton MacGill.

"I am not a college man, and it was the bitter disappointment of my life that I could not be one. I wanted to go to college and be a minister; I went to Phillips' Academy to prepare, but my health broke down, and in spite of my determined hope to be able to go on, at last the truth was forced upon me that I could not.

"To tell my disappointment is impossible. It seemed as if all my hope and purpose in life were defeated. 'I can not be God's minister,' was the sentence that kept rolling through my mind. When that fact at last became certain to me, one morning, alone in my room, my distress was so great that I threw myself flat on the floor. The voiceless cry of my soul was, 'O God, I cannot be Thy minister!' Then there came to me as I lay there a vision, a new hope, a perception that I could serve God in business with the same devotion as in preaching, and that to make money for God might be my sacred calling. The vision of this service, and its nature as a sacred ministry, was so clear and joyous that I rose to my feet, and with new hope in my heart, exclaimed aloud: 'O God I can be Thy minister. I will go back to Boston. I will make money for God, and that shall be my ministry.' From that time I have felt myself as much appointed and ordained to make money for God as if I had been permitted to carry out my own plan and been ordained to preach the gospel. I am God's man, and the ministry to which God has called me is to make and administer money for Him, and I consider myself responsible to discharge this ministry and to give account of it to Him."—Hon. Alphaeus Hardy, Boston.

A great impediment to the diffusion of a missionary spirit is to be found in the irreligious conceptions which so lamentably prevail, as to the proportion of money to be devoted to the service of the Lord. But we should labour to inspire the Christian Churches with the glowing ardour of devoted affection, which will impel them, "whether they eat or drink, or whatsoever they do, to do all to the glory of God." It is the duty of every pastor to give his flock frequent opportunities of contributing to the great cause, and to leave to the people the responsibility of not giving.—Rev. T. B. Whiting.

According as the Lord hath prospered us we are to give; and in thus making room in his treasury for the offerings of rich and poor, we have an illustration of the wisdom with which God has planned his work, making its support dependent, not upon the favors of the few, but upon the means of the many. Thus God gathers about the Church the sympathies, the interests, of a vast multitude; and when this law is ignored, when the Church is supported, controlled by a handful, then it departs from the divine ideal. And one of the reasons why the Protestant Church is not in closer touch with great multitudes of our population is found in the fact that we have made of small importance the offerings of the very class to which, by the teaching and example of our divine Master, we are especially appointed to preach. The largest, the most helpful benediction ever given to the Christian Church, was the widow's mite; and why? Because it was coined in the mint of self sacrifice, because Christ stamped it with a special benediction; and while nations innumerable in the meantime have called in bank notes, and golden coin by the billion this mite is still in circulation, and its influence is being felt today by every member of the Church of God; therefore, let none, because of the smallness of the offering, be ashamed to approach the Lord's treasury, for if that gift be the offspring of a self-sacrificing love, God will invest your mite and with such efficiency that when the secrets of eternity are unveiled the ends of the earth will rise and call you blessed.—Rev. John R. Davies, D. D.

Waterloo Presbytery—33 Churches..

MAKE YOURSELF WORTH WHILE TO THE CHURCH.

Do not be self-centered. Think of the church as a place of service, a place where you can do something as well as get something. There is one of the school-ground games, which you have not forgotten, I am sure. We called it "Black-man" in my school. One boy was catcher at first. When he caught another, the two became catchers. As each one was added, he threw himself into the work of that side. No one was caught to be petted and taken care of. All were caught to help catch. That boyhood game is a parable of the work of the church. You have joined the church, not to be taken care of, but to help, to serve. And so you must learn at once to speak of "our church." Do not speak to the officers about the needs or the work or the benefit of "your church." There are several members of our church who speak as though I, the pastor, owned it. Learn to say "our church," or "my church." It is as much your as anyone's.

That suggests a very brief word on your obligation to the finances of the church you have joined. Find out the system by which your church is supported, and take your place in it. Do whatever is your share. Some people are stingy about it. Some people chafe under the calls for money. Do not allow yourself to feel either way. Decide your own share. No one in the church has any right to decide it for you. Learn to give regularly. You may not feel you can do much, but you remember it was the man with the one talent who did nothing. People who can do a good deal are more apt to do it than people who can do only a little. The weak point in the financial plan of many churches is that the small supporters are left out. Fall in with the methods of your church. You may not altogether like them, and after a while you may want to help change them. At first, just do your share. Don't fret over not being able to do more. Don't be mean enough to think you are not welcome, because you cannot do a great deal. That is a judging of others which is hardly worthy of you. Make yourself welcome by doing what you are really able to do. No one does any more, and that is your share. But do not go on week after week doing nothing for the support of the church.—Rev. Cleland B. McAfee, D. D.

BENEFICENCE NOT OPTIONAL.

Let no man deceive himself by saying: "I will give when I have amassed wealth. I desire money that I may do good with it; but I will not give now, that I may give the more largely in the future." That is the pit in which many have perished. If a man is growing large in wealth, nothing but constant and generous giving can save him from growing small in soul. In determining the amount of his gifts and the question whether he should impair his capital, or to what extent, a man should never lose sight of a distinct and intelligent aim to do the greatest possible good in a lifetime. Each must decide for himself what is the wisest, the highest use of money; and we need often to remind ourselves of the constant tendency of human nature to selfishness and self-deception.—Rev. Josiah Strong, D. D.

Mr. Spurgeon tells of one who was reminded of his early generosity and inquired of respecting the change in his disposition. He replied: "When I had a shilling purse, I had a guinea heart; now I have a guinea purse, but a shilling heart." What can prevent the heart from shrinking as the purse swells? What can counteract the observable tendency of wealth to harden the heart? Only the principle and habit of proportionate giving, persistently practiced through all changing circumstances.—Rev. A. E. Myers.

When a friend spoke to a man in New York who was noted for his liberality, concerning this generosity of his, he said: "I am not generous. I am by nature extremely avaricious. But when I was a young man I had sense enough to see how mean and belittling such a position was, and I forced myself to give. At first, I declare to you, it was a torture to part with a penny; but I persisted, until the habit of liberality was formed. There is no yoke like that of habit. Now I like to give."—Spirit of Missions.

GRACE OF GIVING MAY BE CULTIVATED.

1. It is as much a duty to lay by a weekly portion of our income for God as it is to go to church, to read the Bible, or to pray. The grace of liberality needs to be exercised just as much as faith and love. You need the development and the church needs the funds—and both need it weekly. No church has the right to do business on a credit, and the Lord has promised to bless us only when the tithes have been brought into His storehouse.
2. This plan keeps the question of self-denial and liberality before us all the time. This is a safeguard against covetousness and self-indulgence that no Christian can afford to forego. If liberality is a Christian grace, it follows that self-denial and giving are important means of grace.
3. As the churches in Macedonia were organized by missionary enterprise, we learn that every dollar spent in missionary operations is the financial seedcorn of the Church, the harvest of which will increase the material resources for converting the world.—J. M. Boland, D. D.

Leviticus calls new machinery into existence, but it affirms the old principle of a proportion for God. The New Testament modifies the machinery, but it does not abrogate the principle.

Now we plead for this systematic giving, albeit it is disliked by the covetous, who deem all lost that is given away; by the heretics, who think we may do what we will with our own; by the lazy, who dislike the trouble of examining and deciding; by the double-minded, who wish to have a byway by which to escape duty somewhere between "God and their own conscience."—Dr. John Hall.

CHRISTIANITY THE FRUIT OF THE GRACE OF GIVING.

Christianity, from its foundation up through every living stone to the topmost pinnacle of the building, is the fruit of the grace of giving. The Father gives His Son, the Son gives Himself for our sins, the Spirit gives the Christ-life, that we might be conformed to the image of the Son, in whom we are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit. Giving to the point of unspeakable sacrifice is at once the root of our gospel and the fruit of the Spirit, by whom is shed abroad in our hearts the love of God. An exotic in Mansoul, yet planted by our heavenly Father, it thrives even in tough soil. Well rooted, it changes the soil itself, so that the very man quick to ask "Who is my neighbor?" will believe that "he was born, not for himself, but for the whole world." No lighter term than this word grace will suit the facts. Paul, having borne witness that in churches of Macedonia grace given soon grew into the grace of giving, exhorts the church at Corinth and all the saints of Achaia to abound in this grace also.

Beneficence as a sphere has its hemisphere, the one the giving, the other the gathering, and the fellowship, or the distribution of the Lord's money. The giving is between God and the soul, the gathering between God and the community of souls—the church—while the fellowship widens the circle to include the world. System in giving requires a fixed proportion—to be increased as God prospers; regularity—to grow into habit until generous giving becomes graciously easy; and frequency—on the first day of every week give tribute to God to celebrate a finished redemption. As to the gathering, every church owes it to God, to itself, and to each member, by teaching and example, by opportunity and exhortation, to encourage and increase the beneficence of all its congregation.—Albert G. Lawson, D. D.

The minister must give his people an opportunity to take large views of Christian giving. The people should have a chance of hearing what is expected of every baptized person in regard to missions. We should not be afraid that local interests will suffer, even in a weak little mission that struggles along with a few communicants, all very poor.—Rev. F. J. Mallett.

MONEY IS HUMAN.

"Money is myself. I am a laboring man, we will say, and can handle a pickax, and I hire myself out for a week at two dollars a day. At the close of the week I get twelve dollars and I put it in my pocket. What is that twelve dollars? It is a week's worth of my muscle put into greenbacks and pocketed; that is, I have a week's worth of myself in my pocket.

"Now, the moment you understand this, you begin to understand that money in your pocket is not merely silver and gold, but is something human, something that is instinct with power, because it represents power expended. (If you are not earning any money of your own, and your father is supporting you, then you are carrying that much of your father around in your pocket.) Now money is like electricity; it is stored power, and it is only a question as to where that power is to be loosed.

"Do you see what a blessed, what a solemn thing this giving is, this giving of my stored self to my Master? Surely we need, in the matter of giving, consecrated thought as to where to loose ourselves, earnest prayer in the guidance of the choice of where to loose our stored power, and earnest prayer to God to add his blessing to the loosed personality in this money that I have sent abroad, that there may come a tenfold increase because of my personal power that I have sent.

"In regard to money as well as to time, there is a great advantage in its methodical use. Especially is it wise to dedicate a certain portion of our means to purposes of charity and religion, and this is more easily begun in youth than in after life. The greatest advantage of making a little fund of this kind is that when we are asked to give, the competition is not between self on the one hand and charity on the other, but between the different purposes of religion and charity with one another, among which we ought to make the most careful choice. It is desirable that the fund thus devoted should not be less than one-tenth of our means; and it tends to bring a blessing on the rest."

Money that is at work employing men at useful production is doing more than money that is lavished on frills and whims whose manufacture can only be capricious.—Rev. A. F. Schaufler, D. D.

THE LORD'S WARNING AGAINST GREED.

1. Greed leads to a false conception of Life. Life is not abundance of possessions. The rich Fool's three mottoes were: "Plenty, ease, merriment." Life has dimensions, not length alone, but breadth, depth, height. Does our own life cover more than self-interest, reach deeper than surface wants, and higher than this world?
2. It forgets Divine Providence, and substitutes a human providence. "I must take care of myself and family," etc. A worldly mind does not recognize God's providing care, and so it "seeks after" these things. But the disciple says, "He knows our need, cares for us, will provide." "Consider the ravens and lilies." To the disciple God says, "Take care of my kingdom and I will take care of your wants." On the contrary, all our "thoughts" will not procure or secure temporal good.
3. It prevents a true self-providence laying up treasure in heaven. The heart and the treasure go together and cannot be in both worlds at once. We are, therefore, to choose the heavenly, set our affections there, and live to distribute rather than accumulate, and accumulate there by distributing here.
4. It practically denies stewardship. The Bible teaches that God's patent-right is stamped on everything. We have nothing of our own. We hold all as trustees of God and distributors to others. Hence we have no right in property. God gave it, we did not get it; He continues it in our hands, we do not keep it; He will call us to account for it. How soon these Scriptural principles would overturn our covetous habits, and transform us into servants of God, stewards of property, and benefactors of mankind!—Rev. A. T. Pierson, D. D.

THE TRUE USE OF WEALTH.

I would no more dissuade one from the pursuit of money—aye, of riches, if, on a careful review of the whole situation, he is convinced that in that pursuit he can do most for God and for his fellow-men—than I would dissuade a physician from exposing himself to the small-pox to save life. But I would adjure the physician to vaccinate himself first; and I would commend to the money-getter a like precaution. Is it asked, "How shall this be done?" In three ways.

First, by a consecrated purpose—by penetrating the soul through and through with the conviction that the one thing needful is not money, that its value is solely as a means to an end, and that that end, to be kept in view as steadily in the counting-room as in the closet, is to be the Kingdom of God and His righteousness.

Secondly, by a consciousness of stewardship—by remembering that in all our business we are simply the agents for a divine Principal, and that all our gains must be accounted for to the Owner.

Thirdly, by the cultivation of a contented spirit—the spirit that knows both how to be full and to be hungry, both how to abound and suffer need; the spirit that, having food and raiment, can be therewith content, because it has found in the true riches a satisfaction so real and abiding that it can accept without chafing or impatience whatever limit of earthly prosperity God pleases to set.—J. H. Worcester, D. D.

THE UNEXPECTED GOLD COIN AND THE LAFAYETTE AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Sometimes small donations yield large results. This reminds me of a pretty incident that I may narrate, since it is not likely to meet the eye of the person referred to. When my Brooklyn church, in the days of its infancy, were building their present sanctuary, they ran ashore for funds. The Civil War had just broken out, and almost every new church enterprise came to a standstill.

On a certain Sabbath I made a fervent appeal for help, and a visitor from New York heard the appeal, and went home and spoke of it at his boarding-house table. At the table was a bright young lady, who taught in a school and sustained her widowed mother out of her small salary. I had once rendered the young lady some trifling service, which I had quite forgotten, but she had not. The next day she came over to Brooklyn and told me how badly she felt that my church was in such straits. She was not a Christian, and had never given anything to any religious object, but she felt desirous to contribute "her mite," and slipped into my hand a bit of paper containing some coin, which I put into my pocket, with a word of sincere thanks. After she had gone, I opened the paper, and found it contained a fifty dollar California gold piece! I immediately sent her word that she must take it back, for I knew that she could not afford to give such a sum. But she wrote me that this, "the first gift that she had ever made for a religious purpose, had already afforded her such delight, she would never allow it to be returned."

The next Sabbath I told the story of the gold piece, and it fired the congregation with fresh enthusiasm and brought in such contributions of funds as tided us over into deeper waters. The young lady herself determined to follow up her gift by coming clear over to our chapel every Sabbath, and was soon converted, and became a happy member of Christ's flock.

When that orphan girl married a bright young man of fine promise, my family were happy to give them a wedding and launch them in good style on their matrimonial career. Their two children are winning high honors at two great colleges and they are prominent members of a church in C—. Verily that orphan girl's gold piece was "sacred money," and it yielded a grand "dividend." I have told the story of that coin in more than one place where money was being raised under difficulties, and I should not wonder if it were to go and accumulate still more at compound interest. The Lord's treasury is a wonderful institution; it makes mites turn to millions; it pays magnificent dividends in this world, and its "sacred money" becomes precious treasures in Heaven.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

CHRISTIAN GIVING AS SPIRITUAL DISCIPLINE.

Christian giving and personal exertion were intended for spiritual discipline in the Church. God had given them missionary work to do, that they might be prepared to serve him in other forms on earth; and at last and forever to serve him in heaven. Contributions like prayer, for the extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom, ought to be frequent, as well as universal, among Christians. What would they think of a quarterly prayer? It was the design of Christ to teach his people, by continued habit and discipline in this matter, to go not only to his throne of grace, but to his altar with their gifts, that with every sacred offering, great or small, there should be conjoined a separate exercise of Christian principle. Unless such views were carried into practice, they would never gain the chief end for which Christian giving was intended. Systematic contribution was enjoined, not merely in order that missionary enterprises should be supported; not merely that the gospel might be preached unto all the world; but that the givers themselves might be made better men and better Christians. What was the history of some of those nations which in ancient times grew rich and powerful? Their wealth, having found no benevolent outlet, corrupted them; and I tremble more for fear of the corruption that might come from such a quarter as this into the heart of our country, than on account of any foreign foe. If all our people should give systematically, on principle, and with frequency, I believe it would be offering to God what he would accept as a species of worship, as a service acceptable and well-pleasing in his sight.

Giving was like all other good Christian dispositions; it was strengthened by frequent repetition. Every Christian ought closely to connect working with giving; and if our pulpits were faithful in this matter; if ministers impressed upon their people the necessity of not only giving to the cause of God, but of personally working in that cause, the disposition to work and the disposition to give would mightily aid each other; and the result would be not only to strengthen the missionary spirit, but to invigorate all the great principles of the Christian life.—Rev. Hamilton MacGill.

Check on Selfishness. The four great principles of the theocratical government are worship and sacrifice, the institution of the family in all its various relations, the consecration of time, and the consecration of substance. It seemed as if it were a Divine ordinance that the four should be ever present with us as a check on the rich man's selfishness, and an outlet for the rich man's bounty.—Mr. Morley Punshon.

A BOY FOLLOWS HIS DOLLAR TO THE MISSION FIELD.

The following is the testimony of a young missionary who recently went to India:

"When I was a little fellow about nine years old, there was a great famine in India. The minister told us in church that there were thousands of people dying over there, and that one dollar would save one person's life. Then I saw pictures in the papers and magazines of people who were starving. They were so thin, like skeletons, and their eyes were sunken. And I wondered how I should feel to have no breakfast, and no dinner, and no supper, and none the next day, nor the next. I thought about my dollar, that would save one life. But I thought I could not spare that dollar. I had worked hard for it, worked in the hayfield, and earned one dollar and fifty-five cents. Oh no, I could not spare a whole dollar. Then I thought about the people who were dying and I could not stand it any longer. I had an awful fight, but I gave up that dollar. I sent to save somebody's life.

"But that dollar was my treasure, it was so much to me that when it went to India, my heart went with it. I thought about it all the time. I wondered what kind of a person it was whose life I had saved. I read everything I could find about India. All the time I was in school and in college I was interested in India. Then they told us in college that in India thousands of people were dying without knowing of Jesus, the Bread of Life, and they were hungry for him. And I felt just as I did when I heard of the famine. I wanted to go and feed them. I wanted to tell them about Jesus. So now I am going to follow my dollar, I give my life to India. I want to carry the Bread of Life to those people." Over Sea and Land.

PROPERTY A DIVINE TRUST.

Property is a divine trust. Things are tools, not prizes. Life is not for self-indulgence, but for self-devotion. When, instead of saying, "The world owes me a living," men shall say, "I owe the world a life," then the Kingdom shall come in power. We owe everything to God but our sins. Fatherland, pedigree, home-life, schooling, Christian training—all are God's gifts. Every member of the body or faculty of mind is our providentially. There is no accomplishment in our lives that is not rooted in opportunities and powers we have nothing to do with in achieving. "What hast thou that thou didst not receive?"

If God gives us the possibilities and the power to get wealth, to acquire influence, to be forces in the world, what is the true conception of life but divine ownership and human administration? "Of Thine own we render Thee." All there is of "me" is God's estate, and I am His tenant and agent. On the day of our birth a new lease is signed. On the day of our death accounts are closed. Our fidelity is the interest on God's principal. "That I may receive mine own when Thy summons comes to give an account of Thy stewardship, it may be done with joy, and not with grief."—The late Maltbie Davenport Babcock, D. D.

THE PRACTICAL RESULT OF TITHING ON A MISSION FIELD.

Hohavnes, the blind missionary of Harpoot, tells of a place where the Board had spent much money with little result. To this place he was sent. The people were to raise 600 piastres, and the Board ot pay the balance of his salary. The people, who were extremely poor, said they could not raise so large a sum; while a neighboring pastor declared it was impossible for them to do it. All this gave the missionary great anxiety, and led him to lay his case before God very definitely and earnestly. The answer to his prayer was a deep impression on his mind that each should be asked to give a tenth part of his income. He acted on this impression; the people agreed; and the entire sum, with a surplus to spare, was easily raised. But this was not all. God gave them plentiful crops, so that the people grew more prosperous than ever before. They were soon able and glad to support both their preacher and school teacher, and also to give 2,000 piastres for other purposes.

GOD'S PEOPLE ARE EXPECTED TO BE GIVERS.

Many have a singular objection to insistence upon giving. They willingly listen to words of solace; they rejoice in descriptions of heaven; they are not reluctant to hear the errors of their theological antagonists exposed and rebuked: but the duty of Christian giving is scarcely so popular with them. However, "it is enough for the servant that he be as his Master;" and we find that he who taught in the temple also "beheld how the people cast money into the treasury." That treasury was a Divine institution. In spite of abuses, it was many generations a witness of what God expects; as a recognition of his claims, and of the claims of others, on the part of rich and poor. If God is our Creator and Preserver, if every power we have is his gift, we must honor him "with our substance, and with the firstfruits of all our increase." If he has redeemed us by His Son, if "we are not our own, but bought with a price," any sacrifice we make in gift or work should be a source of joy. If we be members of one brotherhood, we are bound to have the same care one for another. We are to do this, not in the way which is easiest to ourselves, most accordant with our tastes, or most likely to bring us credit; but as those who are seeking to become like Him, who is kind to the unthankful and to the unworthy.—A. Rowland.

GIVING OUT OF THEIR DEEP POVERTY.

Shall the poor in general be exempt? Because they can give but little, shall they give nothing? They were not exempt under the old dispensation; less was required of them, but an offering they must bring. Nor are they exempt under the Gospel. To the praise of the Macedonian churches, Paul testified that they gave "in a great trial of affliction," and that their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality." You remember the poor widow and her two mites, and how precious her gift was in the sight of the Saviour. Would you have forbidden that gift? As well think now to tear from her crown of glory its brightest gem. Who would forbid the poor of the present day a like privilege?—Rev. Asa D. Smith, D. D.

ECONOMY, SELF DENIAL AND LIBERALITY.

Never destroy anything that God has made, or given skill to others to make; not even a kernel of corn, nor a pin. Never think anything worthless until it has done all the good it can. This is the true sense of economy. Let it be an unobtrusive habit, practiced constantly for Christ. Economy and self-denial are the two great springs which feed the fountains of benevolences.

Comfort and economy, good taste and true Christian liberality, are not incompatible, but their union requires care, forethought, and good judgment.

We must give according to our means and according to our outlays upon ourselves. A twenty-five cent donation by the side of a twenty-five dollar shawl would present a painful contrast.

Much in the Bible establishes the doctrine that a certain proportion of our property should be devoted to the Lord. The system of tithing among God's chosen people is fully delineated in the Old Testament, while the clearer light of the New discloses our obligations so fully that it dispenses with specific directions, and leaves each to do what a heart touched by the love of Jesus prompts. With increased ability and increased demands upon us, our obligations are increased. Treasures are a touchstone for the heart.

Our time as well as our property belongs to the Lord. We ought to take care of every hour, that we may have the more for communion with heaven. To be most exact in secular appointments and give only fragments to religious duties, is not seeking first the kingdom of God. When the daughters of the millennium shall occupy this seminary, they will not think a half hour, morning and evening, sufficient for secret devotion.—Mary Lyon of Mt. Holyoke Seminary.

GIVING THAT GOD'S WORK MAY BE DONE ON EARTH.

The promotion of the kingdom of Christ. We must give as to the Lord and not to man, for His sake and no other; not because man is looking on, nor because of its effects on ourselves, but as in the "great Taskmaster's eye." All other motives vitiate the gift. The cup of cold water outvalues a kingdom, and the two mites count for more than a million. Two men give the same sum, which weighed in the balances of the sanctuary, stand to each other as a drop to the ocean, as a grain of sand to the globe, or as nothing to infinity. Consecrated members, like their Lord for the joy set before them, give of their substance that God's work may be done on the earth, and consecrated ministers take the freewill offerings of the people, that they may give themselves wholly to that work.—Rev. W. B. Melville.

GIVING FOR GOD.

It is told of Andrew Fuller, that on one occasion he went into his native town to collect money for missions. One of his old acquaintances said: "Well, Andrew, I'll give you five pounds seeing it's you." "No," said Mr. Fuller, handing the money back, "I can take nothing for this cause seeing it's me." The man felt reproved, but in a moment he said, "Andrew, you are right. Here are ten pounds seeing it is for the Lord Jesus."

From the Manual for Ruling Elders and Other Church Officers. Pages 199 to 208.

Giving to be an act of worship. "The bringing of such offerings should be performed as a solemn act of worship." "That it may be a separate and specific act of worship, the minister should either precede or immediately follow the same with a brief prayer, invoking the blessing of God upon it and devoting the offerings to his service." (D. W. Ch. VI. P. 2.)

Collections ordered must be taken. In the matter of collections ordered by a higher judicatory, such as the General Assembly, "it is inconsistent with our Church government to be under the check or prohibition of a Church Session; they indeed may give or withhold their charity, but may not prevent a minister to propose it publicly according to our appointment." (Mins. Gen. Synod, 1755, p. 215.) Sessions should make place for all such collections.

Proportionate Giving. The General Assembly recommends "that it be the unwearied effort of all elders of our churches to secure a general acceptance of the principle and adoption of the practice of proportionate giving." (Mins. G. A., 1889, p. 68.) "We need now to advance a step and lay a holy stress upon proportion. A man who gives a cent a week where he ought to give a dollar is systematic, but he is cheating the Lord out of ninety-nine cents." (Mins. G. A. 1895, p. 82.)

Weekly Offerings. "It is proper and very desirable that an opportunity be given for offerings every Lord's day." (D. W. Ch. VI. P. 1.) "The plan of weekly worshipful offerings is urged upon the earnest practical attention of all our Sessions." (Mins. G. A., 1887, p. 121; 1888, p. 255.)

Individual Pledges. "That the system of individual pledges, either to the general beneficence of the Church, or to the work of any special Board, be favored as superior both in principle and' practice' to any mode of sporadic contribution. (Mins. G. A. 1887, p. 121.)

GIVING MAKES OUR LIFE RUN ON HIGHER LEVELS.

Why are we to give to the cause of Christ? To keep us near to our dear Lord, and make us like Him. Money, tending to bring us down into the dust, may become a potent sanctified instrument to lift into the divine presence and power—person and estate transfigured in the light of Heaven. The point on which our Christian religion, in the totality of its means of grace and forms of worship and work, converges, is this: to make our life run on high level lines: to keep us within the glory of His presence: always in touch with redemptive power: to lift us out of the dark, misty valley of earthly things into the sunlit summit of the heavenly, that our faces may reflect the light, and our hearts be filled with the life. This with a special emphasis on it is aimed at in our giving, which, when a spiritual act, does more than all other religious duties and privileges to raise the soul to God—clothing it with His likeness and enlarging it with His Spirit—the most efficient factor in developing into the stature of the fulness of the perfect man in Christ Jesus.

Not for His good, but for our own, does He lay this injunction on us. Giving does not enrich Him. Withholding does not impoverish Him. But it has this twofold reflex action on the giver and withholder both in material and spiritual things. The experience of the giver is, though this must not be an inducing element, that he is enriched in body and soul, for time and eternity, by his giving. It is the best investment—the reverse tending to loss of money and leanness of soul.—Rev. W. B. Melville.

GOD KNOWS THE NAMES OF THE GIVERS.

A poor Irishwoman went to a venerable priest in Boston, and asked him to forward to Ireland her help for the famine sufferers. "How much can you spare?" asked the priest. "I have a hundred dollars saved," she said "and I can spare that." The priest reasoned with her, saying that her gift was too great for her means, but she was firm in her purpose. It would do her good to know that she had helped; she could rest happier thinking of the poor families she had saved from hunger and death. The priest received her money with moistened eyes. "Now, what is your name?" he asked, "that I may have it published." "My name?" said the brave soul counting out her money, "don't mind that, sir. Just send them the help, and God will know my name."—Selected
